Tax bills next week

The long looked-for 1947 tax bills will be in the mail next week end and, as everyone has expected, they are up.

New schools, school additions, parks and general increase in the cost of all operations have, of course, had their effect on the tax bills, and that's where the money has to come from to pay salary raises, etc.

So, don't blame the tax collector when you get your bills; he doesn't have any more to do with the valuations or the amount of your bill than you do.

The original May 1 penalty date has been continued to June 1 and the country town collectors will close their books Saturday, May 29.

The town collectors always have given their patrons quick and efficient service and their patrons have appreciated that service by making payments at home in ever-increasing numbers.

The collectors appreciate that cooperation and are looking forward to more friendly relations with customers even though bills are higher this year.

So when you get your tax bill, see your home town collector as soon as possible and get it over with.

Marriage preparation in schools

The May 11, 1948 issue of Look magazine features an article on "Why Don't We Prepare For Marriage?" It tells in detail what Stephens College is doing to give girls realistic views of problems they'll face when preparing for and getting married.

Diane Lewinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lewinski, 953 Patton ave., Arlington Heights, a student at the college, is pictured in the illustrations accompanying the story.

It is believed by the writers of the article that if the divorce rate continues its present rise, it won't be long before Americans will be unmarrying very nearly as fast as they marry. They feel there must be some better school for marriage than the school of experience.

More colleges and high schools should begin preparing their students for marriage. Train them to earn a living, yes, but also remember that most of them will become husbands or wives, and a thorough knowledge of marriage is absolutely necessary to make for a better life.

Students at the Arlington Heights high school are at present, receiving training in their health classes on boy and girl problems that will be an excellent help to them through their courtship days and give them a better understanding of what goes with the "I do."

What's the use?

This editor got all excited a few weeks ago about parking, street widening, business lighting and a few other innovations that he thought were destined to improve the business district.

We had our say about parking meters, with which the business men did not agree. We have now retired to the easy chair in the editorial sanctum and will wait for somebody to do something about something.

In the belief that readers might be interested in the status quo of the suggested improvements, this editor became an inquiring reporter Wednesday afternoon and learned.

The new parking signs are expected May 8.

They will not be posted or enforced until some provision is made for additional commuter parking.

The police department is not certain that the cops will have the heart to issue tickets that will nick the autoist three bucks as required by the ordinance.

Everybody is passing the buck on the street widening. Nobody knows who is supposed to act.

The state highway department has nearly $30,000 of Arlington Heights money that can be used for street widening. Until Arlington aldermen can agree on its use, the money will stay in Springfield.

A property owner with 132 ft. frontage on South Dunton says that he will not pay a part of the widening cost unless parking meters are installed, which will keep the cars of certain Campbell street business men away from his curb. He mentioned the police magistrate and a realtor.

No move has been made to lease any vacant property for free parking.

Everybody agrees that something must be done to get those parking spots.

Ornamental street lighting in the business district is only a dream.

Businessmen interviewed are unwilling to open their stores one evening a week, which has been done in Des Plaines and Barrington. "Too hard on our clerks," is the general explanation.

If the publication of the above serves as an alarm clock, it has been worth while.

Vegetable growers rebuffed

"We do not know of a group of men who have had more trouble in trying to get a supply of labor than the north Cook County Vegetable Growers" states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

"These farmers have for years depended on help which came out to the end of the car line which has dissappeared with other jobs in the city becoming available. During the war years the Forest Preserve District loaned the old CCC Camp north of Des Plaines to the farmers who used such labor as they could get—boys from town, prisoners, and Jamaicans. With our itinerant Mexican labor going south when weather became cool this camp saved tons and tons of food that would have rotted.

"The Farm Labor Association surrendered this camp to Girl Scouts and the County Board has permitted the Association to use the abandoned camp near Glenview. Now farmers cannot use this camp because Glenview citizens object to Jamaicans being put in it.

"We respectfully request the Glenview people to reconsider their feeling they have for these reasons. Our country is desperately attempting to feed a starving world, to head off Communistic bids for world domination by promising more from a state police government than a free democratic government can offer. Farmers will make every effort to keep their Jamaican help out of Glenview. Naturally they seek the society of their own race in nearby Evanston. We have found these Jamaicans as well behaved as the Mexican itinerants who have been with us for years. They will do work no one else wants to do when there is other employment. They will be here for only a part of the summer and fall months.

"We have had not a single infringement of good conduct towards white people here or in the Thornton Camp. They do not mingle with you socially. Thornton will have a camp for south Cook, and we do not wish to penalize our north Cook farmers. The camp is for this season only. We all eat, and most of the vegetables and fruits consumed by us were harvested by foreign labor—much of it from the south by negros and Jamaicans. There is nothing more important in these critical times than abundance.

"The writer is perhaps as sensitive to the race question as any having come from southern, slave owning people. White men sinned against God and humanity when they brought black men to these American shores in bondage. Now we must fight a more terrible form of slavery —with all the resources of food and treasure we have—slavery for those who do not subscribe to a political system foreign to our best traditions. We request the good people of Glenview to reconsider the stand they have taken on this, farm labor camp so badly needed by farmers hard pressed for help this summer."

Legion Auxiliary to hold May dance, box social

Along with the new (old) look comes something else from grandma's day, a May day dance and box social. It will be enjoyed now as much as it was in grandma's days.

This party is under the auspices of the Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary.

Price admission is just a boxed lunch for two, which will be auctioned off at 11:00 p. m. Saturday, May 1, is the date, with festivities beginning at 8:00 p. m., at Legion hall.

Rummage sale Saturday

This Saturday the Woman's Association of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church are sponsoring a Rummage Sale in the church basement. Doors will be open from 9:00 a. m. until 12:00 noon.

Please have rummage at the church on Thursday or early Friday morning so that it may be priced for the sale. If a pick up of rummage is desired please call Mrs. Robert Malcomson, Arlington Heights 611, or any other member of the committee.

First school in Chicago area to win dental award

According to the Chicago Dental society, St. James school is the first school in the Chicago area to receive the honor.

Wm. Heinemann to travel 'last beat' Friday

William Heinemann, Arlington Heights oldest policeman in years of service, will travel his last beat Friday.

His retirement is dated April 30 after twenty years continuous service in Arlington.

He was the only Arlington Heights police officer in 1917 and 1918. The only other village employee was Henry Kolling, who was village engineer, handling the streets and water departments. Their salaries were $90 a month, less than half what present officers receive for a two weeks period.

William later returned to the farm, but on March 15, 1928, resumed his police job.

"Patrolling was a real job in those days," says Heinemann.

Chief Skoog rode a motor cycle, but the only car, a Plymouth demonstrator, served both the police and street departments. The officer would patrol the business district on foot, then use the car to visit the residential section. It was not until 1931 that Arlington's police force was motorized.

Mr. Heinemann worked nights 13 years, a duty that is now periodically shared by all officers in the department.

During the years of service the retiring officer has served under three mayors, Mors, Flentie and Goedke. The local police force now comprises eight men.

"During all these years," says Mr. Heinemann, "I never had an argument with a mayor or a fellow officer. I always found the public cooperative and wish I could show my appreciation in some way to all the people of Arlington Heights, whom I have had the privilege of serving as a police officer.

"I think that no town of its size has had as little crime. Some of the young lads whom I had to reprimand fifteen and twenty years ago are today model citizens and heads of families. They and I have forgotten about their escapades."

Mr. Heinemann resides at 26 South Vail with three sons and three daughters. One son is married.

Village announces spring rubbish pick-up

In an annual spring bulletin, the village of Arlington Heights issued three civic spring reminders to citizens.

The annual spring rubbish pick-up south of the railroad will be May 3 and 4, and north of the railroad, May 6 and 7. The village requests that residents have rubbish (junk, cans, bottles) put in boxes, baskets or other containers and placed at the curb for the pick-up truck.

All auto owners are reminded that vehicle tags must be displayed on car windshields. Vehicle licenses for passenger cars cost $3.50 plus fine and costs if arrested.

Village ordinance 645 provides a $5 fine if a dog trespasses on a neighbor's grounds. If a police ticket is issued, a fine will be imposed. Dog license fees are $2.00. Unlicensed dogs may be impounded and destroyed and dogs on streets must be muzzled unless on leash.

Wind shift causes death of Arlington pilot in Japan

Last week's Herald carried the story that First Lieutenant Melvin Preston of Arlington Heights was killed in a plane crash at Honshu, Japan.

Lt. Preston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Preston, learned this week that their son was returning from a mission and crashed while attempting to land his P-51 fighter plane.

As he was landing, the wind shifted, throwing his plane into some wires at the end of the runway, the impact fracturing Lt. Preston's skull. He was able to complete his landing, but died shortly after.

D. H. Hitchcock, 44 years a railroader, retires from C&NW

After 44 years of railroading, D. H. Hitchcock, of Arlington Heights, retired from his job with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

Twenty-seven of the 44 years were put in on the Wisconsin Division. His retirement is due to heart trouble.

Hitchcock was born November 14, 1886, at Sandbeach, Mich., and began his railroad "career" at the age of ten. In 1896 a rear end collision occurred on the Michigan Central at Dexter, Mich. While the wreck was being cleared he was appointed water boy, in which capacity he worked two days and was paid one dollar.

His real railroading experiences began in 1903 on the Manistee and Luther R. R. which operated out of East Lake, Mich, and into the woods. After that he saw service on the following railroads: PM, RI, UP, Rio Grande Southern, Milwaukee. D & RGW, OSL, IC, NYC, WF & N, SA & AP, and SLSF.

In September, 1918, he began work on the Galena division of the C & NW. In June, 1920, he went to the Wisconsin division where he began as operator at Palatine.

He also worked other positions, the last of which was Deval tower at the cross-over of the Soo line and Northwestern at Des Plaines.

For a number of years, photography was his hobby and he operated his own studio on S. Chestnut street.

AHTHS receives top NCA rating

Arlington Heights township high school received notice this week that it received top-ranking status of an "unqualifiedly approved school" from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

"This is indeed an honor," stated L. B. Fisher, state chairman of the commission, "and it indicates your school is well administered and is operating effectively. In times such as these, it is difficult to maintain high standards of excellence in order to receive this recognition by the association."

"This is an honor to the high school," Principal Knoeppel said, "since this organization is enjoying the highest recognition it has ever attained and since a group of this kind is only as successful as its individual member schools."

Lions club to erect plaque honoring vets

A bronze plaque 30 by 24 feet, set in granite, will be erected in Memorial Park, Arlington Hgts., adjacent to the monument for World War I veterans.

The tablet, donated by Arlington Heights Lions club, will be in memory of all men and women who took part in World War II.

"We had planned to erect the plaque last year," Otto Wulbecker, Lions club president stated, "but had to postpone the project because of our inability to secure bronze."

The plaque will be dedicated after the Memorial day parade May 31. More details on Memorial day exercises will appear at a later date.

The U. S. army this week notified Arlington Heights VFW post that it will replace cannon scrapped during the war. A 37 m. m. rifle, complete with carriage, will be shipped soon and placed in Memorial Park. Japanese and German rifles also will be put on display.

Lutheran church stages romantic comedy this Friday and Sunday

A three-act comedy, "The Patsy," will be presented by the couples club of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Friday, April 30, and Sunday, May 2, in the Lutheran school auditorium.

The curtain will rise at 8 p. m. both nights.

"The Patsy" is concerned with struggles of Patsy Harrington to snare Tony Anderson, a philosophical young man who is sure he understands women. Tony is interested in Patsy's sister, Grace, who loves Billy Caldwell, a dashing man about town.

Patsy's understanding father lends a hand in catching Tony, but is almost thwarted by Mrs. Harrington who doesn't quite approve of Patsy and favors Grace. In her efforts to become devastatingly popular, Patsy memorizes clever quips from a handy little book "Wise and Witty Sayings for All Occasions."

Her friends and family are treated to such quotations as "When your feet get tired walking, always remember what a fine, cheap ride the rest of you is getting for nothing."

Proceeds will be used for new building program at St. Peter church. Tickets are 65 cents for students and adults and 25 cents for children.

Cast members are Miss Elaine Kehe, Patsy; Carl Weinrich, Tony; Mrs. Harry Nebel, Grace Harrington; Mrs. John Pfingston, Mrs. Harrington; William Gerken, Mr. Harrington; Al Orcott, Billy Caldwell; Mrs. Eber Cline, Sadie; Eber Cline, O'Flaherty; and Arthur Beyer, Trip Busty.

Play director is Miss Virginia Warner, former Arlington Hi student and graduate of University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Albert Kehe is chairman of the ticket committee; Edwin Guenther is in charge of stage property, assisted by John Pfingston and Wilbert Niebuhr.

"The Patsy" was chosen for presentation by Bill Gerken, Mrs. John Pfingston, Martin Heidorn and Carl Weinrich.

Set Wheeling valuation at 21 million; Elk Grove at nine

County Assessor John S. Clark released some interesting real estate assessment figures this week.

Land and buildings in Wheeling township have been evaluated at $20,974,143 for the 1947 quadrennial real estate assessment, the assessor announced.

This is an increase of $4,873,571 over the previous 1943 quadrennial assessment.

Building valuations rose approximately 55 percent over the prior quadrennial, or $10,467,288 in 1947 compared with $6,756,384 in 1943. Land value changes were comparatively small. The 1947 quadrennial assessment was $10,506,855 compared with $9,344,188 in 1943.

ELK GROVE land and buildings have been evaluated at $8,721,187 for the 1947 quadrennial real estate assessment, according to Clark.

This is an increase of $1,890,311 over the previous 1943 quadrennial assessment.

Building valuations rose approximately 49 percent over the prior quadrennial, or $3,932,958 in 1947 compared with $2,648,009 in 1943. Land value changes were comparatively small. The 1947 quadrennial assessment was $4,788,229 compared with $4,182,867 in 1943.

CLARK CAUTIONED taxpayers against confusing increased land and building valuations with actual tax rates over which the assessor has no control whatsoever.

"The tax rate is determined by the amount of money spent by the various city and county offices," he explained. "The sole duty of the assessor is to determine a fair cash value for each piece of land and building property in the township."

Barring error, the new land and building values will remain in effect until the next quadrennial four years hence, Clark said. All real estate has been evaluated according to its condition as of April 1, 1947, legal assessment date.

COMMENTING on the rise in real estate values, Clark said, "The cost of new buildings as of April 1, 1947, was much greater than in 1943. However, the assessor's office did not base its valuations on actual new cost because part of the new cost is inflationary and does not represent true and lasting value. The discounted new cost is the major reason for the increase in building values.

"Values on most land parcels in Wheeling and Elk Grove, remained unchanged," he continued, "but increases were made on commercial and industrial lands where justified."

Clark further explained that "residential lands were seldom increased because of rent freezing which has curtailed the earning ability of structures built upon residential and apartment lands."

HE PRAISED the work of Wheeling Township Assessor Theodore Studtmann and Elk Grove Assessor Otto Busse for their valuable aid in determining new values for 12,342 land parcels in Wheeling and 4,234 in Elk Grove.

The 1947 assessment was the largest and most complicated ever taken.

Duties of the local assessors included selection of a committee of local realtors and business men who, because of their knowledge of local conditions, were able to suggest new tentative land values. Maps were prepared and the assessors met with members of my staff to discuss new land values."

Clark also said the township assessor checks on new building and sends copies of all building permits to the county assessor's office. Field appraisers from the county office then inspect each building site and appraise the building when completed.

Businessmen get a 'pep talk' with a good dinner

Elgin is a larger town than Arlington Heights, but has many of the same problems. Mr. L. Booden DeForest, full time executive secretary of the Elgin Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce dinner at St. Peter school hall Monday evening. He outlined some of the problems that the Elgin business men have solved and others that are now before them. His talk illustrated what a united effort on the part of business interests can accomplish.

Elgin is not content with just solving the parking problem by the installation of parking meters. It is seeking parking lots to accommodate shoppers. Adequate street lighting of the business district and the establishment of a city incinerator are new projects the Elgin CC is sponsoring. A municipal swimming pool is also on its program.

"Enthusiasm on the part of Arlington Heights business men can do an equally good job. A chamber of commerce should not be just composed of men who pay their dues. Its members should be ready to 'get in' and pitch," stated Mr. DeForrest.

The speaker is sold on chamber of commerce possibilities and his talk sold many of his hearers. According to Herman Hinz, president of Arlington group, there are some community jobs awaiting to be done in the City of Good Neighbors and the board of directors of the local organization will soon present to the business men recommendation of things that need doing in Arlington.

Questionnaires were passed out asking for suggestions from those present. Many were received and will be considered by the board of directors.

Preceding the address, the barbershop quartet from the high school gave several numbers. The food, of course, was excellent.

Ella Taylor, Herald reporter 49 years, succumbs Saturday

Miss Ella Taylor, a little old lady dear to the hearts of many in Arlington Heights, died Saturday at the Arlington Heights Rest Home.

Born June 8, 1864, in Will county, Illinois, Miss Taylor came to Arlington Heights at the age of 14 to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Haynes. In 1916 she was appointed by William Meyer to serve as a mail carrier on the northside of Arlington Heights, outside of the business district. It is believed that Miss Taylor was one of the first women mail carriers to be appointed in the United States.

When H. C. Paddock first started a newspaper in Arlington Heights, 1898, Miss Taylor served as a hand compositor and later as a reporter on the paper, serving in that capacity for 49 years, or until December, 1947.

Miss Taylor became ill in January and was moved from her home, 207 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, to the rest home, where she was cared for until the time of her death.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel, at 1:30 p. m., with Rev. C. Victor Brown of the Presbyterian church, of which Miss Taylor was a member, officiating. Interment was in the Arlington Heights cemetery.

Miss Taylor leaves a sister, Mrs. Easter of Texas, to mourn her departure, as well as many friends in Arlington Heights.

High school band leaves Thursday for state contest

Sixty-six student members of Arlington Heights township high school band will leave Thursday, April 29, at 9:30 a. m. for the state music contest at Taylorville.

Enroute the group will visit Lincoln's tomb and the state capitol at Springfield.

The contest, which will be held two days, Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1, is for class "B" music groups in schools between 300 and 800 students.

Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft, Mrs. Louis Hollenback, Stan Woznick and Frederick C. Schmoyer, band director, will accompany the Arlington Heights students.

Soloists and ensembles will compete for state honors on Friday and bands will hold playoffs Saturday.

Sixty-eight schools are entered in the contest with a total of 483 entries.

Police car overhaul accounts for decline in traffic violations

Business wasn't so good in Judge Neumann's police court in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning. Five violations, only one of them local, were reported this week.

Reason for the decrease in local lawlessness, however, was not entirely due to resolutions by citizens to stop worrying the police force, according to Chief Skoog. Police car 107 was in a repair shop last week for a new motor, clutch and brake job and must be driven slowly for 1,000 miles.

"We've already got 700 miles on the new motor," the chief stated, "so it won't be long before we can start tagging speeders and other violators again."

The local traffic violator taken care of by Judge Neumann is Joy Williams, of Palatine, who was arrested on Route 14 for reckless driving, and fined $1. Gerhard Groflin, of Des Plaines, was stopped on Route 14 for failing to have license plates on his vehicle and was fined $3.00. With other violations, total revenue for the village this week was $31.

In Palatine last week Rev. Koester had two traffic woes in one day. He was pinched the first time for over-staying the penny parking period. The Reverend then moved his car to another street and was pinched again for the same reason.

"I hadn't expected to stay away from the car as long as I did," the Reverened stated, "but I guess you can't tell that to a parking meter. Any way, I enjoyed the experience of being treated like other citizens."

Summer Round-up for all pre-school children

Arlington Heights committees of the public and parochial schools announced this week the dates for the summer round-ups for pre-school children. Round-ups will be held as follows: St. James school, May 6; North school, May 17; South school, May 18; and St. Peter's school, May 19.

The round-up consists of a complete physical examination in the office of the family doctor and a dental examination in the office of the family dentist, followed by a conference with the school nurse on the day of the round-up.

The pre-school census conducted during the past year has given the schools a rather complete list of children eligible for kindergarten next year. However, families of children who will enter kindergarten (and first grade if they have not attended kindergarten) and who have not been contacted are asked to call the Summer Round-Up Chairman or the school which they expect to attend.

MEMBERS of the round-up committees of the three local elementary school systems are contacting the parents of the pre-school children entering school next fall for the first time and are sending to the family of each child a medical record form to be taken to the family doctor and dentist.

No examination will be conducted in the schools on the day of the round-up. Parents will bring the completed blank to their school on that day, will confer with the school nurse regarding the results of the examination, and will register their child for school. In compliance with the state law providing for a physical examination before entering school, children will not be registered for school until the physical and dental examinations have been concluded.

To be eligible for kindergarten next year, a child must be five on or before December 2, 1948; and to enter first grade next year, a child must be six on or before December 2, 1948.

THE PUBLIC schools' round-up is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Richard Chambers as round-up chairman.

Mrs. Frank Cizek is chairman of the St. James Catholic school round-up, which is sponsored by the Women's Guild.

The St. Peter's Lutheran school found-up is sponsored by the Mother's club with Mrs. Marvin Rodewald as its chairman.

Cards beat Niles and Leyden in triangular

A possible view of things to come in the impending Northeast conference track meet was seen Wednesday of this week when Arlington's trackmen, coached by Bill Cramer, defeated Niles and Leyden cindermen. Final tallies were Arlington 60, Niles 50, Leyden 30. In the Palatine relays scores of these three teams were 60, 52, and 25.

In a freshman baseball game Wednesday the Card yearlings beat Leyden, 1-0, tho shut out by no-hit pitching. The junior Trojans collared one safety.

Decision on fare increases expected by June 1st

Acrimonious debate featured hearings as time began to run out on the cases of the dozen railroads seeking suburban fare increases from the Illinois Commerce commission. Under statutory limitations which set Commission consideration of a case at a maximum of 11 months all testimony must be completed and a decision rendered by May 29.

Marriage preparation in schools

Vegetable growers rebuffed

"We do not know of a group of men who have had more trouble in trying to get a supply of labor than the north Cook County Vegetable Growers" states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

They will be here for only a part of the summer and fall months.

"We have had not a single infringement of good conduct towards white people here or in the Thornton Camp. They do not mingle with you socially. Thornton will have a camp for south Cook, and we do not wish to penalize our north Cook farmers. The camp is for this season only. We all eat, and most of the vegetables and fruits consumed by us were harvested by foreign labor—much of it from the south by negros and Jamaicans. There is nothing more important in these critical times than abundance.

"The writer is perhaps as sensitive to the race question as any having come from southern, slave owning people. White men sinned against God and humanity when they brought black men to these American shores in bondage. Now we must fight a more terrible form of slavery —with all the resources of food and treasure we have—slavery for those who do not subscribe to a political system foreign to our best traditions. We request the good people of Glenview to reconsider the stand they have taken on this, farm labor camp so badly needed by farmers hard pressed for help this summer."

Legion Auxiliary to hold May dance, box social

Along with the new (old) look comes something else from grandma's day, a May day dance and box social. It will be enjoyed now as much as it was in grandma's days.

This party is under the auspices of the Arlington Heights American Legion Auxiliary.

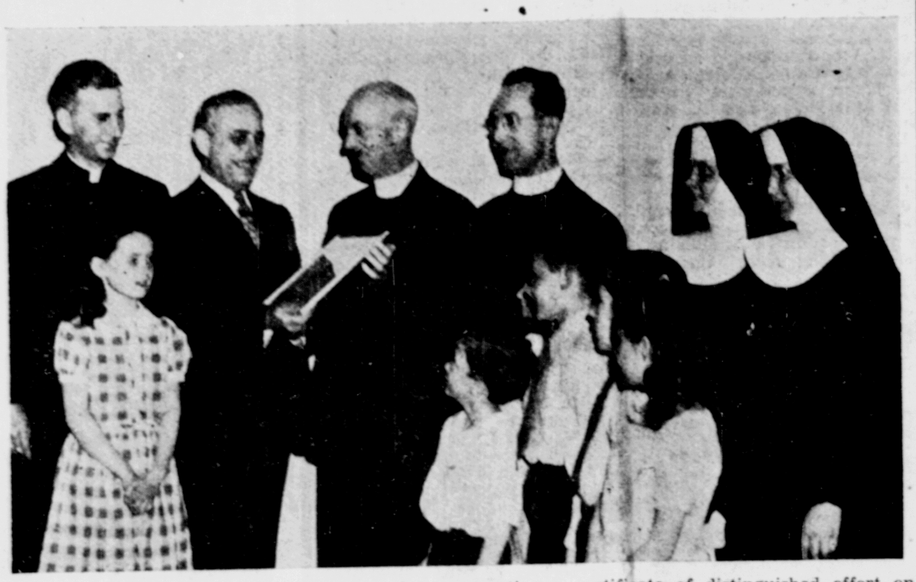

Price admission is just a boxed lunch for two, which will be auctioned off at 11:00 p. m. Saturday, May 1, is the date, with festivities beginning at 8:00 p. m., at Legion hall.

Rummage sale Saturday

This Saturday the Woman's Association of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church are sponsoring a Rummage Sale in the church basement. Doors will be open from 9:00 a. m. until 12:00 noon.

Please have rummage at the church on Thursday or early Friday morning so that it may be priced for the sale. If a pick up of rummage is desired please call Mrs. Robert Malcomson, Arlington Heights 611, or any other member of the committee.

First school in Chicago area to win dental award

According to the Chicago Dental society, St. James school is the first school in the Chicago area to receive the honor.

Wm. Heinemann to travel 'last beat' Friday

William Heinemann, Arlington Heights oldest policeman in years of service, will travel his last beat Friday.

His retirement is dated April 30 after twenty years continuous service in Arlington.

He was the only Arlington Heights police officer in 1917 and 1918. The only other village employee was Henry Kolling, who was village engineer, handling the streets and water departments. Their salaries were $90 a month, less than half what present officers receive for a two weeks period.

William later returned to the farm, but on March 15, 1928, resumed his police job.

"Patrolling was a real job in those days," says Heinemann.

Chief Skoog rode a motor cycle, but the only car, a Plymouth demonstrator, served both the police and street departments. The officer would patrol the business district on foot, then use the car to visit the residential section. It was not until 1931 that Arlington's police force was motorized.

Mr. Heinemann worked nights 13 years, a duty that is now periodically shared by all officers in the department.

During the years of service the retiring officer has served under three mayors, Mors, Flentie and Goedke. The local police force now comprises eight men.

"During all these years," says Mr. Heinemann, "I never had an argument with a mayor or a fellow officer. I always found the public cooperative and wish I could show my appreciation in some way to all the people of Arlington Heights, whom I have had the privilege of serving as a police officer.

"I think that no town of its size has had as little crime. Some of the young lads whom I had to reprimand fifteen and twenty years ago are today model citizens and heads of families. They and I have forgotten about their escapades."

Mr. Heinemann resides at 26 South Vail with three sons and three daughters. One son is married.

Village announces spring rubbish pick-up

In an annual spring bulletin, the village of Arlington Heights issued three civic spring reminders to citizens.

The annual spring rubbish pick-up south of the railroad will be May 3 and 4, and north of the railroad, May 6 and 7. The village requests that residents have rubbish (junk, cans, bottles) put in boxes, baskets or other containers and placed at the curb for the pick-up truck.

All auto owners are reminded that vehicle tags must be displayed on car windshields. Vehicle licenses for passenger cars cost $3.50 plus fine and costs if arrested.

Village ordinance 645 provides a $5 fine if a dog trespasses on a neighbor's grounds. If a police ticket is issued, a fine will be imposed. Dog license fees are $2.00. Unlicensed dogs may be impounded and destroyed and dogs on streets must be muzzled unless on leash.

Wind shift causes death of Arlington pilot in Japan

Last week's Herald carried the story that First Lieutenant Melvin Preston of Arlington Heights was killed in a plane crash at Honshu, Japan.

Lt. Preston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Preston, learned this week that their son was returning from a mission and crashed while attempting to land his P-51 fighter plane.

As he was landing, the wind shifted, throwing his plane into some wires at the end of the runway, the impact fracturing Lt. Preston's skull. He was able to complete his landing, but died shortly after.

D. H. Hitchcock, 44 years a railroader, retires from C&NW

After 44 years of railroading, D. H. Hitchcock, of Arlington Heights, retired from his job with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

Twenty-seven of the 44 years were put in on the Wisconsin Division. His retirement is due to heart trouble.

Hitchcock was born November 14, 1886, at Sandbeach, Mich., and began his railroad "career" at the age of ten. In 1896 a rear end collision occurred on the Michigan Central at Dexter, Mich. While the wreck was being cleared he was appointed water boy, in which capacity he worked two days and was paid one dollar.

His real railroading experiences began in 1903 on the Manistee and Luther R. R. which operated out of East Lake, Mich, and into the woods. After that he saw service on the following railroads: PM, RI, UP, Rio Grande Southern, Milwaukee. D & RGW, OSL, IC, NYC, WF & N, SA & AP, and SLSF.

In September, 1918, he began work on the Galena division of the C & NW. In June, 1920, he went to the Wisconsin division where he began as operator at Palatine.

He also worked other positions, the last of which was Deval tower at the cross-over of the Soo line and Northwestern at Des Plaines.

For a number of years, photography was his hobby and he operated his own studio on S. Chestnut street.

AHTHS receives top NCA rating

Arlington Heights township high school received notice this week that it received top-ranking status of an "unqualifiedly approved school" from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

"This is indeed an honor," stated L. B. Fisher, state chairman of the commission, "and it indicates your school is well administered and is operating effectively. In times such as these, it is difficult to maintain high standards of excellence in order to receive this recognition by the association."

"This is an honor to the high school," Principal Knoeppel said, "since this organization is enjoying the highest recognition it has ever attained and since a group of this kind is only as successful as its individual member schools."

Lions club to erect plaque honoring vets

A bronze plaque 30 by 24 feet, set in granite, will be erected in Memorial Park, Arlington Hgts., adjacent to the monument for World War I veterans.

The tablet, donated by Arlington Heights Lions club, will be in memory of all men and women who took part in World War II.

"We had planned to erect the plaque last year," Otto Wulbecker, Lions club president stated, "but had to postpone the project because of our inability to secure bronze."

The plaque will be dedicated after the Memorial day parade May 31. More details on Memorial day exercises will appear at a later date.

The U. S. army this week notified Arlington Heights VFW post that it will replace cannon scrapped during the war. A 37 m. m. rifle, complete with carriage, will be shipped soon and placed in Memorial Park. Japanese and German rifles also will be put on display.

Lutheran church stages romantic comedy this Friday and Sunday

A three-act comedy, "The Patsy," will be presented by the couples club of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Friday, April 30, and Sunday, May 2, in the Lutheran school auditorium.

The curtain will rise at 8 p. m. both nights.

"The Patsy" is concerned with struggles of Patsy Harrington to snare Tony Anderson, a philosophical young man who is sure he understands women. Tony is interested in Patsy's sister, Grace, who loves Billy Caldwell, a dashing man about town.

Patsy's understanding father lends a hand in catching Tony, but is almost thwarted by Mrs. Harrington who doesn't quite approve of Patsy and favors Grace. In her efforts to become devastatingly popular, Patsy memorizes clever quips from a handy little book "Wise and Witty Sayings for All Occasions."

Her friends and family are treated to such quotations as "When your feet get tired walking, always remember what a fine, cheap ride the rest of you is getting for nothing."

Proceeds will be used for new building program at St. Peter church. Tickets are 65 cents for students and adults and 25 cents for children.

Cast members are Miss Elaine Kehe, Patsy; Carl Weinrich, Tony; Mrs. Harry Nebel, Grace Harrington; Mrs. John Pfingston, Mrs. Harrington; William Gerken, Mr. Harrington; Al Orcott, Billy Caldwell; Mrs. Eber Cline, Sadie; Eber Cline, O'Flaherty; and Arthur Beyer, Trip Busty.

Play director is Miss Virginia Warner, former Arlington Hi student and graduate of University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Albert Kehe is chairman of the ticket committee; Edwin Guenther is in charge of stage property, assisted by John Pfingston and Wilbert Niebuhr.

"The Patsy" was chosen for presentation by Bill Gerken, Mrs. John Pfingston, Martin Heidorn and Carl Weinrich.

Set Wheeling valuation at 21 million; Elk Grove at nine

County Assessor John S. Clark released some interesting real estate assessment figures this week.

Land and buildings in Wheeling township have been evaluated at $20,974,143 for the 1947 quadrennial real estate assessment, the assessor announced.

This is an increase of $4,873,571 over the previous 1943 quadrennial assessment.

Building valuations rose approximately 55 percent over the prior quadrennial, or $10,467,288 in 1947 compared with $6,756,384 in 1943. Land value changes were comparatively small. The 1947 quadrennial assessment was $10,506,855 compared with $9,344,188 in 1943.

ELK GROVE land and buildings have been evaluated at $8,721,187 for the 1947 quadrennial real estate assessment, according to Clark.

This is an increase of $1,890,311 over the previous 1943 quadrennial assessment.

Building valuations rose approximately 49 percent over the prior quadrennial, or $3,932,958 in 1947 compared with $2,648,009 in 1943. Land value changes were comparatively small. The 1947 quadrennial assessment was $4,788.229 compared with $4,182,867 in 1943.

CLARK CAUTIONED taxpayers against confusing increased land and building valuations with actual tax rates over which the assessor has no control whatsoever.

"The tax rate is determined by the amount of money spent by the various city and county offices," he explained. "The sole duty of the assessor is to determine a fair cash value for each piece of land and building property in the township."

Barring error, the new land and building values will remain in effect until the next quadrennial four years hence, Clark said. All real estate has been evaluated according to its condition as of April 1, 1947, legal assessment date.

COMMENTING on the rise in real estate values, Clark said, "The cost of new buildings as of April 1, 1947, was much greater than in 1943. However, the assessor's office did not base its valuations on actual new cost because part of the new cost is inflationary and does not represent true and lasting value. The discounted new cost is the major reason for the increase in building values.

"Values on most land parcels in Wheeling and Elk Grove, remained unchanged," he continued, "but increases were made on commercial and industrial lands where justified."

Clark further explained that "residential lands were seldom increased because of rent freezing which has curtailed the earning ability of structures built upon residential and apartment lands."

HE PRAISED the work of Wheeling Township Assessor Theodore Studtmann and Elk Grove Assessor Otto Busse for their valuable aid in determining new values for 12,342 land parcels in Wheeling and 4,234 in Elk Grove.

The 1947 assessment was the largest and most complicated ever taken.

Duties of the local assessors included selection of a committee of local realtors and business men who, because of their knowledge of local conditions, were able to suggest new tentative land values. Maps were prepared and the assessors met with members of my staff to discuss new land values."

Clark also said the township assessor checks on new building and sends copies of all building permits to the county assessor's office. Field appraisers from the county office then inspect each building site and appraise the building when completed.

Businessmen get a 'pep talk' with a good dinner

Elgin is a larger town than Arlington Heights, but has many of the same problems. Mr. L. Booden DeForest, full time executive secretary of the Elgin Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce dinner at St. Peter school hall Monday evening. He outlined some of the problems that the Elgin business men have solved and others that are now before them. His talk illustrated what a united effort on the part of business interests can accomplish.

Elgin is not content with just solving the parking problem by the installation of parking meters. It is seeking parking lots to accommodate shoppers. Adequate street lighting of the business district and the establishment of a city incinerator are new projects the Elgin CC is sponsoring. A municipal swimming pool is also on its program.

"Enthusiasm on the part of Arlington Heights business men can do an equally good job. A chamber of commerce should not be just composed of men who pay their dues. Its members should be ready to 'get in' and pitch," stated Mr. DeForrest.

The speaker is sold on chamber of commerce possibilities and his talk sold many of his hearers. According to Herman Hinz, president of Arlington group, there are some community jobs awaiting to be done in the City of Good Neighbors and the board of directors of the local organization will soon present to the business men recommendation of things that need doing in Arlington.

Questionnaires were passed out asking for suggestions from those present. Many were received and will be considered by the board of directors.

Preceding the address, the barbershop quartet from the high school gave several numbers. The food, of course, was excellent.

Ella Taylor, Herald reporter 49 years, succumbs Saturday

Miss Ella Taylor, a little old lady dear to the hearts of many in Arlington Heights, died Saturday at the Arlington Heights Rest Home.

Born June 8, 1864, in Will county, Illinois, Miss Taylor came to Arlington Heights at the age of 14 to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Haynes. In 1916 she was appointed by William Meyer to serve as a mail carrier on the northside of Arlington Heights, outside of the business district. It is believed that Miss Taylor was one of the first women mail carriers to be appointed in the United States.

When H. C. Paddock first started a newspaper in Arlington Heights, 1898, Miss Taylor served as a hand compositor and later as a reporter on the paper, serving in that capacity for 49 years, or until December, 1947.

Miss Taylor became ill in January and was moved from her home, 207 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, to the rest home, where she was cared for until the time of her death.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel, at 1:30 p. m., with Rev. C. Victor Brown of the Presbyterian church, of which Miss Taylor was a member, officiating. Interment was in the Arlington Heights cemetery.

Miss Taylor leaves a sister, Mrs. Easter of Texas, to mourn her departure, as well as many friends in Arlington Heights.

High school band leaves Thursday for state contest

Sixty-six student members of Arlington Heights township high school band will leave Thursday, April 29, at 9:30 a. m. for the state music contest at Taylorville.

Enroute the group will visit Lincoln's tomb and the state capitol at Springfield.

The contest, which will be held two days, Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1, is for class "B" music groups in schools between 300 and 800 students.

Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft, Mrs. Louis Hollenback, Stan Woznick and Frederick C. Schmoyer, band director, will accompany the Arlington Heights students.

Soloists and ensembles will compete for state honors on Friday and bands will hold playoffs Saturday.

Sixty-eight schools are entered in the contest with a total of 483 entries.

Police car overhaul accounts for decline in traffic violations

Business wasn't so good in Judge Neumann's police court in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning. Five violations, only one of them local, were reported this week.

Reason for the decrease in local lawlessness, however, was not entirely due to resolutions by citizens to stop worrying the police force, according to Chief Skoog. Police car 107 was in a repair shop last week for a new motor, clutch and brake job and must be driven slowly for 1,000 miles.

"We've already got 700 miles on the new motor," the chief stated, "so it won't be long before we can start tagging speeders and other violators again."

The local traffic violator taken care of by Judge Neumann is Joy Williams, of Palatine, who was arrested on Route 14 for reckless driving, and fined $1. Gerhard Groflin, of Des Plaines, was stopped on Route 14 for failing to have license plates on his vehicle and was fined $3.00. With other violations, total revenue for the village this week was $31.

In Palatine last week Rev. Koester had two traffic woes in one day. He was pinched the first time for over-staying the penny parking period. The Reverend then moved his car to another street and was pinched again for the same reason.

"I hadn't expected to stay away from the car as long as I did," the Reverened stated, "but I guess you can't tell that to a parking meter. Any way, I enjoyed the experience of being treated like other citizens."

Summer Round-up for all pre-school children

Arlington Heights committees of the public and parochial schools announced this week the dates for the summer round-ups for pre-school children. Round-ups will be held as follows: St. James school, May 6; North school, May 17; South school, May 18; and St. Peter's school, May 19.

The round-up consists of a complete physical examination in the office of the family doctor and a dental examination in the office of the family dentist, followed by a conference with the school nurse on the day of the round-up.

The pre-school census conducted during the past year has given the schools a rather complete list of children eligible for kindergarten next year. However, families of children who will enter kindergarten (and first grade if they have not attended kindergarten) and who have not been contacted are asked to call the Summer Round-Up Chairman or the school which they expect to attend.

MEMBERS of the round-up committees of the three local elementary school systems are contacting the parents of the pre-school children entering school next fall for the first time and are sending to the family of each child a medical record form to be taken to the family doctor and dentist.

No examination will be conducted in the schools on the day of the round-up. Parents will bring the completed blank to their school on that day, will confer with the school nurse regarding the results of the examination, and will register their child for school. In compliance with the state law providing for a physical examination before entering school, children will not be registered for school until the physical and dental examinations have been concluded.

To be eligible for kindergarten next year, a child must be five on or before December 2, 1948; and to enter first grade next year, a child must be six on or before December 2, 1948.

THE PUBLIC schools' round-up is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Richard Chambers as round-up chairman.

Mrs. Frank Cizek is chairman of the St. James Catholic school round-up, which is sponsored by the Women's Guild.

The St. Peter's Lutheran school found-up is sponsored by the Mother's club with Mrs. Marvin Rodewald as its chairman.

Cards beat Niles and Leyden in triangular

A possible view of things to come in the impending Northeast conference track meet was seen Wednesday of this week when Arlington's trackmen, coached by Bill Cramer, defeated Niles and Leyden cindermen. Final tallies were Arlington 60, Niles 50, Leyden 30. In the Palatine relays scores of these three teams were 60, 52, and 25.

In a freshman baseball game Wednesday the Card yearlings beat Leyden, 1-0, tho shut out by no-hit pitching. The junior Trojans collared one safety.

Decision on fare increases expected by June 1st

Acrimonious debate featured hearings as time began to run out on the cases of the dozen railroads seeking suburban fare increases from the Illinois Commerce commission. Under statutory limitations which set Commission consideration of a case at a maximum of 11 months all testimony must be completed and a decision rendered by May 29.

Solve Problem Of Underweight

by SIEBURG DRUG CO., Inc.

Many people who are underweight try to increase their weight by taking specially prepared food and beverages. Usually they are disappointed in the results. The condition is not so easily corrected.

First the cause of underweight must be found. This the doctor can usually explain after he has had an opportunity to check your physical condition thoroughly. Then your doctor will tell you what can be done to remedy your underweight condition. His advice will be in the best interests of your health . . . and any program he outlines for gaining weight will produce results when carefully followed.

Medicine the doctor prescribes should be purchased from a trusted druggist.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 25, was:

"PROBATION AFTER DEATH"

The Golden Text was:

"As the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will" (John 5: 21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. . . . I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction" (Luke 20: 37,38; Hos. 13: 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The belief that matter has life results, by the universal law of mortal mind, in a belief in death. So man, tree, and flower are supposed to die; but the fact remains, that God's universe is spiritual and immortal. The spiritual fact and the material belief of things are contradictions; but the spiritual is true, and therefore the material must be untrue. . . . Spirit and all things spiritual are the real and eternal" (p. 289).

Arlington woman wins full home freezer

Mrs. Marvin Rodewald of Arlington Heights won a home freezer filled with Cedergreen frozen foods for providing the best completion of the sentence "I use frozen food because ——." The local dealer, Arlington Provision, won the $100 dealers' prize as a result.

Posthumous award to Mt. Prospect gold star

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Flesch, formerly of Mt. Prospect, were presented with the Distinguished Flying Cross with oak leaf cluster and Air medal with oak leaf cluster, posthumously awarded their son, Captain Arthur W. Flesch, in a ceremony at the VFW installation last Saturday evening.

Lt. M. S. Yaskin and M/Sgt. Wm. Perry of Recruiting Service Headquarters made the presentation.

Citation with the medals read, "For extraordinary achievement by participation in combat missions totalling more than 600 hours."

The missions were flown over Burma, Theiland and the Andama Islands.

In addition to the above decorations, Capt. Flesch was entitled to the following: American Defense Service medal, World War II Victory medal, and the Asiatic Pacific Campaign ribbon with two bronze service stars.

Capt. Flesch died November, 1944, in an accident when a plane crashed in an attempted take-off from a field at Kharkpur, India. He was given a military burial with a 21-gun salute November 21, 1944.

Capt. Flesch was a member of Prospect post 1337 of VFW, and his father is a charter member, having served in World War I. He was a lead bombardier in the Eager Beaver squadron, and for a year and a half served his squadron as head provost marshal.

Although Capt. Flesch graduated from Lane Technical high school in Chicago, he had attended St. Paul's Lutheran school in Mt. Prospect and Arlington high school for two years. He continued his studies at Wright Junior college and the Illinois Institute of Technology until his enlistment June 11, 1941.

Three other sons were also in service, Kenneth in the navy, Frank with a tank destroyer unit, and Edward in the signal corps attached to the air force.

Scarsdale Association to meet this Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the Scarsdale Property Owners Association will be held at the Legion hall, at 8:00 p. m., this Friday, April 30.

Feature of the meeting will be the showing of special U. S. Navy sound film, depicting submarine warfare in the South Pacific. The movie will follow the regular business session and refreshments will also be served.

All members and residents of Scarsdale are urged to be present.

In fund drive for Addison kids' home

St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights will participate in the Lutheran Child Welfare Association's 75th Anniversary campaign to raise $75,000 for debt retirement, it was announced by the Rev. L. V. Stephan, pastor of the church.

The Lutheran Child Welfare Association, which maintains a children's home at Addison, annually serves over 1,000 children, coming from all parts of Illinois, the Rev. Mr. Stephan stated.

Candy sales to aid education program of Federated Woman's Clubs

The International Relations Study Group of the Federated Woman's Clubs of the United States is sponsoring an exchange education program.

They plan to educate an American student in Europe and a European student in the United States, both students to preferably major in hisory. The cost of this project per student will be $1500, and the group prefers sending a girl.

In order to help raise funds for this project the Study Group of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club is selling mint julep chocolates made by Mrs. Steven's Candy Co., of Chicago. They are selling the chocolates at the same price that they are sold in Chicago and are receiving a 40 percent commission on all sales.

HALF POUND boxes are selling at fifty cents, with pound boxes costing one dollar. Those desiring to buy candy and help the exchange education program, may obtain the chocolates from Mrs. Thomas Davidson, 933 N. Walnut, phone Arlington Heights 639-W; Mrs. John Shanklin, 940 N. Chestnut, phone Arlington Heights 1355-R; or if living in Prospect Heights they may call Mrs. Sheridan Winter, 108 Wheeling road, Prospect Heights, phone Arlington Heights 7109-W.

To date candy sales have been going well, though many more boxes must be sold in order that this section of the Federated Woman's clubs can meet their portion of the $3000 quota.

Solve Problem Of Underweight

by SIEBURG DRUG CO., Inc.

Many people who are underweight try to increase their weight by taking specially prepared food and beverages. Usually they are disappointed in the results. The condition is not so easily corrected.

First the cause of underweight must be found. This the doctor can usually explain after he has had an opportunity to check your physical condition thoroughly. Then your doctor will tell you what can be done to remedy your underweight condition. His advice will be in the best interests of your health . . . and any program he outlines for gaining weight will produce results when carefully followed.

Medicine the doctor prescribes should be purchased from a trusted druggist.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 25, was:

"PROBATION AFTER DEATH"

The Golden Text was:

"As the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will" (John 5: 21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. . . . I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction" (Luke 20: 37,38; Hos. 13: 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The belief that matter has life results, by the universal law of mortal mind, in a belief in death. So man, tree, and flower are supposed to die; but the fact remains, that God's universe is spiritual and immortal. The spiritual fact and the material belief of things are contradictions; but the spiritual is true, and therefore the material must be untrue. . . . Spirit and all things spiritual are the real and eternal" (p. 289).

Posthumous award to Mt. Prospect gold star

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Flesch, formerly of Mt. Prospect, were presented with the Distinguished Flying Cross with oak leaf cluster and Air medal with oak leaf cluster, posthumously awarded their son, Captain Arthur W. Flesch, in a ceremony at the VFW installation last Saturday evening.

Lt. M. S. Yaskin and M/Sgt. Wm. Perry of Recruiting Service Headquarters made the presentation.

Citation with the medals read, "For extraordinary achievement by participation in combat missions totalling more than 600 hours."

The missions were flown over Burma, Theiland and the Andama Islands.

In addition to the above decorations, Capt. Flesch was entitled to the following: American Defense Service medal, World War II Victory medal, and the Asiatic Pacific Campaign ribbon with two bronze service stars.

Capt. Flesch died November, 1944, in an accident when a plane crashed in an attempted take-off from a field at Kharkpur, India. He was given a military burial with a 21-gun salute November 21, 1944.

Capt. Flesch was a member of Prospect post 1337 of VFW, and his father is a charter member, having served in World War I. He was a lead bombardier in the Eager Beaver squadron, and for a year and a half served his squadron as head provost marshal.

Although Capt. Flesch graduated from Lane Technical high school in Chicago, he had attended St. Paul's Lutheran school in Mt. Prospect and Arlington high school for two years. He continued his studies at Wright Junior college and the Illinois Institute of Technology until his enlistment June 11, 1941.

Three other sons were also in service, Kenneth in the navy, Frank with a tank destroyer unit, and Edward in the signal corps attached to the air force.

Verna Held bridal shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Friday night in honor of Miss Verna Held of Arlington Heights. The shower, given by Mrs. Lorraine Kastning and Marian and Evelyn Goeddeke, at the Goeddeke home in Roselle, was attended by 20 guests.

The bride-to-be was seated beneath a canopy of aqua, pink, and white streamers, where she opened many lovely gifts. After the gifts were opened the guests played airplane bunco, and later in the evening enjoyed tempting refreshments.

Miss Held will be married to Harvey Goeddeke of Roselle, at the Palatine Lutheran church this Saturday.

Doris Mae Wilke says 'I do' to Alvin Johnson

Miss Doris Mae Wilke ,daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilke of Chicago, became the bride of Alvin E. Johnson, son of Mrs. Pearl Johnson of Arlington Heights, in a double ring ceremony at the Sauganash Community church, Chicago, last Saturday. Baskets of flowers and palms decorated the church. During the ceremony a soloist sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of chantilly lace, that was set off with a fingertip veil held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was made up of gardenias and hyacinths.

Attending Miss Wilke as maid of honor was Suzanne Steaber of Chicago, who was attired in an orchid taffeta bustle gown. The bridesmaids, Isabelle Johnson, sister of the groom, Lorraine Wilke and Lee Anna Nagel, both of Chicago, wore nile green gowns styled identical to the maid of honor's. The bride's attendants all carried spray bouquets of tearose buds.

Best man for the groom was Irwin Van Geldar, with Warren Wilke, Raymond Wilke and Carlyle Esser, all of Chicago, acting as ushers.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony and was held at the Chicago House in Wheeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are enjoying a honeymoon trip to the Smoky Mountains and upon their return they will reside in Chicago.

Bride-to-be given four miscellaneous showers

Miss Leona Wisersky, Arlington Heights, who will soon become the bride of Lowell J. Plant, also of Arlington Heights, has been honored recently at four bridal showers.

A group of girls with whom Miss Wisersky was formerly employed at the Illinois Bell Telephone company in Chicago, gave the first shower, which was held April 16 on the South Side of Chicago. Sixteen guests attended the party.

Mrs. Russell Fredericksen of Oak Park gave the second shower, which was held April 18. Twenty-five guests viewed the opening of the many lovely gifts given to the bride-to-be. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary in Arlington Heights honored Miss Wisersky with a miscellaneous shower April 20, with twenty-two members attending.

The fourth shower was held Wednesday night and was given by Miss Wisersky's maid of honor, Miss Marie Tischer.

Miss Wisersky and Mr. Plant will be married at 9:30 a. m., at the St. James Catholic church, May 8.

Double-Action Turnip

The turnip is really a double-action vegetable. Its roots make good winter food and the greens are excellent. After winter storage, turnip roots often are replanted in the spring and produce a new crop of greens which are believed to have a beneficial "spring tonic" effect. Unknown to many, raw turnips are excellent in uncooked salads. All turnips are a good source of vitamin B-1, C and G. Yellow turnips are especially rich in vitamin A.

Graduate nurse

Miss Mary Lee Latham, Palatine, who for the past several years has made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Herrmann, graduated from the Augustana hospital school of nursing, Chicago, Sunday afternoon.

The graduating exercises were held at the Ebenezer Lutheran church in Chicago and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Herrmann. A reception was held Sunday evening at the nurse's residence, 427 W. Dickens ave.

Mary Lee's home is at Rifle, Colorado. She came to live with the Herrmann's in August of 1944 and graduated from the Palatine high school in 1945.

Catholic Woman's Guild

The last meeting of the St. James Catholic Woman's Guild of Arlington Heights was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. F. Cizek presiding. During the meeting Mrs. L. Schneider gave tentative plans for the mother's and daughter's communion breakfast to be held Sunday, May 30.

Airplane bunco was enjoyed after the business meeting. The regular monthly award went to Mrs. B. Malburg. Later in the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mesdames L. Weidner, B. Malburg, J. Roth, W. Schoppman, T. McDonald, J. Raef, C. Rubner and O. Wulbecker.

Members were urged to receive Holy Communion in a body at this Sunday's seven o'clock Mass.

Mt. Prospect Legion Auxiliary to have rummage sale Saturday

Annual rummage sale of the Mt. Prospect Legion Auxiliary will open Saturday morning, May 1, at 9 a. m. in the basement of Mt. Prospect public school.

Mrs. C. N. Verrett, chairman, reports there will be available a variety of useful household items, clothing, etc. All are in excellent condition and are to be sold at a bargain.

Arlington OES holds friends' night April 22

A friendly welcome greeted each guest as they arrived to take part on Friends' Night in Arlington Heights OES chapter Thursday evening April 22. Each year one evening is set aside for the officers to entertain a friend in their station. Des Plaines chapter was honored with the worthy matron and worthy patron, Ruth Weiss and Henry Haas, serving in the East.

Several officers and members from Des Plaines chapter attended and formed an escort for their leaders. Agnes Olson, a member of the Special Endowment committee of the Grand Chapter of Illinois was guest of honor. Each was presented with flowers and greeted in song by the soloist.

Other guests serving were: Associate matron, Julia Beckwith, Des Plaines; Associate patron, Burkitt Davis, color bearer, Arlington Heights; secretary, Alice Prust, Ben Franklin; treasurer, William Jahncke, Old Glory; conductress, Mildred Frey, Ben Franklin; and associate ronductress, Lois Hoover, Palatine.

Chaplain, Viola Stelzer, Lawn; marshal, Adeline Wille, Arlington Heights; organist, Edna Senne, Palatine; Adah, Rita Johnson, Irving Park; Ruth, Maybelle C. Jasper, Arlington Heights; Esther, Shirley Keime, Irving Park; Martha, Clare Giarrusso. Des Plaines; Electa, Carrol Siebold, Irving Park; warder, Eleanor Gieseke, Star of Unity and sentinel, Park Allen, Arlington Heights.

Many distinguished visitors were present, among them, William C. Jahncke, a past worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of the State of Illinois and a member of the International Temple Fund Committee of the General Grand Chapter; Rita Johnson, past grand sentinel of 1942; Bernice Wolferz, past grand marshal of 1947; several members of the Special Endowment and Special Courtesy Committee of the Grand Chapter; grand lecturers, worthy matrons and patrons and past matrons and patrons.

A warm and friendly greeting was extended to all the visitors by Bessie and Paul Geisel, worthy matron and patron of Arlington Heights Chapter, who expressed their appreciation for the fine attendance.

Several committee reports were given; the rummage sale was a huge success; plans are about completed for the public card and bunco party to be held June 12, and the cards and gift wrappings being sold by the chapter are going well.

The songs rendered by the guest soloist, Dorothy Fairbanks, were enjoyed. Remarks of the guests were interesting. Each expressed their appreciation for the lovely evening that had been planned for them.

At the close of the meeting all retired to the dining room where ice cream and home made cakes, coffee or tea were served by Agnes Olson, chairman, and her committee. The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and attractive place cards, the handiwork of Lillian Wolf and her assistants.

A fraternal welcome awaits any member of the order. Meetings are held the second and fourth Thursday of the month at 7:30 p. m.

Arlington doctor moves to Missouri

Dr. A. G. Heidemann, 307 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, after 26 years of Naprapathy practice here, is leaving Arlington Hgts.

On May 3 he will open his new office in Kirkwood, Mo.

His decision to leave Arlington Heights had been made several months ago, and a new home is waiting for him in the Missouri town.

The new office will be fully equipped with additional facilities made necessary by the fact that Kirkwood is a town of 12,000 inhabitants, and Dr. Heidemann expects to meet the demands of a larger community with these extra services.

Dr. George Tideman of Chicago, a member of the faculty at Chicago College of Naprapathy, will open his new office in Arlington Heights this Saturday, May 3. He has purchased the Heidemann home and will bring his family with him.

American Legion Auxiliary notes

The rummage sale sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at Legion hall Saturday, May 1, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon.

Those having rummage to donate and wishing to have it collected, please call Arlington Heights 102-J or 527-W. All articles suitable for use by hospitalized veterans will be taken to the hospitals.

Saturday, evening, May 1, the auxiliary will hold a box social and informal dance at Legion hall. Everyone is urged to come out and have a good time.

The regular business meeting will be held Tuesday evening May 4, at Legion hall.

THE FLEET THAT SERVICE BUILT

THIS FLEET OF FORD CARS AND TRUCKS — FROM THE MOST MODERN VEHICLES DOWN TO A MODEL 'T' — IS NECESSARY TO CONDUCT OUR BUSINESS. THE SIX TRUCKS ON THE LEFT AND THEIR DRIVERS ARE THE ONES YOU SEE IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD. SEDANS USED IN THE BUSINESS ARE ON THE RIGHT. IN FRONT OF THEM, FROM RIGHT TO LEFT, ARE: J. J. VANDERVELD, OWNER OF THE BUSINESS; HIS SECRETARY; AND HARRY SNODGRASS Jr., BARRINGTON FORD DEALER.

ON MAY 1, we will mark our tenth anniversary in the Arlington Heights - Mt. Prospect area. It was on May 1, 1938, that we purchased the trucking business of Maurice Magili and began providing a hauling service which was needed badly in the community.

As the above picture will testify, our growth has been steady throughout those ten years.

We like to think that we have grown because we have gone out of our way to serve our customers — because we have put service above everything else.

And we're looking forward to more years of service. The help situation, which bothered us for a time, now is under control. And we pledge that in the future we'll leave no stone unturned to give you the service you want.

Verna Held bridal shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Friday night in honor of Miss Verna Held of Arlington Heights. The shower, given by Mrs. Lorraine Kastning and Marian and Evelyn Goeddeke, at the Goeddeke home in Roselle, was attended by 20 guests.

The bride-to-be was seated beneath a canopy of aqua, pink, and white streamers, where she opened many lovely gifts. After the gifts were opened the guests played airplane bunco, and later in the evening enjoyed tempting refreshments.

Miss Held will be married to Harvey Goeddeke of Roselle, at the Palatine Lutheran church this Saturday.

Doris Mae Wilke says 'I do' to Alvin Johnson

Miss Doris Mae Wilke ,daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilke of Chicago, became the bride of Alvin E. Johnson, son of Mrs. Pearl Johnson of Arlington Heights, in a double ring ceremony at the Sauganash Community church, Chicago, last Saturday. Baskets of flowers and palms decorated the church. During the ceremony a soloist sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of chantilly lace, that was set off with a fingertip veil held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was made up of gardenias and hyacinths.

Attending Miss Wilke as maid of honor was Suzanne Steaber of Chicago, who was attired in an orchid taffeta bustle gown. The bridesmaids, Isabelle Johnson, sister of the groom, Lorraine Wilke and Lee Anna Nagel, both of Chicago, wore nile green gowns styled identical to the maid of honor's. The bride's attendants all carried spray bouquets of tearose buds.

Best man for the groom was Irwin Van Geldar, with Warren Wilke, Raymond Wilke and Carlyle Esser, all of Chicago, acting as ushers.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony and was held at the Chicago House in Wheeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are enjoying a honeymoon trip to the Smoky Mountains and upon their return they will reside in Chicago.

Graduate nurse

Miss Mary Lee Latham, Palatine, who for the past several years has made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Herrmann, graduated from the Augustana hospital school of nursing, Chicago, Sunday afternoon.

The graduating exercises were held at the Ebenezer Lutheran church in Chicago and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Herrmann. A reception was held Sunday evening at the nurse's residence, 427 W. Dickens ave.

Mary Lee's home is at Rifle, Colorado. She came to live with the Herrmann's in August of 1944 and graduated from the Palatine high school in 1945.

Bride-to-be given four miscellaneous showers

Miss Leona Wisersky, Arlington Heights, who will soon become the bride of Lowell J. Plant, also of Arlington Heights, has been honored recently at four bridal showers.

A group of girls with whom Miss Wisersky was formerly employed at the Illinois Bell Telephone company in Chicago, gave the first shower, which was held April 16 on the South Side of Chicago. Sixteen guests attended the party.

Mrs. Russell Fredericksen of Oak Park gave the second shower, which was held April 18. Twenty-five guests viewed the opening of the many lovely gifts given to the bride-to-be. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary in Arlington Heights honored Miss Wisersky with a miscellaneous shower April 20, with twenty-two members attending.

The fourth shower was held Wednesday night and was given by Miss Wisersky's maid of honor, Miss Marie Tischer.

Miss Wisersky and Mr. Plant will be married at 9:30 a. m., at the St. James Catholic church, May 8.

Double-Action Turnip

The turnip is really a double-action vegetable. Its roots make good winter food and the greens are excellent. After winter storage, turnip roots often are replanted in the spring and produce a new crop of greens which are believed to have a beneficial "spring tonic" effect. Unknown to many, raw turnips are excellent in uncooked salads. All turnips are a good source of vitamin B-1, C and G. Yellow turnips are especially rich in vitamin A.

Catholic Woman's Guild

The last meeting of the St. James Catholic Woman's Guild of Arlington Heights was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. F. Cizek presiding. During the meeting Mrs. L. Schneider gave tentative plans for the mother's and daughter's communion breakfast to be held Sunday, May 30.

Airplane bunco was enjoyed after the business meeting. The regular monthly award went to Mrs. B. Malburg. Later in the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mesdames L. Weidner, B. Malburg, J. Roth, W. Schoppman, T. McDonald, J. Raef, C. Rubner and O. Wulbecker.

Members were urged to receive Holy Communion in a body at this Sunday's seven o'clock Mass.

Mt. Prospect Legion Auxiliary to have rummage sale Saturday

Annual rummage sale of the Mt. Prospect Legion Auxiliary will open Saturday morning, May 1, at 9 a. m. in the basement of Mt. Prospect public school.

Mrs. C. N. Verrett, chairman, reports there will be available a variety of useful household items, clothing, etc. All are in excellent condition and are to be sold at a bargain.

Arlington OES holds friends' night April 22

A friendly welcome greeted each guest as they arrived to take part on Friends' Night in Arlington Heights OES chapter Thursday evening April 22. Each year one evening is set aside for the officers to entertain a friend in their station. Des Plaines chapter was honored with the worthy matron and worthy patron, Ruth Weiss and Henry Haas, serving in the East.

Several officers and members from Des Plaines chapter attended and formed an escort for their leaders. Agnes Olson, a member of the Special Endowment committee of the Grand Chapter of Illinois was guest of honor. Each was presented with flowers and greeted in song by the soloist.

Other guests serving were: Associate matron, Julia Beckwith, Des Plaines; Associate patron, Burkitt Davis, color bearer, Arlington Heights; secretary, Alice Prust, Ben Franklin; treasurer, William Jahncke, Old Glory; conductress, Mildred Frey, Ben Franklin; and associate ronductress, Lois Hoover, Palatine.

Chaplain, Viola Stelzer, Lawn; marshal, Adeline Wille, Arlington Heights; organist, Edna Senne, Palatine; Adah, Rita Johnson, Irving Park; Ruth, Maybelle C. Jasper, Arlington Heights; Esther, Shirley Keime, Irving Park; Martha, Clare Giarrusso, Des Plaines; Electa, Carrol Siebold, Irving Park; warder, Eleanor Gieseke, Star of Unity and sentinel, Park Allen, Arlington Heights.

Many distinguished visitors were present, among them, William C. Jahncke, a past worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of the State of Illinois and a member of the International Temple Fund Committee of the General Grand Chapter; Rita Johnson, past grand sentinel of 1942; Bernice Wolferz, past grand marshal of 1947; several members of the Special Endowment and Special Courtesy Committee of the Grand Chapter; grand lecturers, worthy matrons and patrons and past matrons and patrons.

A warm and friendly greeting was extended to all the visitors by Bessie and Paul Geisel, worthy matron and patron of Arlington Heights Chapter, who expressed their appreciation for the fine attendance.

Several committee reports were given; the rummage sale was a huge success; plans are about completed for the public card and bunco party to be held June 12, and the cards and gift wrappings being sold by the chapter are going well.

The songs rendered by the guest soloist, Dorothy Fairbanks, were enjoyed. Remarks of the guests were interesting. Each expressed their appreciation for the lovely evening that had been planned for them.

At the close of the meeting all retired to the dining room where ice cream and home made cakes, coffee or tea were served by Agnes Olson, chairman, and her committee. The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and attractive place cards, the handiwork of Lillian Wolf and her assistants.

A fraternal welcome awaits any member of the order. Meetings are held the second and fourth Thursday of the month at 7:30 p. m.

Arlington doctor moves to Missouri

Dr. A. G. Heidemann, 307 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, after 26 years of Naprapathy practice here, is leaving Arlington Hgts.

On May 3 he will open his new office in Kirkwood, Mo.

His decision to leave Arlington Heights had been made several months ago, and a new home is waiting for him in the Missouri town.

The new office will be fully equipped with additional facilities made necessary by the fact that Kirkwood is a town of 12,000 inhabitants, and Dr. Heidemann expects to meet the demands of a larger community with these extra services.

Dr. George Tideman of Chicago, a member of the faculty at Chicago College of Naprapathy, will open his new office in Arlington Heights this Saturday, May 3. He has purchased the Heidemann home and will bring his family with him.

American Legion Auxiliary notes

The rummage sale sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at Legion hall Saturday, May 1, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon.

Those having rummage to donate and wishing to have it collected, please call Arlington Heights 102-J or 527-W. All articles suitable for use by hospitalized veterans will be taken to the hospitals.

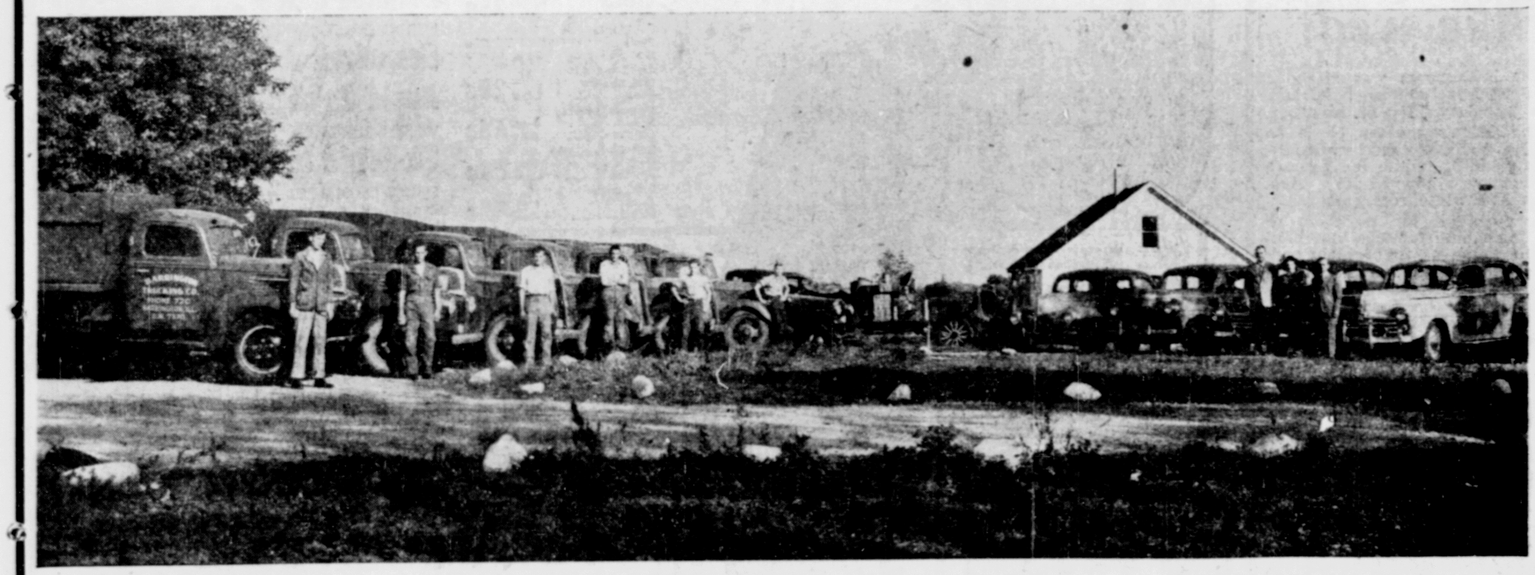

Saturday, evening, May 1, the auxiliary will hold a box social and informal dance at Legion hall. Everyone is urged to come out and have a good time.

The regular business meeting will be held Tuesday evening May 4, at Legion hall.

Baptized Sunday

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hinrichsen of Arlington Heights was baptized Martha Eleanor last Sunday afternoon in St. Peter Ev. Lutheran Church, the Rev. L. V. Stephan officiating. Martha was born March 18, 1948. The baptism ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Vizcarra of Lombard and Anneliese Wille of Arlington Heights.

ALWAYS SMART ALL WAYS

Martha S, confidential secretary to a top executive, is as smart as she looks—and that's plenty! Dresses like a debutante, but thriftily; eats light lunches; takes a brisk noontime walk (better than make-up). Guards that rosy glow of health with Wanzer's creamy rich milk — three glasses a day, the beauty way. Saves money, looks better, feels tops. Try Martha's method — today. Her favorite number is Enterprise 6700.

More bridal showers given for Leona Gaare

A personal shower was given April 20 by Jeanette Gaare and Marilyn Hayford at the Gaare home in Palatine, in honor of Miss Leona Gaare, who will be married May 15 to Raymond Graff. About 30 guests, consisting of relatives and friends were present.

The refreshment table was centered with a large bride doll and held cake, ice cream, and coffee, which were consumed by the guests after they had viewed the many gifts and played games.

Another shower was given April 23 by Mrs. Bernice Trochim of Elgin, Irene Bergman, and Lorraine Schroeder, who will all be attendants at Miss Gaare's wedding.

The bride-to-be was seated in a chair beneath a gaily decorated sprinkling can, which poured forth streamers, each holding a gift at the end. After the gifts were unwrapped, the thirty guests gathered around the refreshment table, which was centered with a bride and her attendants, dressed in green, mauve and white, the colors to be worn by the bridal party at the wedding.

Miss Gaare and Mr. Graff will be married at 7:30 p. m., at the Palatine Immanuel Lutheran church.

Helpless Giraffe

How the giraffe survives in the jungle is a mystery, because he is awkward, shy and virtually helpless against powerful and swift predatory animals. His only protection derives from his dappled appearance, and an acute sense of hearing.

June Nagel and Irvin Carnehl exchange vows

Community Camera

In glowing candlelight and a setting of palms and baskets of snapdragons, Miss June M. Nagel and Irvin R. Carnehl repeated their marriage vows after Rev. L. V. Stephan, at the St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church, Arlington Heights last Saturday evening. Miss Nagel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Nagel of Arlington Heights, and Mr. Carnehl is the son of Mrs. Henrietta Carnehl of Park Ridge. The flowers decorating the church came from the bridegroom's greenhouse.

During the ceremony Miss Ruth Studtmann sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Ottomar Kolb.

Dressed in a gown of slipper satin, Miss Nagel was given in marriage by her father. Her dress, made by her mother, was fashioned with long fitted bodice, having scalloped neck and waist line, and a full skirt ending in a three yard train. The bride's fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls, and she wore a pearl necklace, which was a gift from the bridegroom. The wedding bouquet was made of white carnations, lilies-of-the-valley, and stephanotis.

Maid of honor for the bride was her sister, Miss Leona Nagel, with two other sisters, Arlene and Phyllis Nagel, serving as bridesmaids. Judith Ann Partridge of North Manchester, Ind., served as flower girl. The bride's attendants were all dressed in blue taffeta "Bo-Peep" gowns. They were styled with fitted bodices, having cap sleeves, buttons down the front to the waistlines, and standing collars; and full skirts, gathered with six, four inch folds in the front.

To set off their dresses the attendants carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations, daisies and blue iris, with all except the maid of honor's being knotted with blue streamers. The maid of honor's was tied with yellow streamers. They all wore yellow carnation wreaths in their hair. The bride gave each girl an Elgin-American compact as a gift.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Louis Carnehl, as best man, with his cousins, Wilbert and Raymond Carnehl, acting as ushers. The bridegroom's attendants were given gifts of initialed belts, which were folded into plastic cigarette boxes.

Mrs. Nagel chose a grey and rose dress to wear at the wedding, while Mrs. Carnehl was gowned in a green dress. Both wore yellow rose corsages.

Four hundred guests attended the reception at the Arlington Heights field house. Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Trier and Marilyn, of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Alfred Dexter, Mrs. Lee Buttof, Mrs. Art Nickasch and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dexter, all of New London, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Galloway, South Bend, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sengstock and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Luedtke, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luedtke, all of Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Partridge, Manchester, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. William Loptein, Sycamore, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Corson and Marilyn, of Genoa, Ill.

The newlyweds will not take a honeymoon until July. Mr. and Mrs. Carnehl are now at home at 2100 N. Talcott, Park Ridge.

Alice Engelking and Wilbert Kirschke wed

The wedding vows of Alice Engelking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Engelking, Sr., Glen View, and Wilbert Kirschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirschke of Antioch, were repeated after Rev. G. F. Raedeke, April 17. The ceremony was held at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Glenview, before an altar decked with baskets of snapdragons.

"Loves Coronation" and "Oh Perfect Love" were sung during the ceremony by Lorraine Specht of Des Plaines, a friend of the bride.

Miss Engelking, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in traditional white satin, having lace inserts and ending in a long train. Her lace veil was inset with bands of satin and was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was made up of roses and sweetpeas.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Otto Engelking Jr., who wore a blue dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Mildred Brent of Des Plaines served as maid of honor and was attired in pink, and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Both of the bride's attendants wore pearl necklaces and earrings, a gift of the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by John Engelking as best man, and Otto Engelking Jr. as usher.

The bride's mother chose to wear a rose dress for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother was gowned in blue. Both had white rose corsages.

A reception for members of the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Kirschke are honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains and upon their return will make their home at 1832 Prairie st., Glenview.

PEO has guest day

Chapter FW of PEO, Arlington Heights, held their annual guest day, April 22, at the home of Mrs. Robert Malcolm.

Mrs. Bruce Jarvis, of Chicago, formerly of Arlington Heights, gave an interesting book review as part of the program. Miss Ingrid Schueren sang several delightful musical numbers accompanied by Ann Lyman at the piano.

Announce Girl Scout cookie sale in May

With adoption of the slogan "Cookies for Camp," 350 Arlington Heights Girl Scouts and Brownies are preparing to launch an annual cookie sale.

Profits are for the summer camping program, according to local girl scout officials.

"Here is a chance for every housewife to get value received and help Girl Scouting at the same time," Mrs. Vernon Sturm, local cookie sale chairman, said.

Order blanks will be distributed to girls so they may begin soliciting sales May 1. A window ticket will be left at each home to indicate to other solicitors that the order for the household has already been taken. It is expected that cookies will be delivered by May 15. No money will be accepted until cookies are delivered.

When the green and brown-clad Girl Scouts sales ladies come to your home, it's your opportunity to lend a hand to Arlington Heights youngsters and add delicious cookies to the menu.

At DePauw

More than 130 high school students from six midwestern states will travel to the DePauw university campus May 1 to participate in the annual President's and McMahan Scholarship competitions.

The President's scholarships, established by the University in 1934, are awarded to 14 applicants on the basis of competitive examination and personal interview. Ten scholarships are in the College of Liberal Arts and four in the School of Music.

High school students from Illinois invited to participate in McMahan scholarship competition include Ruth Virginia Johnson, Bensenville; Rita Oberg, Palatine; Ira Pearson, Bensenville; Barbara Peters.

Leanord Harmening, Alice Spiecker married

Before the candle-lit altar of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church, Palatine, Miss Alice Spiecker of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spiecker of Lockport, Ill., and Mr. Leonard Harmening, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harmening, of Palatine, were united in holy matrimony Saturday evening, April 10. Rev. Glenn Gumm officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of peach crepe, with sleeve and apron effect, fashioned of dainty lace. Her black accessories were set off with a corsage of white roses.

The attendants were Arthur Hofferkamp of Palatine, and Miss Bernice Blume of Arlington Heights. Miss Blume was attired in blue with black accessories, and her corsage also was of white roses.

Later in the evening a lovely lunch was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harmening. After honeymooning in Aurora, they will be at home at 317 W. Wilson st., Palatine.

Baptized Sunday

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hinrichsen of Arlington Heights was baptized Martha Eleanor last Sunday afternoon in St. Peter Ev. Lutheran Church, the Rev. L. V. Stephan officiating. Martha was born March 18, 1948. The baptism ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Vizcarra of Lombard and Anneliese Wille of Arlington Heights.

ALWAYS SMART ALL WAYS

Martha S, confidential secretary to a top executive, is as smart as she looks—and that's plenty! Dresses like a debutante, but thriftily; eats light lunches; takes a brisk noontime walk (better than make-up). Guards that rosy glow of health with Wanzer's creamy rich milk — three glasses a day, the beauty way. Saves money, looks better, feels tops. Try Martha's method — today. Her favorite number is Enterprise 6700.

More bridal showers given for Leona Gaare

A personal shower was given April 20 by Jeanette Gaare and Marilyn Hayford at the Gaare home in Palatine, in honor of Miss Leona Gaare, who will be married May 15 to Raymond Graff. About 30 guests, consisting of relatives and friends were present.

The refreshment table was centered with a large bride doll and held cake, ice cream, and coffee, which were consumed by the guests after they had viewed the many gifts and played games.

Another shower was given April 23 by Mrs. Bernice Trochim of Elgin, Irene Bergman, and Lorraine Schroeder, who will all be attendants at Miss Gaare's wedding.

The bride-to-be was seated in a chair beneath a gaily decorated sprinkling can, which poured forth streamers, each holding a gift at the end. After the gifts were unwrapped, the thirty guests gathered around the refreshment table, which was centered with a bride and her attendants, dressed in green, mauve and white, the colors to be worn by the bridal party at the wedding.

Miss Gaare and Mr. Graff will be married at 7:30 p. m., at the Palatine Immanuel Lutheran church.

Helpless Giraffe

How the giraffe survives in the jungle is a mystery, because he is awkward, shy and virtually helpless against powerful and swift predatory animals. His only protection derives from his dappled appearance, and an acute sense of hearing.

June Nagel and Irvin Carnehl exchange vows

Community Camera

In glowing candlelight and a setting of palms and baskets of snapdragons, Miss June M. Nagel and Irvin R. Carnehl repeated their marriage vows after Rev. L. V. Stephan, at the St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church, Arlington Heights last Saturday evening. Miss Nagel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Nagel of Arlington Heights, and Mr. Carnehl is the son of Mrs. Henrietta Carnehl of Park Ridge. The flowers decorating the church came from the bridegroom's greenhouse.

During the ceremony Miss Ruth Studtmann sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Ottomar Kolb.

Dressed in a gown of slipper satin, Miss Nagel was given in marriage by her father. Her dress, made by her mother, was fashioned with long fitted bodice, having scalloped neck and waist line, and a full skirt ending in a three yard train. The bride's fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls, and she wore a pearl necklace, which was a gift from the bridegroom. The wedding bouquet was made of white carnations, lilies-of-the-valley, and stephanotis.

Maid of honor for the bride was her sister, Miss Leona Nagel, with two other sisters, Arlene and Phyllis Nagel, serving as bridesmaids. Judith Ann Partridge of North Manchester, Ind., served as flower girl. The bride's attendants were all dressed in blue taffeta "Bo-Peep" gowns. They were styled with fitted bodices, having cap sleeves, buttons down the front to the waistlines, and standing collars; and full skirts, gathered with six, four inch folds in the front.

To set off their dresses the attendants carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations, daisies and blue iris, with all except the maid of honor's being knotted with blue streamers. The maid of honor's was tied with yellow streamers. They all wore yellow carnation wreaths in their hair. The bride gave each girl an Elgin-American compact as a gift.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Louis Carnehl, as best man, with his cousins, Wilbert and Raymond Carnehl, acting as ushers. The bridegroom's attendants were given gifts of initialed belts, which were folded into plastic cigarette boxes.

Mrs. Nagel chose a grey and rose dress to wear at the wedding, while Mrs. Carnehl was gowned in a green dress. Both wore yellow rose corsages.

Four hundred guests attended the reception at the Arlington Heights field house. Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Trier and Marilyn, of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Alfred Dexter, Mrs. Lee Buttof, Mrs. Art Nickasch and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dexter, all of New London, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Galloway, South Bend, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sengstock and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Luedtke, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luedtke, all of Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Partridge, Manchester, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. William Loptein, Sycamore, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Corson and Marilyn, of Genoa, Ill.

The newlyweds will not take a honeymoon until July. Mr. and Mrs. Carnehl are now at home at 2100 N. Talcott, Park Ridge.

Announce Girl Scout cookie sale in May

With adoption of the slogan "Cookies for Camp," 350 Arlington Heights Girl Scouts and Brownies are preparing to launch an annual cookie sale.

Profits are for the summer camping program, according to local girl scout officials.

"Here is a chance for every housewife to get value received and help Girl Scouting at the same time," Mrs. Vernon Sturm, local cookie sale chairman, said.

Order blanks will be distributed to girls so they may begin soliciting sales May 1. A window ticket will be left at each home to indicate to other solicitors that the order for the household has already been taken. It is expected that cookies will be delivered by May 15. No money will be accepted until cookies are delivered.

When the green and brown-clad Girl Scouts sales ladies come to your home, it's your opportunity to lend a hand to Arlington Heights youngsters and add delicious cookies to the menu.

Alice Engelking and Wilbert Kirschke wed

The wedding vows of Alice Engelking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Engelking, Sr., Glen View, and Wilbert Kirschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirschke of Antioch, were repeated after Rev. G. F. Raedeke, April 17. The ceremony was held at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Glenview, before an altar decked with baskets of snapdragons.

"Loves Coronation" and "Oh Perfect Love" were sung during the ceremony by Lorraine Specht of Des Plaines, a friend of the bride.

Miss Engelking, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in traditional white satin, having lace inserts and ending in a long train. Her lace veil was inset with bands of satin and was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was made up of roses and sweetpeas.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Otto Engelking Jr., who wore a blue dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Mildred Brent of Des Plaines served as maid of honor and was attired in pink, and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Both of the bride's attendants wore pearl necklaces and earrings, a gift of the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by John Engelking as best man, and Otto Engelking Jr. as usher.

The bride's mother chose to wear a rose dress for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother was gowned in blue. Both had white rose corsages.

A reception for members of the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Kirschke are honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains and upon their return will make their home at 1832 Prairie st., Glenview.

PEO has guest day

Chapter FW of PEO, Arlington Heights, held their annual guest day, April 22, at the home of Mrs. Robert Malcolm.

Mrs. Bruce Jarvis, of Chicago, formerly of Arlington Heights, gave an interesting book review as part of the program. Miss Ingrid Schueren sang several delightful musical numbers accompanied by Ann Lyman at the piano.

Margaret Hahnfeldt, Lyle Mc Dougall marry

Community Camera

The St. John Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Margaret Hahnfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hahnfeldt, Arlington Hts., and Lyle McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDougall, also of Arlington Heights. The young couple were united in holy wedlock by Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel before an altar banked with palms and flowers. During the ceremony Miss Florance Lunning sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by August Stelling at the organ.

Mr. Hahnfeldt gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding dress was fashioned of skinners satin, styled with sweetheart neckline and long tunic. The edges of the neckline, waistline and tunic were scalloped. The back of the dress buttoned from the neckline to the waist and ended in a long sweeping train. A tiara of seed pearl held her fingertip veil in place. Her bridal bouquet was made up of white roses.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Dorothy Mesko, as matron of honor. Her dress was pink and colonial in style. The bodice was fashioned with marquisette yoke and a drop shoulder effect, the folds of the drop shoulder caught up at five points with for-get-me-not clusters and the full skirt fell over a hoop, and was covered with a shirred overskirt.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Verdell Schwolow, Miss Marie Schimming, Miss Carol Koeppen, with Miss Darlene McDougall, sister of the groom, as junior bridesmaid. They were all dressed in blue identical to the matron of honor. Mrs. Mesko carried an arm bouquet of blue roses, while the bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink roses.

Phyllis Ann McDougall, niece of the groom, acted as flower girl. She was gowned identical to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of blue roses. Howard Biesterfeld, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and was dressed in a tuxedo.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Leo McDougall, with Carl Schwolow, Lawrence Wille, Albert McDougall and Richard Becker acting as ushers.

A green and white print chiffon dress was worn by the bride's mother, and was set off with black accessories. Mrs. McDougall wore a blue silk dress and also had black accessories. The mothers and grandmothers of the bride and groom all had white carnation corsages.

Two hundred and fifty guests attended the wedding reception, which was held at Elk Grove Inn later in the evening. A dinner was held at Stonegate Tavern following the ceremony. Music for dancing at the reception was furnished by Wally Hahnfeld's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougall are honeymooning in Omaha, Nebr., and Griswold, Iowa, and expect to be at home at 3 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, after May 1.

Showers honor Florence Nightingale, bride-to-be

Miss Florence Nightingale, Elk Grove, has been guest of honor at three bridal showers. The first, a kitchen shower, was given by Ruth Flet and Pauline Gehrs, with 15 neighbors and friends of the bride-to-be attending. After the many lovely gifts were opened games were played, followed by refreshments.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. William Pauling and her daughter, Corrine. Twenty-six guests were present to view the opening of gifts, which was followed by games and refreshments.

Mrs. Eleanor Kohl gave a personal shower for Miss Nightingale, which was attended by 14 of her girlfriends. A social evening, complete with refreshments, followed the opening of gifts.

Miss Nightingale will be married to Robert John Kehe, May 8, at 7:30 p. m., at the Elk Grove Lutheran church.

Community Camera

The St. John Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Margaret Hahnfeldt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hahnfeldt, Arlington Hts., and Lyle McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDougall, also of Arlington Heights. The young couple were united in holy wedlock by Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel before an altar banked with palms and flowers. During the ceremony Miss Elorance Lunning sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by August Stelling at the organ.

Mr. Hahnfeldt gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding dress was fashioned of skinners satin, styled with sweetheart neckline and long tunic. The edges of the neckline, waistline and tunic were scalloped. The back of the dress buttoned from the neckline to the waist and ended in a long sweeping train. A tiara of seed pearl held her fingertip veil in place. Her bridal bouquet was made up of white roses.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Dorothy Mesko, as matron of honor. Her dress was pink and colonial in style. The bodice was fashioned with marquisette yoke and a drop shoulder effect, the folds of the drop shoulder caught up at five points with for-get-me-not clusters and the full skirt fell over a hoop, and was covered with a shirred overskirt.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Verdell Schwolow, Miss Marie Schimming, Miss Carol Koeppen, with Miss Darlene McDougall, sister of the groom, as junior bridesmaid. They were all dressed in blue identical to the matron of honor. Mrs. Mesko carried an arm bouquet of blue roses, while the bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink roses.

Phyllis Ann McDougall, niece of the groom, acted as flower girl. She was gowned identical to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of blue roses. Howard Biesterfeld, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and was dressed in a tuxedo.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Leo McDougall, with Carl Schwolow, Lawrence Wille, Albert McDougall and Richard Becker acting as ushers.

A green and white print chiffon dress was worn by the bride's mother, and was set off with black accessories. Mrs. McDougall wore a blue silk dress and also had black accessories. The mothers and grandmothers of the bride and groom all had white carnation corsages.

Two hundred and fifty guests attended the wedding reception, which was held at Elk Grove Inn later in the evening. A dinner was held at Stonegate Tavern following the ceremony. Music for dancing at the reception was furnished by Wally Hahnfeld's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougall are honeymooning in Omaha, Nebr., and Griswold, Iowa, and expect to be at home at 3 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, after May 1.

Showers honor Florence Nightingale, bride-to-be

Miss Florence Nightingale, Elk Grove, has been guest of honor at three bridal showers. The first, a kitchen shower, was given by Ruth Flet and Pauline Gehrs, with 15 neighbors and friends of the bride-to-be attending. After the many lovely gifts were opened games were played, followed by refreshments.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. William Pauling and her daughter, Corrine. Twenty-six guests were present to view the opening of gifts, which was followed by games and refreshments.

Mrs. Eleanor Kohl gave a personal shower for Miss Nightingale, which was attended by 14 of her girlfriends. A social evening, complete with refreshments, followed the opening of gifts.

Miss Nightingale will be married to Robert John Kehe, May 8, at 7:30 p. m., at the Elk Grove Lutheran church.

All star show to be grand amateur series finale

Here it is folks! The long awaited all star show of amateur winners, plus a few added attractions, will be held at the Arlington Theatre May 6.

The amateur shows held the past 10 weeks at the Arlington theatre have been under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Bosch and Mrs. William Scholz, who were ably assisted by Dick Michalski as master of ceremonies, and Mrs. G. M. Eakins as pianist.

Rehearsals of the all star acts are now in progress and the committee is striving to give this show a professional polish. With the all star performance this season's series of amateur shows will come to a close, to be reopened again next fall.

Winners of the April 17 show were Mona Stadell, Hawaiian dance and song number, first place; David Harris, trumpet, second; and Marilyn Kyska, accordion, third. Last Saturday first place honors went to the Slottag Accordion Trio, consisting of Bob, Herb, and Harold Slottag; Shirley Peters, acrobatic dancer, took second; and Jacquelyn Welman, dramatic reading, came in third.

This Saturday will mark the tenth week for the amateurs, and the program will consist of vocal, musical, and dancing numbers.

Still shortage in farm machinery; tries to buy 40-year-old plow

Back in 1908 John Fenz and Son of Schaumburg were selling cultivators and other farm machinery. Last week Paddock Publications were recalling those days in the Way Back When column. Sure enough, Friday morning an inquiry was made at the publication office for the address and phone of Fenz.

Scout leaders hold sixth training session at Camp Baden Powell

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-three scout leaders met in 6th session of Scoutmasters training course conducted by N.W. Suburban council Tuesday evening, April 20th, at Camp Baden Powell.

Stan Huntington ran a 16 mm. colored film with sound, on Troop and Patrol Camping that held everyone's interest and proved highly informative.

This meeting being the last one before the eagerly anticipated overnight hike, which will be held May 15th and 16th at Camp Baden Powell as the final session of the training course, was used in planning the final arrangements such as menus, food, clothing, blankets, and tents.

Some of the menus included fried chicken, spaghetti and meat balls, hunters stew, steaks, vegetables, bacon and eggs, biscuits, pancakes, pudding and ginger cake.

Stan Huntington discoursed at length on civic good turns by the scouts; also the significance of the scout uniform, how and when it should be worn.

Harold Love tried a handkerchief game designed to test the coordination of sight, hearing and muscular control, but after three attempts gave up, admitting this group of scout leaders were way above average in their I.Q. quotient.

Al Whitton announced the overnight hike would start Saturday at 2 p.m. and end 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Insomuch as every one will sleep in tents, he hopes it won't rain, at least not too much.

Scout leaders enjoying the council refreshments are Al Whitton, Stan Huntington, Harold Love, Bill Ziebelle, Paul Byrd, John May, Emil Fanke, Ralph Schultz, Frank Marks, Harry Stanton, John Seipp, Cecil Nixon, Rod Dodds and Dave Kaiser.

Also Norbert Harz, Nick Anson, Howard Frazelle, George Jorgansen, Bill Newport, Bill Davis, George Laubenheimer, H. Flynn and Arnold Hatch.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Here's our super-white orchids for this season. They go to Mr. Creamer, track coach of Arlington Heights Township High School, who brought back the coveted Palatine Relay trophy. Arlington took first as most of you know, not because of any one particular star (we took only one first) but because of our all-around superiority. Well it looks like Arlington will be well represented in the tough competition around this part of the state. It is rumored that we will even have a good bunch of kids downsate for the track meet. It is through the excellent coaching of Coach Creamer and the support of the administration and the athletic office that Arlington is becoming more and more a outstanding athletic contender.

Y.C.

Say you had better make plans to attend the Spring Festival on May 12. The festival is a traditional occasion at Arlington High and is a play fest. The two plays that will be put on will be Arlington's entrant in the Illinois High School Speech Contest "Now is the Time" and a forty minute cutting from "She Stoops to Conquer". This occasion looks to be outstanding entertainment for all. So come—one and all.

Y.C.

On May first all good Arlingtonites will turn toward Taylorville and pray that our entrants in the state music contests take top billing and bring home the bacon. We are depending on Norman Ashcraft, Connie Johnson, Bob Dagget, the Triple Trio, the flute trio, the band, the mixed quartet, and the boys' quartet. Last year Arlington did right well by itself and this year it has an even better chance. Mr. Frederick Schmoyer, music director, is to be complimented on the job that he has done in developing our music department.

Y.C.

Here's just a little comment from this writer. You know when you have to dig up news for a weekly column you become pretty well up on events. When you are up on the events around A.H.T.H.S. you can't help but notice one thing. The amazing extent to which Arlington participates in all types of activities. In the past few months we have seen a superior team entered in the Illinois High School Speech Contest, we have witnessed the excellent showing made by the music department in the Illinois High School Music Contest, we have observed the all-around excellence of our athletic entrants in the various contests. Besides all of these activities, the interest in extra-curricular clubs, projects, and publications is also most noteworthy. The social life at Arlington is most individual in its diversity. Dances, plays, shows, and other forms of social activity give more than adequate opportunity for meeting and associating with one another.

You may ask, Why am I saying this, what am I driving at? Just this. The best type of school is the one in which every student participates. Arlington is fast becoming a high type of school because the administration, under the superb direction of Mr. LeRoy Knoeppel, is encouraging activities that will appeal to all the students. We are proud of our school. But more, we are appreciative that we have a principal who is giving us a chance to be an important part of that school.

The world is now aflame
But it has been for ere the same
Man has been governed by hates and fear
Down the centuries, through the years.
The same promise was made in every man's youth
That he would live by love and truth.
Yet is love and truth what makes us bleed?
Rather it's hateful lust and greed.
If wonder if we will ever learn
That we get only that which we honestly earn
That we find only peace when we realize.
There is nothing true that money buys.
That there is but one hope for this world of men
Our Lord, Our Savior, master and friend.

Stork Feathers

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hildebrandt of Palatine, formerly of Arlington Heights, proudly announce the arrival of a son, John Harold, born April 21, at the Elmhurst hospital. John tipped the scales at 8 pounds 1 ounce. The Hildebrandts also have a daughter, Carol Ann, who is four years old.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thompson, 950 Patton ave., Arlington Heights, April 16, at the St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. The baby weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces at birth and has been named Ronald Gene. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson also have a son, Wayne Robert, who is 4½ years old.

Linda Jo is the name given to the first child born to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Joiner, 10 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Linda was born April 19 at the Elmhurst hospital and weighed in at 7 pounds 3 ounces.

New sales manager

Charles Malody of Palatine is now in full charge of sales of Associated Stationers, parent organization of Horder's in Chicago, according to an announcement received this week. He replaces Al Skibbe, formerly of Palatine and now of Arlington Heights, who resigned his position as vice-president in charge of sales, to become actively engaged in the field of selling.

When Baking Pies

It is not necessary to grease a pie tin, for the pastry contains so much shortening that it cannot stick to the tin when it is baked.

Grand opening for auto 'servicecenter' will be May 1

One of the most modern automobile service stations in Arlington Heights will open officially, May 1, at 7 a. m.

Radford Servicenter, located at 1000 S. State road at the junction of Central road, Arlington Heights, is constructed of haydite block, has a grease-proof tile floor and hinged light posts that can bend toward the ground for bulb cleaning.

The station, which will sell all Standard Oil products, is the only Standard service station in Arlington Heights. It is owned and operated by Bernard Radford, 1024 S. State road. Bill Miller, 201 S. Mitchell, will be service superintendent.

Opening day offer is a free grease job to the first 300 customers who each buy 10 gallons of gas.

The very latest lubricating equipment has been installed. A specially constructed jeep truck will be used for tow service. Few stations, even company owned, are as modern. Mr. Radford has spared no expense in construction costs. Included in forced hot water heat with baseboard radiation, the use of germ proof lights in wash rooms. To top it off, interior lighting rivals installations found in exclusive merchandise shops.

The building is 30 by 50 feet on a 185 by 154 lot. Walter Kroeber was the architect.

Radford, who has lived in Arlington Heights for 10 years and in Prospect Heights before that, was engaged in the advertising display business in Chicago for 28 years.

"The commuting was too much for me," Radford said, "so I decided to sell my business and start a local venture."

Hours at the new servicenter will be 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. weekdays and 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sundays.

Red Cross Relief

Disaster relief operations were carried on by the American Red Cross in 45 states and Alaska last year.

To attend safety conference in Chicago

The second Annual Cook County Traffic Safety Conference will be held this year in the Sherman Hotel in Chicago on Thursday, May 6, in conjunction with the 25th Annual Midwest Safety Conference and Exhibit.

There will be a general inspirational opening session featuring the principal address by Congressman Clifford Davis of the 10th Tennessee District, a national traffic safety authority. President Erickson will at this time also announce the detailed rules of a Traffic Safety Contest for Cook County Towns.

Scheduled for the afternoon will be separate sessions on Public Support. Education, Engineering and Enforcement.

Movies on traffic safety will be shown all afternoon and a comprehensive exhibit of police and industrial equipment has been assembled and will be open to the public all day.

Those planning to attend include President Wm. H. DePue and Chief of Police Charles G. Folz of Palatine and President Albert W. Goedke and Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog of Arlington Heights.

Those planning to attend from Mt. Prospect are: President Maurice B. Pendleton and Chief of Police G. E. Whittenberg.

Fair director

Five veteran officials this week were named as superintendents and directors of premium exhibits for the spectacular Cook County Fair which will be held for 11 days in mammoth Soldier Field, Chicago, Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

Ellsworth Meineke, Arlington Heights, was named director of the bee and honey show. Meineke is president of the Illinois State Bee Keepers Association.

OES May Day dance

A May Day dance, to be held May 1, is being planned for by the Des Plaines Order of Eastern Star. The dance, to be held at the Rand Park field house, Des Plaines, will begin at 9:00 p. m., and will feature Jule Spath and his orchestra.

The members of the Des Plaines OES extend an invitation to the general public to attend this event for an evening of dancing pleasure. Door prizes will be given away.

Tickets will be sold at the door and refreshments will be available at the snack bar.

All star show to be grand amateur series finale

Here it is folks! The long awaited all star show of amateur winners, plus a few added attractions, will be held at the Arlington Theatre May 6.

The amateur shows held the past 10 weeks at the Arlington theatre have been under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Bosch and Mrs. William Scholz, who were ably assisted by Dick Michalski as master of ceremonies, and Mrs. G. M. Eakins as pianist.

Rehearsals of the all star acts are now in progress and the committee is striving to give this show a professional polish. With the all star performance this season's series of amateur shows will come to a close, to be reopened again next fall.

Winners of the April 17 show were Mona Stadell, Hawaiian dance and song number, first place; David Harris, trumpet, second; and Marilyn Kyska, accordion, third. last Saturday first place honors went to the Slottag Accordion Trio, consisting of Bob, Herb, and Harold Slottag; Shirley Peters, acrobatic dancer, took second; and Jacquelyn Welman, dramatic reading, came in third.

This Saturday will mark the tenth week for the amateurs, and the program will consist of vocal, musical, and dancing numbers.

Still shortage in farm machinery; tries to buy 40-year-old plow

Back in 1908 John Fenz and Son of Schaumburg were selling cultivators and other farm machinery. Last week Paddock Publications were recalling those days in the Way Back When column. Sure enough, Friday morning an inquiry was made at the publication office for the address and phone of Fenz.

Scout leaders hold sixth training session at Camp Baden Powell

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-three scout leaders met in 6th session of Scoutmasters training course conducted by N.W. Suburban council Tuesday evening, April 20th, at Camp Baden Powell.

Stan Huntington ran a 16 mm. colored film with sound, on Troop and Patrol Camping that held everyone's interest and proved highly informative.

This meeting being the last one before the eagerly anticipated overnight hike, which will be held May 15th and 16th at Camp Baden Powell as the final session of the training course, was used in planning the final arrangements such as menus, food, clothing, blankets, and tents.

Some of the menus included fried chicken, spaghetti and meat balls, hunters stew, steaks, vegetables, bacon and eggs, biscuits, pancakes, pudding and ginger cake.

Stan Huntington discoursed at length on civic good turns by the scouts; also the significance of the scout uniform, how and when it should be worn.

Harold Love tried a handkerchief game designed to test the coordination of sight, hearing and muscular control, but after three attempts gave up, admitting this group of scout leaders were way above average in their I.Q. quotient.

Al Whitton announced the overnight hike would start Saturday at 2 p.m. and end 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Insomuch as every one will sleep in tents, he hopes it won't rain, at least not too much.

Scout leaders enjoying the council refreshments are Al Whitton, Stan Huntington, Harold Love, Bill Ziebelle, Paul Byrd, John May, Emil Fanke, Ralph Schultz, Frank Marks, Harry Stanton, John Seipp, Cecil Nixon, Rod Dodds and Dave Kaiser.

Also Norbert Harz, Nick Anson, Howard Frazelle, George Jorgansen, Bill Newport, Bill Davis, George Laubenheimer, H. Flynn and Arnold Hatch.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Here's our super-white orchids for this season. They go to Mr. Creamer, track coach of Arlington Heights Township High School, who brought back the coveted Palatine Relay trophy. Arlington took first as most of you know, not because of any one particular star (we took only one first) but because of our all-around superiority. Well it looks like Arlington will be well represented in the tough competition around this part of the state. It is rumored that we will even have a good bunch of kids downsate for the track meet. It is through the excellent coaching of Coach Creamer and the support of the administration and the athletic office that Arlington is becoming more and more a outstanding athletic contender.

Y.C.

Say you had better make plans to attend the Spring Festival on May 12. The festival is a traditional occasion at Arlington High and is a play fest. The two plays that will be put on will be Arlington's entrant in the Illinois High School Speech Contest "Now is the Time" and a forty minute cutting from "She Stoops to Conquer". This occasion looks to be outstanding entertainment for all. So come—one and all.

Y.C.

On May first all good Arlingtonites will turn toward Taylorville and pray that our entrants in the state music contests take top billing and bring home the bacon. We are depending on Norman Ashcraft, Connie Johnson, Bob Dagget, the Triple Trio, the flute trio, the band, the mixed quartet, and the boys' quartet. Last year Arlington did right well by itself and this year it has an even better chance. Mr. Frederick Schmoyer, music director, is to be complimented on the job that he has done in developing our music department.

Y.C.

Here's just a little comment from this writer. You know when you have to dig up news for a weekly column you become pretty well up on events. When you are up on the events around A.H.T.H.S. you can't help but notice one thing. The amazing extent to which Arlington participates in all types of activities. In the past few months we have seen a superior team entered in the Illinois High School Speech Contest, we have witnessed the excellent showing made by the music department in the Illinois High School Music Contest, we have observed the all-around excellence of our athletic entrants in the various contests. Besides all of these activities, the interest in extra-curricular clubs, projects, and publications is also most noteworthy. The social life at Arlington is most individual in its diversity. Dances, plays, shows, and other forms of social activity give more than adequate opportunity for meeting and associating with one another.

You may ask, Why am I saying this, what am I driving at? Just this. The best type of school is the one in which every student participates. Arlington is fast becoming a high type of school because the administration, under the superb direction of Mr. LeRoy Knoeppel, is encouraging activities that will appeal to all the students. We are proud of our school. But more, we are appreciative that we have a principal who is giving us a chance to be an important part of that school.

The world is now aflame
But it has been for ere the same
Man has been governed by hates and fear
Down the centuries, through the years.
The same promise was made in every man's youth
That he would live by love and truth.
Yet is love and truth what makes us bleed?
Rather it's hateful lust and greed.
If wonder if we will ever learn
That we get only that which we honestly earn
That we find only peace when we realize.
There is nothing true that money buys.
That there is but one hope for this world of men
Our Lord, Our Savior, master and friend.

Stork Feathers

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hildebrandt of Palatine, formerly of Arlington Heights, proudly announce the arrival of a son, John Harold, born April 21, at the Elmhurst hospital. John tipped the scales at 8 pounds 1 ounce. The Hildebrandts also have a daughter, Carol Ann, who is four years old.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thompson, 950 Patton ave., Arlington Heights, April 16, at the St. Joseph hospital, Elgin. The baby weighed 7 pounds 7 ounces at birth and has been named Ronald Gene. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson also have a son, Wayne Robert, who is 4½ years old.

Linda Jo is the name given to the first child born to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Joiner, 10 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Linda was born April 19 at the Elmhurst hospital and weighed in at 7 pounds 3 ounces.

New sales manager

Charles Malody of Palatine is now in full charge of sales of Associated Stationers, parent organization of Horder's in Chicago, according to an announcement received this week. He replaces Al Skibbe, formerly of Palatine and now of Arlington Heights, who resigned his position as vice-president in charge of sales, to become actively engaged in the field of selling.

When Baking Pies

It is not necessary to grease a pie tin, for the pastry contains so much shortening that it cannot stick to the tin when it is baked.

Grand opening for auto 'servicecenter' will be May 1

One of the most modern automobile service stations in Arlington Heights will open officially, May 1, at 7 a. m.

Radford Servicenter, located at 1000 S. State road at the junction of Central road, Arlington Heights, is constructed of haydite block, has a grease-proof tile floor and hinged light posts that can bend toward the ground for bulb cleaning.

The station, which will sell all Standard Oil products, is the only Standard service station in Arlington Heights. It is owned and operated by Bernard Radford, 1024 S. State road. Bill Miller, 201 S. Mitchell, will be service superintendent.

Opening day offer is a free grease job to the first 300 customers who each buy 10 gallons of gas.

The very latest lubricating equipment has been installed. A specially constructed jeep truck will be used for tow service. Few stations, even company owned, are as modern. Mr. Radford has spared no expense in construction costs. Included in forced hot water heat with baseboard radiation, the use of germ proof lights in wash rooms. To top it off, interior lighting rivals installations found in exclusive merchandise shops.

The building is 30 by 50 feet on a 185 by 154 lot. Walter Kroeber was the architect.

Radford, who has lived in Arlington Heights for 10 years and in Prospect Heights before that, was engaged in the advertising display business in Chicago for 28 years.

"The commuting was too much for me," Radford said, "so I decided to sell my business and start a local venture."

Hours at the new servicenter will be 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. weekdays and 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sundays.

Activities about Arlington Heights

The Friends of Annabelle club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Frey in Chicago. Mrs. William Luehring and Mrs. Arthur Bray of Arlington Heights attended the meeting.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben K. Babbitt were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Malcomson of Chicago. Sunday the Babbitts and Malcomsons drove to Michigan City, Ind., where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Clarence Horcher entertained her pinochle club last Thursday evening. High honor went to Mrs. Edward Moritz and Mrs. Henry Collignon received consolation prize.

Spending a month at the Joseph Buncik home are Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Shacklee and daughter, Sharon, of Bradenton, Fla. At a recent meeting of the Happy Hour club the members and guests enjoyed a scarf style show which was planned by Mrs. Nora Elliott. A prize Brice scarf was donated by Brian Fabrics Corp., New York, and was won by Mrs. Minnie Barnum, a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clark of Palatine entertained their card club Saturday night. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diegl, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seiger, and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Folkman, all of Arlington Heights.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lloyd of Oak Park.

A guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider is their niece, Mary Katherine Lawler of Chicago. Mary is enjoying spring vacation this week along with the other students from Chicago schools.

Mrs. Henry H. Brown, 211 N. Haddow, who has spent the past seven months visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Suter, in Trinidad, British West Indies, flew to Miami, Fla., earlier this week and is expected home today, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Yeast entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Elliott at a dinner Sunday evening, which was given in honor of the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. Stanley Woznick entertained her bridge club Monday evening. The hostess also received high honors for the evening.

A farewell party in honor of Mrs. William Wilbur was given by Mrs. John Shanklin last Thursday. The Wilburs moved this week to Chadron, Neb., after living here for nine months. They have temporarily sub-let their home to the Ralph Basts, who have been living in Mrs. Ernest Ogrens apartment. Mrs. Ogren, who has been staying in Chicago will return home May 1.

The L. D. Yeast family, 609 N. Dunton, are getting settled in their new home which they purchased recently. Last Friday a lady called and wanted to look at the house. She told them she saw the For Sale ad in the Herald. Mrs. Yeast told her the house was not for sale and that there must be some mistake. It was later discovered that the item appeared in the "Way Back When" column, where said property was offered "for sale or rent" by the late L. G. Helm.

Mrs. Albert Mors entertained her "500" club Tuesday afternoon. A luncheon preceded the afternoon card game.

Dolores Grant spent the past week end at Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., where she attended the Spring Prom with Stanley Mensching of Arlington Heights, who attends Carthage. Miss Grant is a student at the Pier branch of the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Charles Deigl and Mrs. Vance Folkman attended a plastic demonstration Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Jahns in Chicago.

Mrs. Floyd Dobbins entertained her "500" club for luncheon and cards Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Niebuhr will leave today, Thursday, for Gadsden, Ala., where they will visit the Niebuhr's daughter and family. They plan to return home Tuesday.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Shuart, Jr., were Mr. Shuart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl P. Shuart, Sr. of Grand Rapids, Mich. This was the first opportunity that the Senior Shuarts had to visit their new grandson, David.

Arlington high spring dramatic festival May 12

by BILL NORTH

The Arlington Heights township high school dramatics club, the Paint and Wig, will present its annual Dramatics Festival May 12, at eight o'clock, in the high school gymnasium. The program will include a one-act political satire, "Now Is The Time," and a forty-minute cutting from Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer." The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Harold Anderson, speech instructor at the high school.

This year the proceeds of the festival will go to complete the payments on the set of stage draperies, or the cyclorama, that was purchased this year. Last year the class of '47 left its treasury consisting of $400 to be used for the purchase of stage equipment. In addition to this sum, the Paint and Wig Club have given $200 out of their own treasury to help complete the purchase. Howeevr, $400 still remains to be paid on the cyclorama which cost $1000.

The Festival will be a special presentation program at which time the new stage equipment will be dedicated. Be sure you are there to enjoy the program.

The cast for "Now Is the Time" consists of George Schuman, Charlie Beach, Dorothy Schlemmer, JoAnn Frisk, Janet Garrett, Margaret Reidenitz, and Anne Lyman.

The cast for "She Stoops To Conquer" is John Shanley, Joan Mors, Joan Cahill, Jack Hinneberg, Paul Ransdell, George Beach, Don Dewey, Marilyn Schlemmer, and Bill North.

Tickets for the A. H. T. H. S. Dramatic Festival are fifty cents per adult, including tax, and twenty-five cents per student, including tax.

Mrs. M. J. Wickstrom, who makes her home with the Clifford Stockwells, will leave Sunday for a two months trip. She will spend the first month visiting a son and his family at Anoka, Minn., and the second month visiting another son and family in Kansas City, Mo.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Othmer and children of Ft. Atkinson, Wis. The Othmers formerly lived in Arlington Heights.

Tommy Cleaver was guest of honor at a birthday party given for him by his parents. The party was attended by several of his schoolmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Schroeder are enjoying a week's business and pleasure trip through the South. While gone they plan to attend the Kentucky Derby, which is being held this Saturday. Mrs. John D. Schroeder of Chicago is taking care of the Schroeder home and their son, Johnny, while they are gone. Their daughter, Jill, is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. W. Brown, in Chicago.

John Crockett, Brad Godfrey, Lou Barkhausen, Elaine Greschner, Jackie Luehring, Gayle Rascher, Joan Winterbauer and Joan Lindgren spent Saturday afternoon horseback riding at a stable in Park Ridge. Later in the afternoon they enjoyed movies at the Luehring home.

4-H club leaders to attend foods school

4-H Club leaders from DuPage and Cook counties will attend a Foods Training School Thursday, May 6 in Wayne. The school will be an all day meeting starting at 10:00 a.m. and will be held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd C. Moody.

Miss Erma Cottingham, University of Illinois extension specialist in home economics 4-H club work, will conduct the school. Special help will be given in demonstration training. Girls carrying the 4-H foods project may enroll in any of the following foods units: Use of Fruits and Vegetables, Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables, Dairy Foods, Cookies, Outdoor Meals, Quick Breads and Yeast Breads.

'Hansel and Gretel' opera will be sung in Barrington May 8

The opera "Hansel and Gretel", sung in English, will be presented at the Catlow theater, Barrington, Saturday, May 8, by the Citizens Opera company of Chicago.

This will be the first time that opera has come to Barrington.

The matinee performance will start at 2:15 p. m.

A Barrington girl, Miss Muriel Lawrence, will take the part of Gretel in this folk lore fairy tale by Humperdinck.

Miss Lawrence, who is with the San Carlo Opera company, was a soloist with The Northerners on her first radio broadcast April 15.

The Woman's club of Barrington is recommending the performance. Tickets, which are $1.20 for adults and 50 cents for children, tax included, can be purchased at Barrington business houses.

Playground contest aims to save lives

Twelve children under 15 years of age were fatally injured in Cook county traffic accidents between the hours of 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. during the months of June, July, August and September last year, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, revealed.

This represents over 50% of the total number of children killed by automobiles during those four summer months, he continued.

In an effort to decrease this toll, the motoring organization is sponsoring its seventh annual county-wide play yard contest. Cash prizes totaling $1,125 will be offered for the best play yards in five sections of the county.

Individuals and civic organizations may enter the contest by creating a play area in back yards or vacant lots. Yards do not have to be elaborate or contain expensive equipment.

Three cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded for the best play yard in each section of the county. A grand prize of $250 in cash will be awarded for the best play yard in the county.

'Queen for a day' radio show to aid cancer fund

The American Cancer Society is going to be the big winner in the "Vacation Queen" contest on the "Queen For A Day" show (Mutual Broadcasting Company) now underway. Although it isn't a requirement, all entrants are asked to help the $16,000,000 national cancer drive by sending a contribution with their entry.

The contest will continue until May 21 with a daily winner being selected each day, Monday through Friday. Prizes will include such items as deep freeze units, stoves, washing machines. From the daily winners will be chosen the grand prize winner who will receive a 30-day coast-to-coast tour in a deluxe auto trailer. Starting from Hollywood, the tour will lead thru many of the national parks and end up in New York for a week's stay there—then to Bermuda for a short visit—and back to the states again for a week in the mountains of Vermont. The winner may take a suitable companion with her.

Applicants wishing to enter the "Vacation Queen" contest are asked to submit a letter beginning with the phrase "I would like to be a 'Vacation Queen' because," and in 25 words or less explain why.

Bride's Linen

Summer suit of mauve-colored linen, pretty for an informal wedding.

New York's designers are fully prepared for that little wedding right around many a corner this Leap Year. The bride-to-be will be looking for something simple that will come in nicely for her honeymoon travels, and yet prove, once and for all, that she's the prettiest girl who ever said "I do."

The linen suit shown above is in a leading color for Summer, flattering mauve, which goes perfectly with a little flowered hat and any nosegay or bouquet the bride may carry. And, though it is young-looking, its lines are becoming to both the young and not-so-young. The jacket fastens with jeweled buttons and may be worn with or without a blouse.

George Benhart Critically Hurt In Rail Accident

George Benhart, 69, Milwaukee rail agent at Medinah for 30 years, is in a serious condition at the Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, following an accident at the Medinah station late Tuesday afternoon, when an eastbound train hit a baggage truck parked too close to the rails throwing him against the side of the building and pinning him there.

Late Thursday afternoon his condition was reported as "very critical" by hospital officials, and that everything possible was being done to save his life. The exact nature of his injuries had not been determined because his condition would not warrant the making of x-ray pictures. Besides his family doctor, Dr. Richard Bowman of Itasca, and Dr. E. H. Droegemueller of the Milwaukee road, a bone specialist has been called in.

After the accident, which occurred about 5 p. m., first aid was administered at the station by Dr. Bowman. He was taken to the hospital unconscious by the Richert ambulance of Roselle. He had regained consciousness several times at the hospital, it was reported.

Besides holding the position of station agent, Mr. Benhart with his wife operate a store and has charge of the postoffice at Medinah.

Bacterial Fertilizer

Two kinds of bacterial fertilizer have been used on a million acres of Russian farm lands. One sort, named "nitragin," is for legumes and the other, "nitrobacterin," for vegetable, industrial and grain crops. They are sown with the seed and add many pounds of nitrogen per acre. The original method of spreading the bacteria over the fields has been abandoned.

Two injured in truck-car crash

A truck owned by Meyer Coal & Material company and a 1946 Ford sedan driven by Warren Chas. Priban of Hinsdale collided head on at the intersection of route 83 and Elmhurst road in Mt. Prospect Wednesday morning.

Anne Priban, wife of the Ford driver, and Norman Priban, his brother, passengers in the car, were given first aid by Dr. Heller at Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines for head concusions, and were later released.

THT PRIBANS were returning from a fishing trip, and had just rounded the bend to proce edsouth on 83 at the time of the accident. Emil W. Anfeldt of Des Plaines, driving the truck loaded with sand, stated he had intended to continue north on Elmhurst road. The entire left front of the Ford was damaged, and the front bumper on the truck.

An accident occurred at Maple street and Central road in the village Monday afternoon, when a car driven by Mrs. Phyllis E. Pitt, 10 S. William street, traveling west on Central road, was hit by a car driven by Geo. Gracke, 945 Patton avenue, Arlington Heights. Patton, going north on Maple street, hit the left side of Mrs. Pitt's car. No injuries were reported.

Edwin H. Oltendorf, former Palatine business man, dies suddenly

E. H. Oltendorf, who in the 1920's and early 30's was a prominent Palatine contractor, died suddenly April 23 at the home of Mrs. Oltendorf's sister, Mrs. Ema Filkins in Tacoma, Wash., whom they were visiting. Death came a few hours after a heart attack.

The remains are being brought to Elgin and will be resting at the Wolff funeral home, 310 State street, Friday evening. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with interment in Rand Hill.

Mr. Oltendorf leaves his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Schirding, Altadena, California; Mrs. John Friedland, Elgin; Mrs. Harris Helgesen, Palatine; and Mrs. Russell La Point, Arlington, Va.; 9 grandchildren, two brothers, Franklin and Elmer, Palatine; and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Sturm, Elgin.

Deceased was born in Bartlett, where he spent his boyhood. He married Miss Ida Strand at Arkdale, Wis. The family later moved to Palatine, where Mr. Oltendorf built a large part of pavement in Palatine and many of the large roadway intersections of this area, including the underpass at Route 12 and Dundee roads, and the concrete work at Routes 53 and 58.

As a resident of Palatine, he took an active part in civic affairs, and was a director of the State Bank of Palatine.

Due to poor health he was forced to retire twelve years ago and seeking a different climate, moved to Hot Springs, Ark. The past five years Mr. and Mrs. Oltendorf made their home at Shreeveport, La. They spent two months with their daughter, Dorothy, in California, and after a visit in Tacoma were looking forward to making their permanent home with their daughter, Iva in Elgin.

Plan new gas line in Lake county

Under a petition filed this week the Illinois Commerce Commission, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois proposes construction of a 22-mile-long "holder pipe" in Lake county capable of storing 16,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

The 20-inch steel "pipeline," wihch will be buried under the utility's right-of-way now carrying its 132,000 volt electric transmission lines, will reach from Volo to Waukegan. Completion of the project, if approved by the commission, is expected before next winter.

Company officials said the new Volo-Waukegan "holder pipe" would not only serve as an added protection to gas supplies on cold days when demands reach their peaks but could also be utilized on off-peak summer days to supply gas for making electricity at the utility's electric generating station at Waukegan, eastern terminus of the proposed new pipe.

Wills filed

EMILIE GEHRKE

In Probate court the estate of the late Mrs. Emilie Gehrke, late of Arlington Heights, has been opened. It is estimated to be worth $2,600. Her heirs are 3 daughters and two sons. They are: Helen Lukas, Cleveland, O.; Ella Hason, Lexington, Ky.; Lydia Wernnich, Columbus, O.; Arthur Gehrke, Des Plaines and William Gehrke, Elgin. Arthur was named administrator of the estate.

SOPHIE SCHROEDER

Mrs. Sophie Schroeder, late of Des Plaines, who died March 14, left an estimated $40,000 estate. Her will has been admitted to Probate. She left her daughter, Anna Schuemann, of Des Plaines $200 and a 1/5 share in the residue of her estate. Similarly she left her son, William, of Chicago $200 and 1/5. Anne Schroeder, Chicago, widow of a deceased son, gets another 1/5 share. A 1/5 share is ordered to be divided between five grandchildren. A 1/10 share is left Mrs. Marion Schroeder, of Niles, widow of another son and a 1/10 share is given her daughter, Marion William and Otto Schroeder are named executors of the will and they and daughter Anne are to act as trustees of a trust to hold and distribute the residue of the estate.

ALBERT FISCHER

The will of Albert L. Fischer, of Skokie, who died February 15 leaving $15,500, has been admitted to probate. He left it all to his widow, May. Their daughter, Marcelle Fischer was named executive of the will.

New Neighbors . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Allison
821 N. Harvard avenue
Arlington Heights

Before Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Allison, 821 N. Harvard, moved to Arlington Heights several months ago, they lived in Streator, Ill.

"We like Arlington Heights more and more each day we live here," Mrs. Allison told the inquiring reporter, "and are looking forward to spring and summer when flowers and trees will be in bloom.

The Allison's have one son, Jeffery, who was one year old Saturday, March 13. A combination birthday party was held March 14 as Mrs. Allison's grandmother was 70 on Monday, March 15.

"It was a wonderful party for great grandmother and great grandson," Mrs. Allison commented.

Mr. Allison manages a Sinclair service station.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ritter
1008 N. Illinois avenue
Arlington Heights

Newest addition to the C. E. Ritter family, 1008 N. Illinois ave., Arlington Heights, is a little boy named Thomas Albert, born January 14. The family has nicknamed him Terry.

Terry has a big sister, Patricia, who was three April 4.

"She is a cheerful young miss," her mother says, "and goes to Sunday school and loves to sing."

Mr. Ritter is employed at the Webber Addressing Machine company in Mt. Prospect. He was born and raised in Chicago, while Mrs. Ritter is from Oak Park. Before coming to the City of Good Neighbors, these folks lived for three years in New Brunswick, N. J.

For hobbies, both enjoy reading and playing golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Lindgren
714 S. Elmhurst road
Mt. Prospect

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Lindgren, 714 S. Elhmhurst road, Mt. Prospect, moved to Arlington Heights February 8 from Des Plaines, where they lived for a year.

"Before that, we lived in Dayton, Ohio, but we never had a home or home town we've liked half as much as we do Mt. Prospect," Lillian Lindgren told the reporter.

The Lindgrens, who had been house-hunting for more than a year, heard about Mt. Prospect through her mother-in-law, chose a site here, and built a home.

"But it didn't work that fast," Mrs. Lindgren added, "because several strikes held up construction so we had to wait a year before we could move in."

Ralph Lindgren is a tool engineer in LaGrange, where he has worked for six years.

So far the Lindgrens, who have been busy getting organized, haven't had too much time to get acquainted with all their neighbors, "but we're certainly going to do something about it come spring."

They also would like to have a dog after they get settled. Their other mutual hobby is golf, and, of course, gardening, "which we're going to get busy at in our own yard as soon as we're sure spring is here to stay."

'Spring look in houses' tour at Barrington

The Garden club of Barrington will present The Spring Look in Houses, Flowers and What to Wear on Saturday, May 15, from a. m. to 5 p. m.

Four of the loveliest places in the estate section of Barrington Countryside will be open to the public that day, for the admission price of $1.50 plus tax. A hot lunch will be served between 12 and 2 p. m. for $.75. Tickets can be obtained on that day at the Northwestern station in the village of Barrington, or at any of the four homes.

The route will start at the station and thence to "Evergreen Hill," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Godehn, on Otis road. Lunch will be served here.

THENCE to "Oldfields," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Cheney. "Oldfields" has an interesting history with Indian occupation surrounding it for a background. George Ebel, a trader among the Algonquin people, became an extensive land owner, building a small house that is the nucleus of the present one. He deeded the original house in 1874 to his son with 100 acres of land. Algonquin township was incorporated in 1850 in McHenry county.

Across the road from "Oldfields" is "Meadowhill Farm," the vast and beautiful estate of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Hardy.

THENCE to "Oak Brae" the lovely wooded estate of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Wold on County Line road. Chas. A. Stevens will send out a van-load of their glamorous wax mannequins, which will be dressed in the newest of the new, from the Designer's Shop and their Farmington Shop. The beautiful mannequins will be appropriately placed around a breakfast table, a fancy tea-table, a formal dinner table, et cetera, and will be further enhanced by wearing fresh flowers to be arranged by the Garden club members. The ultra-modern kitchen at "Oak Brae", with its ice cream soda bar, will be an added attraction.

Activities about Arlington Heights

The Friends of Annabelle club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Frey in Chicago. Mrs. William Luehring and Mrs. Arthur Bray of Arlington Heights attended the meeting.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben K. Babbitt were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Malcomson of Chicago. Sunday the Babbitts and Malcomsons drove to Michigan City, Ind., where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Clarence Horcher entertained her pinochle club last Thursday evening. High honor went to Mrs. Edward Moritz and Mrs. Henry Collignon received consolation prize.

Spending a month at the Joseph Buncik home are Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Shacklee and daughter, Sharon, of Bradenton, Fla. At a recent meeting of the Happy Hour club the members and guests enjoyed a scarf style show which was planned by Mrs. Nora Elliott. A prize Brice scarf was donated by Brian Fabrics Corp., New York, and was won by Mrs. Minnie Barnum, a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clark of Palatine entertained their card club Saturday night. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diegl, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seiger, and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Folkman, all of Arlington Heights.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lloyd of Oak Park.

A guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider is their niece, Mary Katherine Lawler of Chicago. Mary is enjoying spring vacation this week along with the other students from Chicago schools.

Mrs. Henry H. Brown, 211 N. Haddow, who has spent the past seven months visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Suter, in Trinidad, British West Indies, flew to Miami, Fla., earlier this week and is expected home today, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Yeast entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Elliott at a dinner Sunday evening, which was given in honor of the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. Stanley Woznick entertained her bridge club Monday evening. The hostess also received high honors for the evening.

A farewell party in honor of Mrs. William Wilbur was given by Mrs. John Shanklin last Thursday. The Wilburs moved this week to Chadron, Neb., after living here for nine months. They have temporarily sub-let their home to the Ralph Basts, who have been living in Mrs. Ernest Ogrens apartment. Mrs. Ogren, who has been staying in Chicago will return home May 1.

The L. D. Yeast family, 609 N. Dunton, are getting settled in their new home which they purchased recently. Last Friday a lady called and wanted to look at the house. She told them she saw the For Sale ad in the Herald. Mrs. Yeast told her the house was not for sale and that there must be some mistake. It was later discovered that the item appeared in the "Way Back When" column, where said property was offered "for sale or rent" by the late L. G. Helm.

Mrs. Albert Mors entertained her "500" club Tuesday afternoon. A luncheon preceded the afternoon card game.

Dolores Grant spent the past week end at Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., where she attended the Spring Prom with Stanley Mensching of Arlington Heights, who attends Carthage. Miss Grant is a student at the Pier branch of the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Charles Deigl and Mrs. Vance Folkman attended a plastic demonstration Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Jahns in Chicago.

Mrs. Floyd Dobbins entertained her "500" club for luncheon and cards Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Niebuhr will leave today, Thursday, for Gadsden, Ala., where they will visit the Niebuhr's daughter and family. They plan to return home Tuesday.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Shuart, Jr., were Mr. Shuart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl P. Shuart, Sr. of Grand Rapids, Mich. This was the first opportunity that the Senior Shuarts had to visit their new grandson, David.

Mrs. M. J. Wickstrom, who makes her home with the Clifford Stockwells, will leave Sunday for a two months trip. She will spend the first month visiting a son and his family at Anoka, Minn., and the second month visiting another son and family in Kansas City, Mo.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Othmer and children of Ft. Atkinson, Wis. The Othmers formerly lived in Arlington Heights.

Tommy Cleaver was guest of honor at a birthday party given for him by his parents. The party was attended by several of his schoolmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Schroeder are enjoying a week's business and pleasure trip through the South. While gone they plan to attend the Kentucky Derby, which is being held this Saturday. Mrs. John D. Schroeder of Chicago is taking care of the Schroeder home and their son, Johnny, while they are gone. Their daughter, Jill, is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. W. Brown, in Chicago.

John Crockett, Brad Godfrey, Lou Barkhausen, Elaine Greschner, Jackie Luehring, Gayle Rascher, Joan Winterbauer and Joan Lindgren spent Saturday afternoon horseback riding at a stable in Park Ridge. Later in the afternoon they enjoyed movies at the Luehring home.

Arlington high spring dramatic festival May 12

by BILL NORTH

The Arlington Heights township high school dramatics club, the Paint and Wig, will present its annual Dramatics Festival May 12, at eight o'clock, in the high school gymnasium. The program will include a one-act political satire, "Now Is The Time," and a forty-minute cutting from Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer." The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Harold Anderson, speech instructor at the high school.

This year the proceeds of the festival will go to complete the payments on the set of stage draperies, or the cyclorama, that was purchased this year. Last year the class of '47 left its treasury consisting of $400 to be used for the purchase of stage equipment. In addition to this sum, the Paint and Wig Club have given $200 out of their own treasury to help complete the purchase. Howeevr, $400 still remains to be paid on the cyclorama which cost $1000.

The Festival will be a special presentation program at which time the new stage equipment will be dedicated. Be sure you are there to enjoy the program.

The cast for "Now Is the Time" consists of George Schuman, Charlie Beach, Dorothy Schlemmer, JoAnn Frisk, Janet Garrett, Margaret Reidenitz, and Anne Lyman.

The cast for "She Stoops To Conquer" is John Shanley, Joan Mors, Joan Cahill, Jack Hinneberg, Paul Ransdell, George Beach, Don Dewey, Marilyn Schlemmer, and Bill North.

Tickets for the A. H. T. H. S. Dramatic Festival are fifty cents per adult, including tax, and twenty-five cents per student, including tax.

4-H club leaders to attend foods school

4-H Club leaders from DuPage and Cook counties will attend a Foods Training School Thursday, May 6 in Wayne. The school will be an all day meeting starting at 10:00 a.m. and will be held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd C. Moody.

Miss Erma Cottingham, University of Illinois extension specialist in home economics 4-H club work, will conduct the school. Special help will be given in demonstration training. Girls carrying the 4-H foods project may enroll in any of the following foods units: Use of Fruits and Vegetables, Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables, Dairy Foods, Cookies, Outdoor Meals, Quick Breads and Yeast Breads.

'Hansel and Gretel' opera will be sung in Barrington May 8

The opera "Hansel and Gretel", sung in English, will be presented at the Catlow theater, Barrington, Saturday, May 8, by the Citizens Opera company of Chicago.

This will be the first time that opera has come to Barrington.

The matinee performance will start at 2:15 p. m.

A Barrington girl, Miss Muriel Lawrence, will take the part of Gretel in this folk lore fairy tale by Humperdinck.

Miss Lawrence, who is with the San Carlo Opera company, was a soloist with The Northerners on her first radio broadcast April 15.

The Woman's club of Barrington is recommending the performance. Tickets, which are $1.20 for adults and 50 cents for children, tax included, can be purchased at Barrington business houses.

Playground contest aims to save lives

Twelve children under 15 years of age were fatally injured in Cook county traffic accidents between the hours of 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. during the months of June, July, August and September last year, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, revealed.

This represents over 50% of the total number of children killed by automobiles during those four summer months, he continued.

In an effort to decrease this toll, the motoring organization is sponsoring its seventh annual county-wide play yard contest. Cash prizes totaling $1,125 will be offered for the best play yards in five sections of the county.

Individuals and civic organizations may enter the contest by creating a play area in back yards or vacant lots. Yards do not have to be elaborate or contain expensive equipment.

Three cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded for the best play yard in each section of the county. A grand prize of $250 in cash will be awarded for the best play yard in the county.

'Queen for a day' radio show to aid cancer fund

The American Cancer Society is going to be the big winner in the "Vacation Queen" contest on the "Queen For A Day" show (Mutual Broadcasting Company) now underway. Although it isn't a requirement, all entrants are asked to help the $16,000,000 national cancer drive by sending a contribution with their entry.

The contest will continue until May 21 with a daily winner being selected each day, Monday through Friday. Prizes will include such items as deep freeze units, stoves, washing machines. From the daily winners will be chosen the grand prize winner who will receive a 30-day coast-to-coast tour in a deluxe auto trailer. Starting from Hollywood, the tour will lead thru many of the national parks and end up in New York for a week's stay there—then to Bermuda for a short visit—and back to the states again for a week in the mountains of Vermont. The winner may take a suitable companion with her.

Applicants wishing to enter the "Vacation Queen" contest are asked to submit a letter beginning with the phrase "I would like to be a 'Vacation Queen' because," and in 25 words or less explain why.

Bride's Linen

Summer suit of mauve-colored linen, pretty for an informal wedding.

New York's designers are fully prepared for that little wedding right around many a corner this Leap Year. The bride-to-be will be looking for something simple that will come in nicely for her honeymoon travels, and yet prove, once and for all, that she's the prettiest girl who ever said "I do."

The linen suit shown above is in a leading color for Summer, flattering mauve, which goes perfectly with a little flowered hat and any nosegay or bouquet the bride may carry. And, though it is young-looking, its lines are becoming to both the young and not-so-young. The jacket fastens with jeweled buttons and may be worn with or without a blouse.

George Benhart Critically Hurt In Rail Accident

George Benhart, 69, Milwaukee rail agent at Medinah for 30 years, is in a serious condition at the Memorial hospital, Elmhurst, following an accident at the Medinah station late Tuesday afternoon, when an eastbound train hit a baggage truck parked too close to the rails throwing him against the side of the building and pinning him there.

Late Thursday afternoon his condition was reported as "very critical" by hospital officials, and that everything possible was being done to save his life. The exact nature of his injuries had not been determined because his condition would not warrant the making of x-ray pictures. Besides his family doctor, Dr. Richard Bowman of Itasca, and Dr. E. H. Droegemueller of the Milwaukee road, a bone specialist has been called in.

After the accident, which occurred about 5 p. m., first aid was administered at the station by Dr. Bowman. He was taken to the hospital unconscious by the Richert ambulance of Roselle. He had regained consciousness several times at the hospital, it was reported.

Besides holding the position of station agent, Mr. Benhart with his wife operate a store and has charge of the postoffice at Medinah.

Bacterial Fertilizer

Two kinds of bacterial fertilizer have been used on a million acres of Russian farm lands. One sort, named "nitragin," is for legumes and the other, "nitrobacterin," for vegetable, industrial and grain crops. They are sown with the seed and add many pounds of nitrogen per acre. The original method of spreading the bacteria over the fields has been abandoned.

New Neighbors . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Allison
821 N. Harvard avenue
Arlington Heights

Before Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Allison, 821 N. Harvard, moved to Arlington Heights several months ago, they lived in Streator, Ill.

"We like Arlington Heights more and more each day we live here," Mrs. Allison told the inquiring reporter, "and are looking forward to spring and summer when flowers and trees will be in bloom.

The Allison's have one son, Jeffery, who was one year old Saturday, March 13. A combination birthday party was held March 14 as Mrs. Allison's grandmother was 70 on Monday, March 15.

"It was a wonderful party for great grandmother and great grandson," Mrs. Allison commented.

Mr. Allison manages a Sinclair service station.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ritter
1008 N. Illinois avenue
Arlington Heights

Newest addition to the C. E. Ritter family, 1008 N. Illinois ave., Arlington Heights, is a little boy named Thomas Albert, born January 14. The family has nicknamed him Terry.

Terry has a big sister, Patricia, who was three April 4.

"She is a cheerful young miss," her mother says, "and goes to Sunday school and loves to sing."

Mr. Ritter is employed at the Webber Addressing Machine company in Mt. Prospect. He was born and raised in Chicago, while Mrs. Ritter is from Oak Park. Before coming to the City of Good Neighbors, these folks lived for three years in New Brunswick, N. J.

For hobbies, both enjoy reading and playing golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Lindgren
714 S. Elmhurst road
Mt. Prospect

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Lindgren, 714 S. Elhmhurst road, Mt. Prospect, moved to Arlington Heights February 8 from Des Plaines, where they lived for a year.

"Before that, we lived in Dayton, Ohio, but we never had a home or home town we've liked half as much as we do Mt. Prospect," Lillian Lindgren told the reporter.

The Lindgrens, who had been house-hunting for more than a year, heard about Mt. Prospect through her mother-in-law, chose a site here, and built a home.

"But it didn't work that fast," Mrs. Lindgren added, "because several strikes held up construction so we had to wait a year before we could move in."

Ralph Lindgren is a tool engineer in LaGrange, where he has worked for six years.

So far the Lindgrens, who have been busy getting organized, haven't had too much time to get acquainted with all their neighbors, "but we're certainly going to do something about it come spring."

They also would like to have a dog after they get settled. Their other mutual hobby is golf, and, of course, gardening, "which we're going to get busy at in our own yard as soon as we're sure spring is here to stay."

'Spring look in houses' tour at Barrington

The Garden club of Barrington will present The Spring Look in Houses, Flowers and What to Wear on Saturday, May 15, from a. m. to 5 p. m.

Four of the loveliest places in the estate section of Barrington Countryside will be open to the public that day, for the admission price of $1.50 plus tax. A hot lunch will be served between 12 and 2 p. m. for $.75. Tickets can be obtained on that day at the Northwestern station in the village of Barrington, or at any of the four homes.

The route will start at the station and thence to "Evergreen Hill," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Godehn, on Otis road. Lunch will be served here.

THENCE to "Oldfields," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Cheney. "Oldfields" has an interesting history with Indian occupation surrounding it for a background. George Ebel, a trader among the Algonquin people, became an extensive land owner, building a small house that is the nucleus of the present one. He deeded the original house in 1874 to his son with 100 acres of land. Algonquin township was incorporated in 1850 in McHenry county.

Across the road from "Oldfields" is "Meadowhill Farm," the vast and beautiful estate of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Hardy.

THENCE to "Oak Brae" the lovely wooded estate of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Wold on County Line road. Chas. A. Stevens will send out a van-load of their glamorous wax mannequins, which will be dressed in the newest of the new, from the Designer's Shop and their Farmington Shop. The beautiful mannequins will be appropriately placed around a breakfast table, a fancy tea-table, a formal dinner table, et cetera, and will be further enhanced by wearing fresh flowers to be arranged by the Garden club members. The ultra-modern kitchen at "Oak Brae", with its ice cream soda bar, will be an added attraction.

Edwin H. Oltendorf, former Palatine business man, dies suddenly

E. H. Oltendorf, who in the 1920's and early 30's was a prominent Palatine contractor, died suddenly April 23 at the home of Mrs. Oltendorf's sister, Mrs. Ema Filkins in Tacoma, Wash., whom they were visiting. Death came a few hours after a heart attack.

The remains are being brought to Elgin and will be resting at the Wolff funeral home, 310 State street, Friday evening. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with interment in Rand Hill.

Mr. Oltendorf leaves his wife, four daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Schirding, Altadena, California; Mrs. John Friedland, Elgin; Mrs. Harris Helgesen, Palatine; and Mrs. Russell La Point, Arlington, Va.; 9 grandchildren, two brothers, Franklin and Elmer, Palatine; and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Sturm, Elgin.

Deceased was born in Bartlett, where he spent his boyhood. He married Miss Ida Strand at Arkdale, Wis. The family later moved to Palatine, where Mr. Oltendorf built a large part of pavement in Palatine and many of the large roadway intersections of this area, including the underpass at Route 12 and Dundee roads, and the concrete work at Routes 53 and 58.

As a resident of Palatine, he took an active part in civic affairs, and was a director of the State Bank of Palatine.

Due to poor health he was forced to retire twelve years ago and seeking a different climate, moved to Hot Springs, Ark. The past five years Mr. and Mrs. Oltendorf made their home at Shreeveport, La. They spent two months with their daughter, Dorothy, in California, and after a visit in Tacoma were looking forward to making their permanent home with their daughter, Iva in Elgin.

Plan new gas line in Lake county

Under a petition filed this week the Illinois Commerce Commission, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois proposes construction of a 22-mile-long "holder pipe" in Lake county capable of storing 16,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

The 20-inch steel "pipeline," wihch will be buried under the utility's right-of-way now carrying its 132,000 volt electric transmission lines, will reach from Volo to Waukegan. Completion of the project, if approved by the commission, is expected before next winter.

Company officials said the new Volo-Waukegan "holder pipe" would not only serve as an added protection to gas supplies on cold days when demands reach their peaks but could also be utilized on off-peak summer days to supply gas for making electricity at the utility's electric generating station at Waukegan, eastern terminus of the proposed new pipe.

Wills filed

EMILIE GEHRKE

In Probate court the estate of the late Mrs. Emilie Gehrke, late of Arlington Heights, has been opened. It is estimated to be worth $2,600. Her heirs are 3 daughters and two sons. They are: Helen Lukas, Cleveland, O.; Ella Hason, Lexington, Ky.; Lydia Wernnich, Columbus, O.; Arthur Gehrke, Des Plaines and William Gehrke, Elgin. Arthur was named administrator of the estate.

SOPHIE SCHROEDER

Mrs. Sophie Schroeder, late of Des Plaines, who died March 14, left an estimated $40,000 estate. Her will has been admitted to Probate. She left her daughter, Anna Schuemann, of Des Plaines $200 and a 1/5 share in the residue of her estate. Similarly she left her son, William, of Chicago $200 and 1/5. Anne Schroeder, Chicago, widow of a deceased son, gets another 1/5 share. A 1/5 share is ordered to be divided between five grandchildren. A 1/10 share is left Mrs. Marion Schroeder, of Niles, widow of another son and a 1/10 share is given her daughter, Marion William and Otto Schroeder are named executors of the will and they and daughter Anne are to act as trustees of a trust to hold and distribute the residue of the estate.

ALBERT FISCHER

The will of Albert L. Fischer, of Skokie, who died February 15 leaving $15,500, has been admitted to probate. He left it all to his widow, May. Their daughter, Marcelle Fischer was named executive of the will.

New officers inducted for VFW ladies auxiliary

Community Camera

Ladies auxiliary of VFW Post 981, Arlington Heights, installed officers at an afternoon ceremony Sunday, April 25, at Arlington Heights field house.

Picked for Interlochen

Christopher Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kent, 611 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, has been chosen for membership in the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., for the coming summer, according to an announcement today from Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president of the camp. Entrance requirements are on the merit basis. Chris is a pupil of Frederick D. Schmayer of Arlington Heights and a student in the North public school.

The National Music camp has become world famous as one of America's outstanding educational and cultural projects. Its membership includes more than a thousand young musicians and artists chosen from nearly every state and many foreign countries. A faculty of nearly 100 prominent musicians and educators offers instruction in all branches of music, art, radio, drama, dance and other related arts.

The 21st season's programs will include about 200 public performances and numerous broadcasts over local stations.

Connie Johnson, an Arlington Heights high school student, expects to spend her second year at Interlochen this summer.

Lorraine Knoll, Harold Laschinaki married

A pretty wedding was staged when Miss Lorraine Knoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knoll, of Northbrook, married Harold Laschinaki Saturday, April 24, at St. Jonh's Lutheran church. Rev. W. J. Fletchner officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and white fingertip veil. She carried white roses. Matron of honor was Carol Betty Efflandt of Northfield, who wore a gown of yellow dotted swiss and carried roses. Bridesmaids were Ruth McGovern of Spring Grove and Violet Knoll of Northbrook, who wore green dotted swiss gowns and carried red roses.

Flower girl was Susan Teufert, of Valparaiso, Ind., who was dressed in white net and carried a small bouquet of roses. Jerry Zeiger, of Morton Grove, was the ring bearer. Best man was Bill Reimer of Park Ridge and ushers were William Reimer, also of Park Ridge, and Elmer Knoll of Northbrook.

A reception for 400 guests was held at Wheeling gym. The couple will make their home at Chaple Court, Northbrook, after a honeymoon in Wisconsin.

May Dance to mark grand opening of Paul's Grove

Double grand opening nights will be held this week end, May 1 and 2, at Paul's Grove, Lake street and Medinah roads, near Bloomingdale.

Dancing in the grand new modern fireproof ballroom can be enjoyed on both nights, with Mel's orchestra furnishing the music for modern and old time dancing.

Paul M. Werner, proprietor of Paul's Grove, extends an invitation to the general public to attend his grand opening nights and see for themselves the unique lighting and decorations that adorn the ballroom, which is large enough to accommodate 1000 people.

Former Palatine man in orchestra concert

When the 110-member Chicago Business Men's Orchestra plays the last concert of its current season in Orchestra Hall at 8:15 Friday, April 30, this community will be represented by a former Palatine high school teacher and orchestra director, Milton Sizer, whose home is in Oak Park. Mr. Sizer, a member of the orchestra's violin section, is now a research physicist at Armour Research Foundation and a teacher of violin in Oak Park.

The concert is particularly unique because of the unusual solo instrument which will be featured and because it will be the Chicago premiere of a work by the world-famous Russian composer, Gliere. Lois Bannerman, famed youthful harpist, will be the soloist when the orchestra plays the second performance ever given of Gliere's Concerto for Harp and Orchestra. Toscanini and the NBC Symphony in New York gave the work its first performance.

In addition to the concerto the program will include, the Leonore Overture number III of Beethoven, Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony, and the Polka and Fugue from Schwanda the Bagpiper by Weinberger.

Evening guild to sponsor card party

The Arlington Heights field house will be filled to capacity for the public card party Tuesday evening, May 4, at 8:00 p. m., which is being given for the benefit of the St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect.

The St. John's Evening Guild, of which Mrs. George A. Adam is president, is sponsoring this party. The following women of Arlington Heights are assisting: Mesdames Robert Geddes, Arvid Carlson, Quinton Ford, Russell Ford, Herbert Haynesworth, John Niven, George Price, Earl Woodward, William Winkler.

Russell Thomas, Fred Taillon, Alfred Hall, Alan Drachman, Robert White, T. A. Williams, C. C. Green, A. B. Moore, and Miss Betty Miles.

A report by the awards committee showed that merchants and industrialists have been so generous that it looks possible that an award may be given to every person attending.

COOPERATION seems to be the key word for success, therefore this card party should be a pleasant evening of fun for all attending.

Miss Will Colmar, chairman of the refreshments, wishes to announce that the donations of cake may be brought to the field house the evening of the card party, or left in the undercroft of the church before noon May 4.

Miss Betty Miles, chairman of tickets and reservations, announces that a few tickets are still available and may be had by calling Mount Prospect 1266-M or Arlington Heights 1513-W.

Two students win scholarships

Four students from St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Hts., participated at the annual scholarship examinations offered by Luther Institute of Chicago.

About 150 pupils from Lutheran schools in the Chicago area took the tests covering a 3-hour period.

Joan Timmerman of Arlington Heights Lutheran school, achieved the highest rating of any participant and Lorraine Meyer, her classmate, came in fourth. Both girls were awarded scholarships.

St. Peter Lutheran school also participated in the annual Lutheran talent fesival held at Concordia Teachers college, River Forest. Joan Timmerman won the spelling championship over contestants from various schools in the Chicago area.

Donald Wille, seventh grade at St. Peter, won a superior rating on a collection of match covers entered in the hobby events. Donald has over 3,000 match covers collected from almost every state in the union.

Lenore Paulmeyer, eighth grade, received an excellent rating on a design painting entered in the art event.

In a recent voters meeting of St. Peter Lutheran congregation, it was resolved to abolish departmental teaching in its elementary school.

This step was taken in the best interests of the children. Each teacher will now teach all subjects in his own room. The arrangement will be effective this fall.

It has been proven that more effective training can be given when children are with the same teacher over a longer period of time. Schools are not merely existent to pour out subject matter, but to train and guide children to take their place in life. Thus, a teacher should learn to know a child from all sides. Departmentalization tends toward the child's confusion, poor coordination, ineffective correlation and unnecessary disorder.

Seek goats to aid Europe and Japs

An interdenominational drive among some churches is being made to collect goats for the aid of Europe and Japan, it was learned this week by Mrs. Frank Erickson of Bensenville.

Mrs. Erickson, as a member of the American goat society, received a communication relative to the drive, listing five provisions.

1. Goats must be young, yearlings preferred, bred if possible, up to 4 years old.
2. Goats must be 50% Seanen breed, though other breeds may be accepted.
3. Only about 5% of the bucks are acceptable. They must be purebred and hornless, or dehorned.
4. Does must be past weaning age, up to 4 years old.
5. Blood tests for Bangs disease and TB will be made before shipment.

Those wishing to donate or sell goats for this aid to strick en people, are urged to contact Mrs. Erickson at Bens. 167-W-2.

ANNOUNCE THE OFFICIAL OPENING ON

Saturday, May 1st

OF THEIR NEWLY REMODELED AND ENLARGED

Real Estate, Loans and Insurance Office and Currency Exchange

We have had the privilege of furnishing a currency exchange service to the people of Arlington Heights and vicinity for the past 16 years. Started purely as an accommodation to the general public the volume of business grew to such proportions that larger quarters were needed and it was deemed advisable to conduct that phase of the business of this firm separate and apart from our other activities.

Necessary building alterations have been completed and today our Currency Exchange has its own quarters, devoted exclusively to the cashing of checks, sale of money orders, preparation of applications for state license plates, drivers' licenses, car transfers, etc.

The firm of Krause & Kehe was organized in 1926 primarily to handle real estate. It has had a part in the realty development of Arlington Heights and surrounding territory by participation in the sale and purchase of many farms, much vacant property and hundreds of homes. During these years we have been fortunate to build up a clientele who depend on us to not only handle their realty matters, but also to advise them on the purchase of first mortgages and other investments in the realty line.

Representing well known insurance companies, that branch of our business has also reached major proportions.

Our enlarged offices enable us to better serve our customers, giving to each undivided attention during personal interviews.

We are proud of our remodeled offices, which with the changes made in the quarters of other local firms the past year give to Arlington Heights business district the "new look" that marks a modern and progressive community.

There are a number of tradesmen who should participate in and have a share of any kind words or compliments that may be said about the new offices of this firm. Their attractiveness is due in part to the good workmanship of

Ladies auxiliary of VFW Post 981, Arlington Heights, installed officers at an afternoon ceremony Sunday, April 25, at Arlington Heights field house.

Christopher Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kent, 611 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights, has been chosen for membership in the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., for the coming summer, according to an announcement today from Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president of the camp. Entrance requirements are on the merit basis. Chris is a pupil of Frederick D. Schmayer of Arlington Heights and a student in the North public school.

The National Music camp has become world famous as one of America's outstanding educational and cultural projects. Its membership includes more than a thousand young musicians and artists chosen from nearly every state and many foreign countries. A faculty of nearly 100 prominent musicians and educators offers instruction in all branches of music, art, radio, drama, dance and other related arts.

The 21st season's programs will include about 200 public performances and numerous broadcasts over local stations.

Connie Johnson, an Arlington Heights high school student, expects to spend her second year at Interlochen this summer.

Lorraine Knoll, Harold Laschinaki married

A pretty wedding was staged when Miss Lorraine Knoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knoll, of Northbrook, married Harold Laschinaki Saturday, April 24, at St. Jonh's Lutheran church. Rev. W. J. Fletchner officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and white fingertip veil. She carried white roses. Matron of honor was Carol Betty Efflandt of Northfield, who wore a gown of yellow dotted swiss and carried roses. Bridesmaids were Ruth McGovern of Spring Grove and Violet Knoll of Northbrook, who wore green dotted swiss gowns and carried red roses.

Flower girl was Susan Teufert, of Valparaiso, Ind., who was dressed in white net and carried a small bouquet of roses. Jerry Zeiger, of Morton Grove, was the ring bearer. Best man was Bill Reimer of Park Ridge and ushers were William Reimer, also of Park Ridge, and Elmer Knoll of Northbrook.

A reception for 400 guests was held at Wheeling gym. The couple will make their home at Chaple Court, Northbrook, after a honeymoon in Wisconsin.

May Dance to mark grand opening of Paul's Grove

Double grand opening nights will be held this week end, May 1 and 2, at Paul's Grove, Lake street and Medinah roads, near Bloomingdale.

Dancing in the grand new modern fireproof ballroom can be enjoyed on both nights, with Mel's orchestra furnishing the music for modern and old time dancing.

Paul M. Werner, proprietor of Paul's Grove, extends an invitation to the general public to attend his grand opening nights and see for themselves the unique lighting and decorations that adorn the ballroom, which is large enough to accommodate 1000 people.

Former Palatine man in orchestra concert

When the 110-member Chicago Business Men's Orchestra plays the last concert of its current season in Orchestra Hall at 8:15 Friday, April 30, this community will be represented by a former Palatine high school teacher and orchestra director, Milton Sizer, whose home is in Oak Park. Mr. Sizer, a member of the orchestra's violin section, is now a research physicist at Armour Research Foundation and a teacher of violin in Oak Park.

The concert is particularly unique because of the unusual solo instrument which will be featured and because it will be the Chicago premiere of a work by the world-famous Russian composer, Gliere. Lois Bannerman, famed youthful harpist, will be the soloist when the orchestra plays the second performance ever given of Gliere's Concerto for Harp and Orchestra. Toscanini and the NBC Symphony in New York gave the work its first performance.

In addition to the concerto the program will include, the Leonore Overture number III of Beethoven, Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony, and the Polka and Fugue from Schwanda the Bagpiper by Weinberger.

Evening guild to sponsor card party

The Arlington Heights field house will be filled to capacity for the public card party Tuesday evening, May 4, at 8:00 p. m., which is being given for the benefit of the St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect.

The St. John's Evening Guild, of which Mrs. George A. Adam is president, is sponsoring this party. The following women of Arlington Heights are assisting: Mesdames Robert Geddes, Arvid Carlson, Quinton Ford, Russell Ford, Herbert Haynesworth, John Niven, George Price, Earl Woodward, William Winkler.

Russell Thomas, Fred Taillon, Alfred Hall, Alan Drachman, Robert White, T. A. Williams, C. C. Green, A. B. Moore, and Miss Betty Miles.

A report by the awards committee showed that merchants and industrialists have been so generous that it looks possible that an award may be given to every person attending.

COOPERATION seems to be the key word for success, therefore this card party should be a pleasant evening of fun for all attending.

Miss Will Colmar, chairman of the refreshments, wishes to announce that the donations of cake may be brought to the field house the evening of the card party, or left in the undercroft of the church before noon May 4.

Miss Betty Miles, chairman of tickets and reservations, announces that a few tickets are still available and may be had by calling Mount Prospect 1266-M or Arlington Heights 1513-W.

Two students win scholarships

Four students from St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Hts., participated at the annual scholarship examinations offered by Luther Institute of Chicago.

About 150 pupils from Lutheran schools in the Chicago area took the tests covering a 3-hour period.

Joan Timmerman of Arlington Heights Lutheran school, achieved the highest rating of any participant and Lorraine Meyer, her classmate, came in fourth. Both girls were awarded scholarships.

St. Peter Lutheran school also participated in the annual Lutheran talent fesival held at Concordia Teachers college, River Forest. Joan Timmerman won the spelling championship over contestants from various schools in the Chicago area.

Donald Wille, seventh grade at St. Peter, won a superior rating on a collection of match covers entered in the hobby events. Donald has over 3,000 match covers collected from almost every state in the union.

Lenore Paulmeyer, eighth grade, received an excellent rating on a design painting entered in the art event.

In a recent voters meeting of St. Peter Lutheran congregation, it was resolved to abolish departmental teaching in its elementary school.

This step was taken in the best interests of the children. Each teacher will now teach all subjects in his own room. The arrangement will be effective this fall.

It has been proven that more effective training can be given when children are with the same teacher over a longer period of time. Schools are not merely existent to pour out subject matter, but to train and guide children to take their place in life. Thus, a teacher should learn to know a child from all sides. Departmentalization tends toward the child's confusion, poor coordination, ineffective correlation and unnecessary disorder.

Seek goats to aid Europe and Japs

An interdenominational drive among some churches is being made to collect goats for the aid of Europe and Japan, it was learned this week by Mrs. Frank Erickson of Bensenville.

Mrs. Erickson, as a member of the American goat society, received a communication relative to the drive, listing five provisions.

1. Goats must be young, yearlings preferred, bred if possible, up to 4 years old.
2. Goats must be 50% Seanen breed, though other breeds may be accepted.
3. Only about 5% of the bucks are acceptable. They must be purebred and hornless, or dehorned.
4. Does must be past weaning age, up to 4 years old.
5. Blood tests for Bangs disease and TB will be made before shipment.

Those wishing to donate or sell goats for this aid to strick en people, are urged to contact Mrs. Erickson at Bens. 167-W-2.

OF THEIR NEWLY REMODELED AND ENLARGED

Real Estate, Loans and Insurance Office and Currency Exchange

We have had the privilege of furnishing a currency exchange service to the people of Arlington Heights and vicinity for the past 16 years. Started purely as an accommodation to the general public the volume of business grew to such proportions that larger quarters were needed and it was deemed advisable to conduct that phase of the business of this firm separate and apart from our other activities.

Necessary building alterations have been completed and today our Currency Exchange has its own quarters, devoted exclusively to the cashing of checks, sale of money orders, preparation of applications for state license plates, drivers' licenses, car transfers, etc.

The firm of Krause & Kehe was organized in 1926 primarily to handle real estate. It has had a part in the realty development of Arlington Heights and surrounding territory by participation in the sale and purchase of many farms, much vacant property and hundreds of homes. During these years we have been fortunate to build up a clientele who depend on us to not only handle their realty matters, but also to advise them on the purchase of first mortgages and other investments in the realty line.

Representing well known insurance companies, that branch of our business has also reached major proportions.

Our enlarged offices enable us to better serve our customers, giving to each undivided attention during personal interviews.

We are proud of our remodeled offices, which with the changes made in the quarters of other local firms the past year give to Arlington Heights business district the "new look" that marks a modern and progressive community.

There are a number of tradesmen who should participate in and have a share of any kind words or compliments that may be said about the new offices of this firm. Their attractiveness is due in part to the good workmanship of

ARLINGTON AND GRANT CAPTURE RELAYS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Two records set as greatest crowd watches meet

By G. A. McELROY
(Sports Editor)

A fast track, 85 degree temperature, a record entry list of 29 schools, and a record crowd, combined to make the 16th annual Palatine Relays one of the best in the long series in fine marks and close competition. Arlington Heights won their fifth class "A" championship by dethroning last year's winner, Niles. The Cardinals scored 60 points to Niles 52 1-7 while Naperville was third with 37½. Grant surprised by winning class "B" in the most closely contested meet on record in which a total of but five and one half points separated the first five teams. Palatine was second with 29 points to Grant's 30½ while Batavia had 28 2-7, Moosehart 26, and Princeton 25.

Two new records and a host of good marks featured the meet. Arlington Heights and Niles tied for a new frosh-soph relay mark of :46.5 which before this year would have seemed well nigh impossible. These two teams smashed the record of :47.6 by 1.1 seconds, an amazing performance. Naperville, finishing third, was timed in :46.9 while Crystal Lake's team of all freshmen tied the old record but got only fourth place. The Arlington team was made up of August Krause, Bob Packard, George Kovacik, and Gordon Busse. Niles 'record makers were Jack Destories, Dow Walter, Marvin Johnson, and Jim Kennedy.

Batavia's two mile relay team in class "B" bettered one of the best small school records on the books set by Palatine in 1940 of 8:47.9. The Batavia team of Bob Bartells, Dick Larson, Dick Porch, and Kent Young clipped off three tenths of a second to 8:47.6. No one had previously come close to the Palatine mark except Palatine themselves.

Cards no lower than third in any relay

Arlington's Palatine Relays championship was accompanied by winning both the frosh-soph relay, in a tie, and the 880 relay, by taking second in the two mile relay, third in the high hurdle shuttle, third in the mile medley, second in the low hurdle shuttle, fourth in the mile run by Goebbert, third in the 100 yard dash by Schaeffer, second in both shot and discus by Berschet. Fifteen boys scored for Arlington with Krause, a sophomore, collecting 8¼, Berschet 8, Schaeffer 7, and Busse, another soph, 6¼.

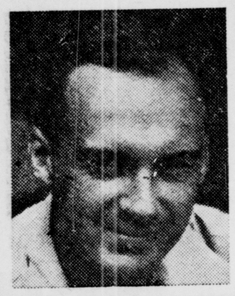

Two schools see championship lost in disqualifications

Grant's victory was accomplished in the closest meet in 16 years in the "B" division. Palatine lost the meet through disqualification in the low hurdle shuttle when they forfeited first place and 10 points because their anchor man started before his team mate tagged him. The same thing happened to Princeton who had the best time in the 880 yard relay and the meet cinched in the final event. They had to forfeit ten points for running in the wrong lane in the second 220 leg of the race. In all there were seven disqualifications during the meet but only the two had much bearing on the meet championship.

Becker scores half of Grant's points with 15 total

Fred Becker, of Grant, was the work horse of their team as the big fast junior won both the 100 yard dash and broad jump and ran in both hurdle shuttle relays, the mile medley, and the 880 relay. Becker was high scorer of the meet with a total of 15½ points. Becker's broad jump mark of 21 feet 8 inches was only an inch and a half

MAC SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Another Palatine Relays is history and many factors combined to make it one of the best on record. A record entry of 29 schools, a record of 550 athletes in competition, a record of 600 spectators, two broken records, best field marks in the last eight years, the best handled meet of them all, and mid summer weather made it a successful meet.

Palatine and Princeton win meet, lose it

Disappointing to Palatine was the fact that they had the meet won only to lose on a disqualification. Then Princeton in the last event had it won with a first, but likewise violated a relay rule which took away 10 points. Due to all this, Grant, a team without a track, slipped by into first place to win their first meet title. The past two years Grant entered the meet but failed to come to compete. You have to hand it to Fred Becker, Grant's big fast junior, for a great performance which gave Grant their chance. Grant may threaten Palatine in the conference meet but then Becker can compete in only three events.

Palatine lost 1940 meet on disqualification

Back in 1940 Palatine lost the relays on disqualification when they dropped the baton on a pass and it rolled out of the 20 yard sector. At that they took second in the event but the loss of the eight points caused them to lose the meet to Geneva by two points. The next Saturday, however, the same boys who were beaten, went to the Proviso relays, entered the mile and medley relays, and won them both, breaking records in both events. With 20 points they were just behind the "B" class winner, Naperville, who scored 21 and a fraction points.

This year's Palatine squad made an excellent showing and has several more chances to show what they can do in the state district and the Northwest conference meet.

Young boys predominate on leading teams

Arlington Heights' winning squad had a large percentage of boys who will return next year. In fact a third of them were frosh-sophs. Niles likewise had a flock of young boys. Crystal Lake's frosh-soph relay team which tied the record was made up entirely of freshmen.

Naperville's veteran coach, John Harshbarger, had only five seniors on his track squad and stated he had the makings of the best team in the history of the school. That is saying a lot when one recalls that Naperville is usually the strongest school for its size in track in Illinois. Naperville was the smallest school in class "A" and if the "B" class division line goes up another 25 to 400 Naperville may be in the small school division.

Stars fail to come through as expected

Two anticipated performances fell through. Case of Naperville was expected to turn in a great mile after winning the event last year but he tired and Jarrett of Argo took him handily in the stretch. Case ran two half miles in relays earlier and that was too much for early season. Baker of DeKalb, a heralded :10.2 sprinter, and Clark of Leyden, who placed in the state last year, were doped to have a great duel in the 100 yard dash. Baker did not place and Becker of Grant beat out Clark in a fast :10.3 against the wind.

Discus throwers not up to usual form

For some reason no one could come up to their usual form in the discus throw. Spoo of Palatine, the winner, had thrown over 137 in two meets and Berschet and Shanley of Arlington had exceeded that mark, but not at the relays. Spoo barely qualified for the finals on his last throw and then got the winning 130 foot toss. A mark of 135 in the district next week qualifies for the state meet and four of the five who placed at the Palatine Relays are in the same district along with boys from New Trier, Evanston, Highland Park, Maine and Waukegan. Should be a very good district event.

Good judging of meet events

Grant complained long and loud about Becker's winning broad jump measurement of 21 feet 8 inches. They contended that it was measured from the wrong spot but three judges were beside the pit right on the job and all agreed on the decision. Judges of the curves and relay exchanges were on their toes and there were seven disqualifications for breaking of relay racing rules during the afternoon. The judges called only

Make pairings for district baseball

Pairings have been made for district baseball, it was announced this week, with Arlington, Bensenville and Northbrook all meeting formidable foes in the openers. Games will be played the week of May 10-15.

Arlington opposes Winnetka New Trier and Northbrook takes on Evanston in first round competition at New Trier. The Bison nine will test Niles of the Northeast loop while St. Mary's of Des Plaines will oppose Maine at Niles.

Winners of the districts will play the following week in seven sectionals, the finals to be held at Peoria May 27-28.

Arlington Cubs to open ball season Tuesday

Two leagues of four teams each will swing into action Tuesday evening, May 4, as the Cub Scouts of Arlington Heights Pack 232 begin their 1948 baseball season.

More than 120 boys will take part in a schedule of 56 games which will be played Tuesday and Friday nights on diamonds at Recreation Park and at the North school. The final contest is scheduled for June 22, and all games are to start at 6:45 p. m. Softball rules will be followed and a 16-inch ball will be used.

One league will be made up of teams of 9 and 10 year old boys and the other will include all boys 10½ and 11 years old, thus assuring competition between teams having all boys of equal ages. Each team will play twice weekly, with Cub Den Dads assigned to supervise the various teams. The Den Dads are to be on hand for all games, although the boys are to manage their own teams on the field.

TEAM ROSTERS have been distributed to all boys so that they may know what team they play with and at which diamond they are to report each game night. Any boy not knowing his correct team is asked to call Joe Brodnan, chairman of the Cub baseball committee, at 681-J.

The Den Dad team assignments are as follows: Team No. 1, Richard Fox and Thomas Ocasek; No. 2, Charles Stadleman, J. D. Crittenden and Oscar Hinrichs; No. 3, Harold Stoffel, Edgar Blair and Joseph Brodnan; No. 4, Alvin Robertson, G. Arden Scot and Harry Siegel; No. 5, Floyd Burns, John Shanklin and Elmer Bahr; No. 6, Victor Bedingfield and Richard Michalski; No. 7, George LaRoi and Gerald Morrissey, and No. 8, Perry Thomas and Rowland Laughlin.

Diamonds to be used for the Cub games have been numbered as follows: No. 1, northwest corner of Recreation Park; No. 2, southwest corner of Recreation Park; No. 3, southwest corner of Recreation Park, and No. 4, North School.

Arlington boxers in final matches

Merle Guild post 208 boy boxers of Arlington Heights close their 1948 season this Saturday night, May 1, when they oppose Lake Forest and Fox Lake in the Heights high school gym. Admission is 60c and 30c with the first bout planned for 8:15 p. m.

Richard Stocking, 10 years old, weighing 76 pounds, won his last bout against Highwood. He is included in Saturday night's fights. Coaches believe that in another year Dick and Dennis Maher will take on all comers at their weights.

DICK HAUFF, 11 year old at 100 pounds, is an old hand at boxing, with many bouts behind him. He hasn't lost a fight to date at the century mark.

Bob Labojko, 10 years old and weighing 90 pounds, is a clever boxer. Though short, he is light on his feet.

Don Vernon of Mt. Prospect is also included on Saturday night's card. He is a hard hitting 147 pounder with plenty of experience.

TWO OF THE newer boys recently joining the club are David and Tom Williams. What they lack in experience they make up in fight and confidence. Bob Klagas is another newcomer to the ring.

Others appearing in the ring include Francis Lyons, Bob Lyons, Vern Richmeyer.

Arlington frosh runners defeat Palatine yearlings

Palatine frosh went to Arlington Thursday for a return dual track meet and met the same stiff competition they encountered in an earlier meeting. Points were rather evenly divided with Paul Roche leading with 11 for the Card yearlings. Final tally was Arlington 69, Palatine 31.

Barrington and Palatine golfers battle to draw

Palatine and Barrington high school golfers opened the season Monday at Barrington Hills Country Club with a nine hole match which ended in a draw as each team took four decisions. Capt. Pepper of Palatine beat Truax of Barrington eight up, Ralph Meyer of Palatine beat Fredin of Barrington four up. Ray Sievers of Palatine beat Anderson of Barrington two up. Bob Meyer of Palatine beat Puffer of Barrington three up.

On the Barrington win side Schuetz whipped Huenerberg of Palatine two up though both had the same point total. Snyder beat Spoo of Palatine four up. Jeppsen defeated Greener of Palatine three up and Grom beat Lorden of Palatine two up. Sievers, Bob Meyer, and Lorden of the Palatine squad are freshmen who regularly carry at Inverness Golf club.

Palatine's next match is Monday, May 3, against Northbrook's defending conference champs at Green Acres golf course. Thursday, May 6, the Pirates play at Bensenville. Dick Pepper is entered in the state district tournament at Mt. Prospect Country club Saturday, May 8. May 10, Palatine entertains Barrington at Inverness, May 12, is host to Northbrook and May 17, to Bensenville.

The Northwest Conference meet is scheduled for Monday, May 24 at Barrington Hills at 1:00 p. m.

Palatine takes six boys to Mooseheart

Coach Welty of Palatine will take six boys to the Mooseheart Relays Saturday. Spoo will throw the discus, Steinbrinck will run the high hurdles and high jump, Stephan will broad jump and run the low hurdles and Orzolek will run high hurdles. A distance relay team of Steinbrinck (220), Stephan (440), Ellis (880), and Newport (mile) will compete. Best chance of winning points will be Henry Spoo in the discus, the event he won at the Palatine Relays.

To have ladies league at Rob Roy

Pat McDonald, golf pro at Rob Roy country club, has announced plans for a Thursday morning ladies league, with present plans pointing to a May 20 start. Ladies interested in joining the group, are urged to contact Pat at either Arl. Hts. 1497 or 7012-R. Thursday morning was chosen to avoid conflict with other leagues.

Card trackmen defeat Leyden and Lake Forest

By MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Arlington Heights High School Varsity tracksters, under the capable coaching of William J. Creamer, placed in every event on the card and as a result defeated both Leyden and Lake Forest in a triangular meet at Leyden by piling up 60 points to Leyden's 51, and Lake Forest's 29.

However, the star of the meet was not an Arlington boy but a speedy youngster named Byron Clark from Leyden High. Clark entered in just four events, taking firsts in each for a total of 20 points. He won the hundred in the exceptional time of 10.2, repeated as victor in the broad jump, paced the field in the 440, and latched on to a 23.4 220 yard victory.

THE CARDS hit the first column five times including a swift relay team of Heimsoth, Busse, Krause, and Schaeffer that clipped the 880 yards in a remarkable 1:34.9. Wally Goebbert paced off a good mile victory for the locals, Augie Krause ran away with the low hurdles, while Marv Berschet put the shot a good heave of 49'4½", and Bill Robinson won the high jump, for Arlington's five firsts.

The Leyden Eagles hit the win column six times, one more than Arlington, but was not as well balanced as the Cards in all events.

After having won a great victory in the Palatine Relays, the Cards look forward to a dual meet at Lake Forest on Friday and the Moosehart Relays on May 1.

Northbrook beats Ela

Ela lost its first Northwest conference game in three starts to a good hitting Northbrook Club, 3-1. Slowness on the bases and a questionable double play brought Ela only one run from its three hits in the first inning.

Northbrook scored two runs in the second inning when they started to bunt against Schwarz's fast ball. Poor fielding of bunts and an attempted play at home with two out, cost Ela the game.

Floyd struck out nine and walked one for Northbrook, while Schwarz disposed of thirteen batters and walked one.

Tuesday Ela beat Grayslake for the second time this season, scoring five runs on 11 hits to their opponents' three runs on nine hits. Prouty and Schwarz fanned 14 Grayslake hitters while Burke whiffed 11 Lake Zurich boys.

Card golfers down Highland Park 11½-3½

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Highland Park, which won the District last year, came to the Mt. Prospect golf course Thursday and played a dual match with Arlington to receive the worst licking a Highland Park golf team has suffered in over fifteen years from the hot-shooting Cards who sank them in a 11½-3½ final count.

Vern Rascher, Arlington's number one golfer, produced the best score of the year for the locals when he came home with an 18 hole total of 73, three over par figures, to easily capture three points from his opponent, Dan Coleman, who posted an 87. Tom Stockdale took just 37 strokes on the last nine holes which, added to his front nine total of 42, gives him second low honors at 79, also winning three points. Elwood Haake carded a third low for Arlington of 82 which was good for another three tallies. Chuck Dresser won 2½ points from Larson, while Ralph Becker was the only full Arlington loser, falling to Mansfield who carded Highland Park's low of 81.

The Cards have three tune-ups before competing in the District golf meet at Mt. Prospect. Today Niles, at Mount Prospect, Monday at Leyden, and May 6 Crystal Lake, here.

Results:

Arlington	(11½)	H'land Pk.	(3½)
Rascher	73 3	Coleman	87 0
Becker	87 0	M'field	81 3
Stockdale	79 3	Coleman	88 0
Dresser	85 2½	Larson	86 ½
Haake	82 3	Dinedle	92 0

Ela tops Grant

Ela won its second Northwest Conference start by defeating Grant, 7-4. Schwarz went the route for Ela allowing seven scattered hits, walking only two, and striking out fourteen. Murphy pitched well for Grant but Ela bunched its hits to score in each of four innings.

Geary, Prouty, and Jerry Wendt hit doubles for Ela, with Wendt getting two hits in three trips. Ela almost blew the game in the sixth inning with an overthrow at first letting in two runs to tie the score at four all, but Prouty's timely double brought in the winning runs in the seventh.

Bensenville nine has two scrimmages

Bensenville had two six inning practice games last week when they beat York J-V, 13-1, then lost to New Trier, 4-3.

In the York contest Stephenson struck out ten men in 3 innings, while Robertson allowed the losers just one run, a homer, on 3 hits the remainder of the game.

Redwings open this Sunday vs Algonquin

The 1948 baseball season gets underway in Recreation Park next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the Redwings meet Algonquin.

Unusual cooperation by the weatherman during the past three Sundays providing suitable weather for practice has given Manager Ed Wahl a chance to look over the newcomers who hope to fill vacancies in the Redwing lineup.

The 1948 Redwing edition will present two new faces in the outfield and posibly two on the infield. Although Schaefer will be number one hurler, two additional pitchers will be carried to provide ample reserve strength which can be very important when the Northern Illinois league, of which the Redwings are a member, starts playing its schedule in June.

THOSE VETERANS from last year's club who are returning are Schiewe, catcher; Schaeffer, pitcher; Simpson, first base; Kirckhoff, shortstop; Groh and Ganshirt, outfielders; and Wahl, who is playing his 20th season in Arlington. It is expected that Peeters will be available when the college season ends in June.

Algonquin has always presented formidable opposition, but this will be their first game also. Undoubtedly their pitching will be split between several hurlers, the same as Arlington.

Kirkhoff will not be able to open at his shortstop position. He is recovering from a knee operation and might not be ready to get into the lineup until June. Pete Groh is threatened with a possible appendix operation and might be out of the lineup later in the season for a three or four week period.

THE INFIELD in Recreation Park has been reconditioned to provide better drainage and a better playing surface. It will make the field one of the best in the suburban area.

As usual, the Redwings will play at home Sundays and holidays.

Leyden nine upsets Cards to keep near to Niles

By MARVIN PRELLBTRG

Arlington's hopes of getting a possible conference championship were given a mighty jolt last Friday afternoon by the Leyden Eagles, when the Cards journeyed to Franklin Park and were greeted with a 7-3 upset by Leyden, which played heads up ball throughout the contest.

Lofgren, a sophomore, pitched the whole game for the victors and held the Cards to just 5 hits, all in the first four innings. He walked three, and struck out four to chalk up a very impressive win. Bill Robinson, who twirled for the locals, found the team fielding in a bad way and received little support. He was recorded as giving up 10 safeties, several which could have easily been turned into outs. Bill fanned a total of five batsmen and walked none.

LTYDEN found the scoring column first in the last of the opening inning. George Parizek lined a hit down the third base line and reached second when his brother, Al Parizek, was hit by a pitched ball. With two outs, Koss singed to center, scoring George Parizek for run number 1.

The locals bounced back with 3 big runs in the next frame on 3 hits. Robinson led off with a single, and Ron Obermann followed with another one-bagger. Eugene Busse's sacrificed bunt advanced the runners to second and third. Bill Wiest then knocked an infield dribbler that was picked up by Emery, who when attempting to throw out Robinson at the plate, tossed wild, and both Robinson and Obermann scored. Wiest, who moved to second on the over throw, came home on Jim Stavros' double to left center, increasing the Arlington lead to 311.

ARLINGTON AND GRANT CAPTURE RELAYS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Two records set as greatest crowd watches meet

By G. A. McELROY
(Sports Editor)

A fast track, 85 degree temperature, a record entry list of 29 schools, and a record crowd, combined to make the 16th annual Palatine Relays one of the best in the long series in fine marks and close competition. Arlington Heights won their fifth class "A" championship by dethroning last year's winner, Niles. The Cardinals scored 60 points to Niles 52 1-7 while Naperville was third with 37½. Grant surprised by winning class "B" in the most closely contested meet on record in which a total of but five and one half points separated the first five teams. Palatine was second with 29 points to Grant's 30½ while Batavia had 28 2-7, Moosehart 26, and Princeton 25.

Two new records and a host of good marks featured the meet. Arlington Heights and Niles tied for a new frosh-soph relay mark of :46.5 which before this year would have seemed well nigh impossible. These two teams smashed the record of :47.6 by 1.1 seconds, an amazing performance. Naperville, finishing third, was timed in :46.9 while Crystal Lake's team of all freshmen tied the old record but got only fourth place. The Arlington team was made up of August Krause, Bob Packard, George Kovacik, and Gordon Busse. Niles 'record makers were Jack Destories, Dow Walter, Marvin Johnson, and Jim Kennedy.

Batavia's two-mile relay team in class "B" bettered one of the best small school records on the books set by Palatine in 1940 of 8:47.9. The Batavia team of Bob Bartells, Dick Larson, Dick Porch, and Kent Young clipped off three tenths of a second to 8:47.6. No one had previously come close to the Palatine mark except Palatine themselves.

Cards no lower than third in any relay

Arlington's Palatine Relays championship was accompanied by winning both the frosh-soph relay, in a tie, and the 880 relay, by taking second in the two mile relay, third in the high hurdle shuttle, third in the mile medley, second in the low hurdle shuttle, fourth in the mile run by Goebbert, third in the 100 yard dash by Schaeffer, second in both shot and discus by Berschet. Fifteen boys scored for Arlington with Krause, a sophomore, collecting 8¼, Berschet 8, Schaeffer 7, and Busse, another soph, 6¼.

Two schools see championship lost in disqualifications

Grant's victory was accomplished in the closest meet in 16 years in the "B" division. Palatine lost the meet through disqualification in the low hurdle shuttle when they forfeited first place and 10 points because their anchor man started before his team mate tagged him. The same thing happened to Princeton who had the best time in the 880 yard relay and the meet cinched in the final event. They had to forfeit ten points for running in the wrong lane in the second 220 leg of the race. In all there were seven disqualifications during the meet but only the two had much bearing on the meet championship.

Becker scores half of Grant's points with 15 total

Fred Becker, of Grant, was the work horse of their team as the big fast junior won both the 100 yard dash and broad jump and ran in both hurdle shuttle relays, the mile medley, and the 880 relay. Becker was high scorer of the meet with a total of 15½ points. Becker's broad jump mark of 21 feet 8 inches was only an inch and a half

MAC SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Another Palatine Relays is history and many factors combined to make it one of the best on record. A record entry of 29 schools, a record of 550 athletes in competition, a record of 600 spectators, two broken records, best field marks in the last eight years, the best handled meet of them all, and mid summer weather made it a successful meet.

Palatine and Princeton win meet, lose it

Disappointing to Palatine was the fact that they had the meet won only to lose on a disqualification. Then Princeton in the last event had it won with a first, but likewise violated a relay rule which took away 10 points. Due to all this, Grant, a team without a track, slipped by into first place to win their first meet title. The past two years Grant entered the meet but failed to come to compete. You have to hand it to Fred Becker, Grant's big fast junior, for a great performance which gave Grant their chance. Grant may threaten Palatine in the conference meet but then Becker can compete in only three events.

Palatine lost 1940 meet on disqualification

Back in 1940 Palatine lost the relays on disqualification when they dropped the baton on a pass and it rolled out of the 20 yard sector. At that they took second in the event but the loss of the eight points caused them to lose the meet to Geneva by two points. The next Saturday, however, the same boys who were beaten, went to the Proviso relays, entered the mile and medley relays, and won them both, breaking records in both events. With 20 points they were just behind the "B" class winner, Naperville, who scored 21 and a fraction points.

This year's Palatine squad made an excellent showing and has several more chances to show what they can do in the state district and the Northwest conference meet.

Young boys predominate on leading teams

Arlington Heights' winning squad had a large percentage of boys who will return next year. In fact a third of them were frosh-sophs. Niles likewise had a flock of young boys. Crystal Lake's frosh-soph relay team which tied the record was made up entirely of freshmen.

Naperville's veteran coach, John Harshbarger, had only five seniors on his track squad and stated he had the makings of the best team in the history of the school. That is saying a lot when one recalls that Naperville is usually the strongest school for its size in track in Illinois. Naperville was the smallest school in class "A" and if the "B" class division line goes up another 25 to 400 Naperville may be in the small school division.

Stars fail to come through as expected

Two anticipated performances fell through. Case of Naperville was expected to turn in a great mile after winning the event last year but he tired and Jarrett of Argo took him handily in the stretch. Case ran two half miles in relays earlier and that was too much for early season. Baker of DeKalb, a heralded :10.2 sprinter, and Clark of Leyden, who placed in the state last year, were doped to have a great duel in the 100 yard dash. Baker did not place and Becker of Grant beat out Clark in a fast :10.3 against the wind.

Discus throwers not up to usual form

For some reason no one could come up to their usual form in the discus throw. Spoo of Palatine, the winner, had thrown over 137 in two meets and Berschet and Shanley of Arlington had exceeded that mark, but not at the relays. Spoo barely qualified for the finals on his last throw and then got the winning 130 foot toss. A mark of 135 in the district next week qualifies for the state meet and four of the five who placed at the Palatine Relays are in the same district along with boys from New Trier, Evanston, Highland Park, Maine and Waukegan. Should be a very good district event.

Good judging of meet events

Grant complained long and loud about Becker's winning broad jump measurement of 21 feet 8 inches. They contended that it was measured from the wrong spot but three judges were beside the pit right on the job and all agreed on the decision. Judges of the curves and relay exchanges were on their toes and there were seven disqualifications for breaking of relay racing rules during the afternoon. The judges called only

Make pairings for district baseball

Pairings have been made for district baseball, it was announced this week, with Arlington, Bensenville and Northbrook all meeting formidable foes in the openers. Games will be played the week of May 10-15.

Arlington opposes Winnetka New Trier and Northbrook takes on Evanston in first round competition at New Trier. The Bison nine will test Niles of the Northeast loop while St. Mary's of Des Plaines will oppose Maine at Niles.

Winners of the districts will play the following week in seven sectionals, the finals to be held at Peoria May 27-28.

Barrington and Palatine golfers battle to draw

Palatine and Barrington high school golfers opened the season Monday at Barrington Hills Country Club with a nine hole match which ended in a draw as each team took four decisions. Capt. Pepper of Palatine beat Truax of Barrington eight up, Ralph Meyer of Palatine beat Fredin of Barrington four up. Ray Sievers of Palatine beat Anderson of Barrington two up. Bob Meyer of Palatine beat Puffer of Barrington three up.

On the Barrington win side Schuetz whipped Huenerberg of Palatine two up though both had the same point total. Snyder beat Spoo of Palatine four up. Jeppsen defeated Greener of Palatine three up and Grom beat Lorden of Palatine two up. Sievers, Bob Meyer, and Lorden of the Palatine squad are freshmen who regularly carry at Inverness Golf club.

Palatine's next match is Monday, May 3, against Northbrook's defending conference champs at Green Acres golf course. Thursday, May 6, the Pirates play at Bensenville. Dick Pepper is entered in the state district tournament at Mt. Prospect Country club Saturday, May 8. May 10, Palatine entertains Barrington at Inverness, May 12, is host to Northbrook and May 17, to Bensenville.

The Northwest Conference meet is scheduled for Monday, May 24 at Barrington Hills at 1:00 p. m.

Arlington Cubs to open ball season Tuesday

Two leagues of four teams each will swing into action Tuesday evening, May 4, as the Cub Scouts of Arlington Heights Pack 232 begin their 1948 baseball season.

More than 120 boys will take part in a schedule of 56 games which will be played Tuesday and Friday nights on diamonds at Recreation Park and at the North school. The final contest is scheduled for June 22, and all games are to start at 6:45 p. m. Softball rules will be followed and a 16-inch ball will be used.

One league will be made up of teams of 9 and 10 year old boys and the other will include all boys 10½ and 11 years old, thus assuring competition between teams having all boys of equal ages. Each team will play twice weekly, with Cub Den Dads assigned to supervise the various teams. The Den Dads are to be on hand for all games, although the boys are to manage their own teams on the field.

TEAM ROSTERS have been distributed to all boys so that they may know what team they play with and at which diamond they are to report each game night. Any boy not knowing his correct team is asked to call Joe Brodnan, chairman of the Cub baseball committee, at 681-J.

The Den Dad team assignments are as follows: Team No. 1, Richard Fox and Thomas Ocasek; No. 2, Charles Stadleman, J. D. Crittenden and Oscar Hinrichs; No. 3, Harold Stoffel, Edgar Blair and Joseph Brodnan; No. 4, Alvin Robertson, G. Arden Scot and Harry Siegel; No. 5, Floyd Burns, John Shanklin and Elmer Bahr; No. 6, Victor Bedingfield and Richard Michalski; No. 7, George LaRoi and Gerald Morrissey, and No. 8, Perry Thomas and Rowland Laughlin.

Diamonds to be used for the Cub games have been numbered as follows: No. 1, northwest corner of Recreation Park; No. 2, southwest corner of Recreation Park; No. 3, southwest corner of Recreation Park, and No. 4, North School.

Arlington boxers in final matches

Merle Guild post 208 boy boxers of Arlington Heights close their 1948 season this Saturday night, May 1, when they oppose Lake Forest and Fox Lake in the Heights high school gym. Admission is 60c and 30c with the first bout planned for 8:15 p. m.

Richard Stocking, 10 years old, weighing 76 pounds, won his last bout against Highwood. He is included in Saturday night's fights. Coaches believe that in another year Dick and Dennis Maher will take on all comers at their weights.

DICK HAUFF, 11 year old at 100 pounds, is an old hand at boxing, with many bouts behind him. He hasn't lost a fight to date at the century mark.

Bob Labojko, 10 years old and weighing 90 pounds, is a clever boxer. Though short, he is light on his feet.

Don Vernon of Mt. Prospect is also included on Saturday night's card. He is a hard hitting 147 pounder with plenty of experience.

TWO OF THE newer boys recently joining the club are David and Tom Williams. What they lack in experience they make up in fight and confidence. Bob Klagas is another newcomer to the ring.

Others appearing in the ring include Francis Lyons, Bob Lyons, Vern Richmeyer.

Arlington frosh runners defeat Palatine yearlings

Palatine frosh went to Arlington Thursday for a return dual track meet and met the same stiff competition they encountered in an earlier meeting. Points were rather evenly divided with Paul Roche leading with 11 for the Card yearlings. Final tally was Arlington 69, Palatine 31.

Card trackmen defeat Leyden and Lake Forest

By MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Arlington Heights High School Varsity tracksters, under the capable coaching of William J. Creamer, placed in every event on the card and as a result defeated both Leyden and Lake Forest in a triangular meet at Leyden by piling up 60 points to Leyden's 51, and Lake Forest's 29.

However, the star of the meet was not an Arlington boy but a speedy youngster named Byron Clark from Leyden High. Clark entered in just four events, taking firsts in each for a total of 20 points. He won the hundred in the exceptional time of 10.2, repeated as victor in the broad jump, paced the field in the 440, and latched on to a 23.4 220 yard victory.

THE CARDS hit the first column five times including a swift relay team of Heimsoth, Busse, Krause, and Schaeffer that clipped the 880 yards in a remarkable 1:34.9. Wally Goebbert paced off a good mile victory for the locals, Augie Krause ran away with the low hurdles, while Marv Berschet put the shot a good heave of 49'4½", and Bill Robinson won the high jump, for Arlington's five firsts.

The Leyden Eagles hit the win column six times, one more than Arlington, but was not as well balanced as the Cards in all events.

After having won a great victory in the Palatine Relays, the Cards look forward to a dual meet at Lake Forest on Friday and the Moosehart Relays on May 1.

Northbrook beats Ela

Ela lost its first Northwest conference game in three starts to a good hitting Northbrook Club, 3-1. Slowness on the bases and a questionable double play brought Ela only one run from its three hits in the first inning.

Northbrook scored two runs in the second inning when they started to bunt against Schwarz's fast ball. Poor fielding of bunts and an attempted play at home with two out, cost Ela the game.

Floyd struck out nine and walked one for Northbrook, while Schwarz disposed of thirteen batters and walked one.

Tuesday Ela beat Grayslake for the second time this season, scoring five runs on 11 hits to their opponents' three runs on nine hits. Prouty and Schwarz fanned 14 Grayslake hitters while Burke whiffed 11 Lake Zurich boys.

Card golfers down Highland Park 11½-3½

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Highland Park, which won the District last year, came to the Mt. Prospect golf course Thursday and played a dual match with Arlington to receive the worst licking a Highland Park golf team has suffered in over fifteen years from the hot-shooting Cards who sank them in a 11½-3½ final count.

Vern Rascher, Arlington's number one golfer, produced the best score of the year for the locals when he came home with an 18 hole total of 73, three over par figures, to easily capture three points from his opponent, Dan Coleman, who posted an 87. Tom Stockdale took just 37 strokes on the last nine holes which, added to his front nine total of 42, gives him second low honors at 79, also winning three points. Elwood Haake carded a third low for Arlington of 82 which was good for another three tallies. Chuck Dresser won 2½ points from Larson, while Ralph Becker was the only full Arlington loser, falling to Mansfield who carded Highland Park's low of 81.

The Cards have three tune-ups before competing in the District golf meet at Mt. Prospect. Today Niles, at Mount Prospect, Monday at Leyden, and May 6 Crystal Lake, here.

Ela tops Grant

Ela won its second Northwest Conference start by defeating Grant, 7-4. Schwarz went the route for Ela allowing seven scattered hits, walking only two, and striking out fourteen. Murphy pitched well for Grant but Ela bunched its hits to score in each of four innings.

Geary, Prouty, and Jerry Wendt hit doubles for Ela, with Wendt getting two hits in three trips. Ela almost blew the game in the sixth inning with an overthrow at first letting in two runs to tie the score at four all, but Prouty's timely double brought in the winning runs in the seventh.

Bensenville nine has two scrimmages

Bensenville had two six inning practice games last week when they beat York J-V, 13-1, then lost to New Trier, 4-3.

In the York contest Stephenson struck out ten men in 3 innings, while Robertson allowed the losers just one run, a homer, on 3 hits the remainder of the game.

Redwings open this Sunday vs Algonquin

The 1948 baseball season gets underway in Recreation Park next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the Redwings meet Algonquin.

Unusual cooperation by the weatherman during the past three Sundays providing suitable weather for practice has given Manager Ed Wahl a chance to look over the newcomers who hope to fill vacancies in the Redwing lineup.

The 1948 Redwing edition will present two new faces in the outfield and posibly two on the infield. Although Schaefer will be number one hurler, two additional pitchers will be carried to provide ample reserve strength which can be very important when the Northern Illinois league, of which the Redwings are a member, starts playing its schedule in June.

THOSE VETERANS from last year's club who are returning are Schiewe, catcher; Schaeffer, pitcher; Simpson, first base; Kirckhoff, shortstop; Groh and Ganshirt, outfielders; and Wahl, who is playing his 20th season in Arlington. It is expected that Peeters will be available when the college season ends in June.

Algonquin has always presented formidable opposition, but this will be their first game also. Undoubtedly their pitching will be split between several hurlers, the same as Arlington.

Kirkhoff will not be able to open at his shortstop position. He is recovering from a knee operation and might not be ready to get into the lineup until June. Pete Groh is threatened with a possible appendix operation and might be out of the lineup later in the season for a three or four week period.

THE INFIELD in Recreation Park has been reconditioned to provide better drainage and a better playing surface. It will make the field one of the best in the suburban area.

As usual, the Redwings will play at home Sundays and holidays.

Leyden nine upsets Cards to keep near to Niles

By MARVIN PRELLBTRG

Arlington's hopes of getting a possible conference championship were given a mighty jolt last Friday afternoon by the Leyden Eagles, when the Cards journeyed to Franklin Park and were greeted with a 7-3 upset by Leyden, which played heads up ball throughout the contest.

Lofgren, a sophomore, pitched the whole game for the victors and held the Cards to just 5 hits, all in the first four innings. He walked three, and struck out four to chalk up a very impressive win. Bill Robinson, who twirled for the locals, found the team fielding in a bad way and received little support. He was recorded as giving up 10 safeties, several which could have easily been turned into outs. Bill fanned a total of five batsmen and walked none.

LTYDEN found the scoring column first in the last of the opening inning. George Parizek lined a hit down the third base line and reached second when his brother, Al Parizek, was hit by a pitched ball. With two outs, Koss singed to center, scoring George Parizek for run number 1.

The locals bounced back with 3 big runs in the next frame on 3 hits. Robinson led off with a single, and Ron Obermann followed with another one-bagger. Eugene Busse's sacrificed bunt advanced the runners to second and third. Bill Wiest then knocked an infield dribbler that was picked up by Emery, who when attempting to throw out Robinson at the plate, tossed wild, and both Robinson and Obermann scored. Wiest, who moved to second on the over throw, came home on Jim Stavros' double to left center, increasing the Arlington lead to 311.

HOWEVER, the Eagles tied it up in the last of the second by scoring 2 runs on 1 sit. Emery, the first man up, was safe on an error, stole second and came home, after two were gone, on Tkarski's two-bagger. On the next play, Heimsoth's throw pulled Engelking off first and Tkarski scored to knot up the ball game at 3-3.

In the next inning Robinson reached third after doubling, but was out attempting to come home on Obermann's grounder, and Arlington's last serious threat ended in failure.

The Eagles came up in the fourth and had the decisive inning of the contest as they scored the 4 winning runs on a cluster of 6 hits. Emery, Mascia, Tkarski, and George Parizek, all tallied in this big inning to give the Eagles a 7-3 edge, which they held throughout the remainder of the game.

Can't identify base stealer

The greatest base-stealer in Chicago Heights remains unidentified, despite the efforts of Hap Bruno, C.H.A.A. manager, to find him and, incidently, throw him out. While the procedure is unheard of in baseball circles, the fellow even swiped first.

Missing from the place where they were deposited at the ball park last year are the three cushions used by the Heights team.

Birth of Dallas

Dallas, Tex., had its birth in 1841 when John Neely Bryan, a Tennesseean and an Indian trader, built a shelter of cedar boughs on the banks of Trinity river. Thirty years later, Dallas was still a village of some thousand people. John Bryan named the city Dallas, after a friend of his.

Arlington dogs win show prizes

Nancy Carr is above showing off two Arlington dogs that took prizes in the Lake Shore kennel club show at Hammond, Ind., last weekend. At the left is the Carrvale kennel entry which took best of winners award, while on the right is the dog of Frank Cory which was acclaimed best of breed. Both were considered best Irish setters in the show. The Cory animal went on to win the best in show award.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Herweg of Elk Grove kennels had their springer spaniels also take prizes in the show. Mac Mar's Dangerous Don took first prize in limit males and moved on to take reserve winners dog. Mac Mar's Lucky Ticket, ten month old, took second prize in puppy females, her second win.

those violations which were of the type obvious to any one in a position to see but they had the courage to call them. All these judges were Palatine and Arlington men with track experience.

Meet finally starts to show a profit

For years the Palatine Relays were operated at a loss financially or at best an even break. Last year the meet netted $100. This year the net is approximately $200. Add to this nearly $100 profit made by the G.A.A. girls in their refreshment concession and you see the meet as a paying proposition. For the first time the Palatine Relays will about finance the track season.

Mooseheart Relays this Saturday

This week some of the schools around here will take a few boys to the Mooseheart Relays. With no division into classes this meet, started a years ago, is dominated by the big schools of the Suburban and West Suburban leagues. Next week, Saturday, the district meet will be held at Evanston with first and seconds going to the state meet at Champaign.

Others in some events may qualify if they reach a certain standard; five feet 10 in the high jump, 11 feet four inches in the pole vault, 21 feet in the broad jump, 47 feet in the shot and 135 feet in the discus. In the 440 the mark is :43.4, in the 880 it is 2:05 and in the mile 4:45.

Arlington to again have strong Junior Legion ball team

Annually the Poole Fords of Arlington Heights have helped sponsor American Legion Junior baseball in this area. The Arlington Heights team representing Merle Guild Post 208 has been made up of boys mainly from Arlington but some Northbrook and Bensenville high school players have contributed a great deal to its success. The past two years Arlington has won the district championship. This year they are aiming higher.

Playing Legion ball is a great opportunity for a boy who hopes to become a good ball player. Each year many of the prize rookies going up to the major leagues are boys who got their start in the American Legion's great nation wide baseball program. Any boys in the area around Arlington whose home community does not sponsor Legion ball are invited to get in touch with Herb Carl, business manager of George C. Poole, Inc., at their Ford garage in Arlington if interested in trying out for the team.

A correction

Some time ago we quoted Gene deLacey of Dundee, in these columns, in regard to some statements he made at the Woodstock basketball banquet about the state tournament. One concerned the fact that Hoffman, LaGrange all-state forward, had an injured knee and was warned by the university trainer not to play as he would not be responsible for permanent injury resulting. We quoted the Woodstock Sentinel on this matter. Later, here at Palatine, Mr. deLacey made remarks which were along the same line.

This past week we received a copy of a letter sent by Hoffman to deLacey in which he takes exception to our comment of April 2 about deLacey's speech. Hoffman claims he did not have a cracked cartilage in his knee, that he was permitted by his doctor to play, that he did have torn knee ligaments, and that he was at no time warned by anyone that permanent injury might result from playing. If we were in error we are sorry.

Woodstock takes win over Warren

Second, third and sixth inning runs gave the Woodstock Blue Streak baseball team an 8 to 3 win over Warren Friday at the Woodstock diamond.

Vernon Helm led the Blue Streak hitting when he got two hits, both triples, and two runs from his four trips to the plate. Other Woodstock hitters who were Dermont, Scharnau, Eddy, Behler, McCannon and Hunter.

Behler the winning pitcher struck out two and walked five while his teammate Hunter hurled two strikeouts and walked three.

The Blue Streaks played errorless ball in the game where all but three members of the team got hits for a total of nine. Warren got only six hits and were charged with four errors.

Cards down Bronchos in two hit fracas

By MARVIN PRELLBERG

Behind the combined two-hit pitching of Chuck Fischer and Chuck Johnson, the Arlington Varsity Nine hitched onto its first non-conference victory last Wednesday by downing a stubborn Barrington team by a 5-2 final on the latter's diamond in a seven-inning tilt.

After two scoreless innings Arlington finally broke the ice and grabbed a two-run lead. Catcher Bob Striggow led off with a single, Fischer moved him to second on a bunt, and Bill Lancilotti dropped in a single to score Striggow for the first tally. Orv Schaeffer then blasted out a triple which drove in Lancilotti for run number 2.

THE BRONCHS came right back in their half of the third and collected a run on one hit, two walks, and a fielder's choice. Schuett led off with a walk, but was forced at second on Tukey's fielder's choice. Hansen followed with another base on balls from Fischer, putting two men on base with two outs. Jeppsen then stepped up and banged out a one-run single that scored Tukey to make the score a narrow 2-1.

Arlington added to its total in the fourth and fifth frames to take a 4-1 lead at the end of the fifth. In the fourth, Marv Berschet led off with a base on balls, stole second and third, and trotted home on Jim Stavros' fly to left field. In the next segment, Lancilotti connected for a single, eventually reached third, and crossed the plate when Lefty Engelking grounded out.

The sixth went scoreless, but in the last inning the Cards collected their fifth tally when Johnson walked and came home on Engelking's errored hit.

BARRINGTON tried desperately to get back in the game in the seventh and last frame, but it managed to get only 1 tally. With one out, Shuett received a base an balls, finally reached third, and came home on Tukey's fly to Stavros in left field. Lenny Hicks strike out ended the rally, however, and as a result the Cards came out on the top end of a 5-2 count.

Fischer, who started the game for the Cards, allowed one hit each in the first and the third frames, fanned six and walked four in four innings. Chuck Johnson, who relieved him in the fifth, gave up no hits, struck out four, and walked one. McNichols pitched the whole game for the Bronchs and gave up six safeties, struck out seven, and walked four.

HOWEVER, the Eagles tied it up in the last of the second by scoring 2 runs on 1 sit. Emery, the first man up, was safe on an error, stole second and came home, after two were gone, on Tkarski's two-bagger. On the next play, Heimsoth's throw pulled Engelking off first and Tkarski scored to knot up the ball game at 3-3.

In the next inning Robinson reached third after doubling, but was out attempting to come home on Obermann's grounder, and Arlington's last serious threat ended in failure.

The Eagles came up in the fourth and had the decisive inning of the contest as they scored the 4 winning runs on a cluster of 6 hits. Emery, Mascia, Tkarski, and George Parizek, all tallied in this big inning to give the Eagles a 7-3 edge, which they held throughout the remainder of the game.

Can't identify base stealer

The greatest base-stealer in Chicago Heights remains unidentified, despite the efforts of Hap Bruno, C.H.A.A. manager, to find him and, incidently, throw him out. While the procedure is unheard of in baseball circles, the fellow even swiped first.

Missing from the place where they were deposited at the ball park last year are the three cushions used by the Heights team.

Birth of Dallas

Dallas, Tex., had its birth in 1841 when John Neely Bryan, a Tennesseean and an Indian trader, built a shelter of cedar boughs on the banks of Trinity river. Thirty years later, Dallas was still a village of some thousand people, John Bryan named the city Dallas, after a friend of his.

Arlington dogs win show prizes

Nancy Carr is above showing off two Arlington dogs that took prizes in the Lake Shore kennel club show at Hammond, Ind., last weekend. At the left is the Carrvale kennel entry which took best of winners award, while on the right is the dog of Frank Cory which was acclaimed best of breed. Both were considered best Irish setters in the show. The Cory animal went on to win the best in show award.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Herweg of Elk Grove kennels had their springer spaniels also take prizes in the show. Mac Mar's Dangerous Don took first prize in limit males and moved on to take reserve winners dog. Mac Mar's Lucky Ticket, ten month old, took second prize in puppy females, her second win.

those violations which were of the type obvious to any one in a position to see but they had the courage to call them. All these judges were Palatine and Arlington men with track experience.

Meet finally starts to show a profit

For years the Palatine Relays were operated at a loss financially or at best an even break. Last year the meet netted $100. This year the net is approximately $200. Add to this nearly $100 profit made by the G.A.A. girls in their refreshment concession and you see the meet as a paying proposition. For the first time the Palatine Relays will about finance the track season.

Mooseheart Relays this Saturday

This week some of the schools around here will take a few boys to the Mooseheart Relays. With no division into classes this meet, started a years ago, is dominated by the big schools of the Suburban and West Suburban leagues. Next week, Saturday, the district meet will be held at Evanston with first and seconds going to the state meet at Champaign.

Others in some events may qualify if they reach a certain standard; five feet 10 in the high jump, 11 feet four inches in the pole vault, 21 feet in the broad jump, 47 feet in the shot and 135 feet in the discus. In the 440 the mark is :43.4, in the 880 it is 2:05 and in the mile 4:45.

Arlington to again have strong Junior Legion ball team

Annually the Poole Fords of Arlington Heights have helped sponsor American Legion Junior baseball in this area. The Arlington Heights team representing Merle Guild Post 208 has been made up of boys mainly from Arlington but some Northbrook and Bensenville high school players have contributed a great deal to its success. The past two years Arlington has won the district championship. This year they are aiming higher.

Playing Legion ball is a great opportunity for a boy who hopes to become a good ball player. Each year many of the prize rookies going up to the major leagues are boys who got their start in the American Legion's great nation wide baseball program. Any boys in the area around Arlington whose home community does not sponsor Legion ball are invited to get in touch with Herb Carl, business manager of George C. Poole, Inc., at their Ford garage in Arlington if interested in trying out for the team.

Some time ago we quoted Gene deLacey of Dundee, in these columns, in regard to some statements he made at the Woodstock basketball banquet about the state tournament. One concerned the fact that Hoffman, LaGrange all-state forward, had an injured knee and was warned by the university trainer not to play as he would not be responsible for permanent injury resulting. We quoted the Woodstock Sentinel on this matter. Later, here at Palatine, Mr. deLacey made remarks which were along the same line.

This past week we received a copy of a letter sent by Hoffman to deLacey in which he takes exception to our comment of April 2 about deLacey's speech. Hoffman claims he did not have a cracked cartilage in his knee, that he was permitted by his doctor to play, that he did have torn knee ligaments, and that he was at no time warned by anyone that permanent injury might result from playing. If we were in error we are sorry.

Woodstock takes win over Warren

Second, third and sixth inning runs gave the Woodstock Blue Streak baseball team an 8 to 3 win over Warren Friday at the Woodstock diamond.

Vernon Helm led the Blue Streak hitting when he got two hits, both triples, and two runs from his four trips to the plate. Other Woodstock hitters who were Dermont, Scharnau, Eddy, Behler, McCannon and Hunter.

Behler the winning pitcher struck out two and walked five while his teammate Hunter hurled two strikeouts and walked three.

The Blue Streaks played errorless ball in the game where all but three members of the team got hits for a total of nine. Warren got only six hits and were charged with four errors.

Cards down Bronchos in two hit fracas

By MARVIN PRELLBERG

Behind the combined two-hit pitching of Chuck Fischer and Chuck Johnson, the Arlington Varsity Nine hitched onto its first non-conference victory last Wednesday by downing a stubborn Barrington team by a 5-2 final on the latter's diamond in a seven-inning tilt.

After two scoreless innings Arlington finally broke the ice and grabbed a two-run lead. Catcher Bob Striggow led off with a single, Fischer moved him to second on a bunt, and Bill Lancilotti dropped in a single to score Striggow for the first tally. Orv Schaeffer then blasted out a triple which drove in Lancilotti for run number 2.

THE BRONCHS came right back in their half of the third and collected a run on one hit, two walks, and a fielder's choice. Schuett led off with a walk, but was forced at second on Tukey's fielder's choice. Hansen followed with another base on balls from Fischer, putting two men on base with two outs. Jeppsen then stepped up and banged out a one-run single that scored Tukey to make the score a narrow 2-1.

Arlington added to its total in the fourth and fifth frames to take a 4-1 lead at the end of the fifth. In the fourth, Marv Berschet led off with a base on balls, stole second and third, and trotted home on Jim Stavros' fly to left field. In the next segment, Lancilotti connected for a single, eventually reached third, and crossed the plate when Lefty Engelking grounded out.

The sixth went scoreless, but in the last inning the Cards collected their fifth tally when Johnson walked and came home on Engelking's errored hit.

BARRINGTON tried desperately to get back in the game in the seventh and last frame, but it managed to get only 1 tally. With one out, Shuett received a base an balls, finally reached third, and came home on Tukey's fly to Stavros in left field. Lenny Hicks strike out ended the rally, however, and as a result the Cards came out on the top end of a 5-2 count.

Fischer, who started the game for the Cards, allowed one hit each in the first and the third frames, fanned six and walked four in four innings. Chuck Johnson, who relieved him in the fifth, gave up no hits, struck out four, and walked one. McNichols pitched the whole game for the Bronchs and gave up six safeties, struck out seven, and walked four.

Arlington, Grant win Relays

short of the record and his :10.3 hundred yard dash against the wind was one of the best century marks in recent years at the Palatine meet. Grant won the low hurdle shuttle when Palatine was disqualified, took third in the high hurdle shuttle, and a tie for third in the 880 relay. Kirkpatrick got half a point with a tie for fifth in the high jump.

Dick Welty's Palatine Pirates made the best showing in five years, missing first place by one and one half points. The Pirates won the high hurdle shuttle with Steinbrinck, Schwolow, Stephan, and Orzolek running. They took fifth in the two mile relay, third in the frosh-soph relay, and tied for third in the 880 relay. Their time in the low hurdle shuttle in which they were disqualified was the same as the class "A" first place team. Henry Spoo came through in the finals to win the discus throw while Harold Stephan scored fourth in the broad jump.

Antioch, last year's class "B" winner, fell to 13th and scored only six points. Their star broad jumper and hurdler, Mattson, and their gool pole vaulter, Kraft, turnel up ineligible this week, but Antioch still would not have been in the running. Batavia, a pre-meet favorite, had a lead on the "B" class field with but the 880 relay remaining but failed to place in that event.

Record attendance as well as entry

A crowd of over 500 paid admissions were collected for a new record along with the records of 29 schools and over 500 individual competitors. The crowd was kept under control the best of any meet in the 16 years. Palatine's financial stake in the meet was also the best.

The victory ceremony in the awarding of medals added much to the meet. Shirley Davidson, Palatine senior and queen of the relays, awarded first place medals. Her attendants, Phyllis Hodson, senior; Lois Hastings, junior; Dolores Scharringhousen, sophomore; and Patsy Collignon, freshman; awarded second, third, fourth, and fifth place medals.

Was Roman Lettuce

The early Romans held lettuce in high regard as a food. A favorite way of preparing it was by boiling with onions, parsley, and mint. Then it was seasoned with pepper and other seeds and served with gravy, oil, and wine.

State library exhibit heralds 100 year old Ill.-Mich. canal

The opening of the Illinois and Michigan canal, one of the most important developments in Illinois history, is the subject of a display by the Archives division of the Illinois State Library, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, state librarian, has announced.

Many of the original documents and papers dealing with the construction and operation of the canal are among the items in the exhibit.

It was on April 23, 1848, just 100 years ago last Friday, that the first boat moved down the canal which was to be the chief transportation route across the state for many years, Mr. Barrett pointed out. The canal's peak toll year was 1865, when $300,810 was paid in tolls, and its peak tonnage year was 1882, when the total was 1,011,287.

With the increased popularity and efficiency of railroads, activities along the canal declined rapidly, the total collected in tolls having dropped to $13,867 in 1900, and at present plans are under way to convert the old canal route into a superhighway leading out of Chicago, the state librarian said. But its construction and existence were the most important factors in the settlement of northern Illinois in the first half of the 19th century, he added.

Secretary Barrett called attention to the original Post and Paul map on display in the Archives building at Springfield. This map, drawn in 1824, was the first survey for the canal route and was also the first survey of lands in northern Illinois.

Another original on display is "An Act to repeal an Act to incorporate the Illinois and Michigan Canal Company and to authorize the Governor of Illinois to negotiate a loan for building the canal," passed by the Illinois Legislature in 1826.

There are also certificates of purchase for the first canal lands and the first Chicago lots sold by the Canal Commission. They were sold to Henry Robley for $1.25 an acre on April 30, 1830. Congress had granted the lands to Illinois, but the results of the land sale were disappointing, and it was not until July 4, 1836, that work was actually started, Mr. Barrett pointed out. Then, most of its 96 miles was dug by laborers using nothing more mechanical than shovels.

The 'General Fry" was the first boat to carry cargo from LaSalle to Chicago. One page of the records on display shows that the cargo was listed as "Molasses, nine boxes of books, 20 coils of rope, 133 hides and calfskins, potatoes, furniture, wheat, pork and passengers."

Other items displayed, Mr. Barrett said, are samples of the script used to pay the construction workers, bonds issued in terms of pounds sterling resulting from a British loan, the full report of the Board of Trustees of the Canal Commission for the year ending Nov. 30, 1848, field books used in making surveys, plans for aqueducts and bridges and many of the records of tolls received at various points along the canal route.

Records kept by John Kinzie in Chicago for July of 1848 show that tolls at that point totaled $6,623.01.

Several maps show different sections of the canal route. One shows the entire distance from Peru to Chicago and bears the names of many towns which have long since disappeared, such as Rockwell, Dresden, Romeo, and others which now bear different names; DuPage became Channahon, Juliet became Joliet, Athens became Keepotaw and then Lemont, Brush Hill became Fullersburg and is now Hinsdale.

Secretary Barrett called attention to one map which shows Kankakee at the head of the Illinois river, in what is now Grundy county. This was a town which never existed, except on paper, he pointed out. The present city of Kankakee is about 25 miles southeast of this spot.

Two Service Bulletins of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which are among the exhibits, carry a brief history of the canal. Concerning the mythical Kankakee, one bulletin says it was the largest city in the state—on paper. "It had 10 public squares, with any number of boulevards and public parks. Many of its lots were sold at auction in Chicago and New York at enormous prices. Its population never reached 100 and the town itself perished in the panic of 1837," the bulletin says.

Secretary Barrett pointed out that the canal route was used long before the canal was built. It was originally an Indian route, and later was used by both Indian and French traders. It was the route which Father Marquette followed when he first went through the territory that is now the state of Illinois. It was necessary, until the canal was built, to use portages from the Chicago river to the Des Plaines river and from the Des Plaines to the Illinois.

Several photographs, lent by the Division of Waterways of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, show scenes along the canal as it appears today.

Woodstock considering new water plant

Woodstock city council members last week looked into the future, 1970, to hear the needs of the city's water treatment plan to take care of a population of an estimated 10,660. This came about as the preliminary survey water treatment plant.

The report showed that the present distribution system is not capable of delivering enough water at high enough pressure because of the considerable number of small diameter mains in use and because of the deterioration caused over a period of years.

It was also pointed out that the Electric Auto-Lite uses one of every two gallons of water produced by the city.

Three wells now produce 3,750 gallons per minute at full capacity, or 1,600,000 gallons per day, but it isn't common use to have wells perform on around the clock schedule every day.

New driving range for northwest area

Golf enthusiasts in the northwest suburban area will be glad to hear that a new modern golf driving range is being opened up shortly by Ed Goetz of Park Ridge who is well known in suburban golf circles.

This new enterprise will be known as the Cumberland Fairway Driving Range and is located on the Northwest Highway, east of the Benjamin Plant, and less than three-quarters of a mile from the Des Plaines shopping district. According to Ed. this driving range will be one of the best lighted in the whole country; the lighting plan for it was developed by the Benjamin Illuminating Engineering Department. Provision has been made for 20 tees with adequate additional space available if business warrants future expansion.

Instructors will be available headed by Ed. Goetz who is a member of the Des Plaines Businessmen's Golf League, the Park Ridge Twilight Golf League and the organizer and president of the Benjamin Twilight Golf League. Ed. Goetz has been a resident of Park Ridge for 10 years and for the last several years has been employed in the Engineering Department of the Benjamin Electric Mfg. Company of Des Plaines.

A large parking space has been provided in connection with the driving range to eliminate the hazard of roadside parking.

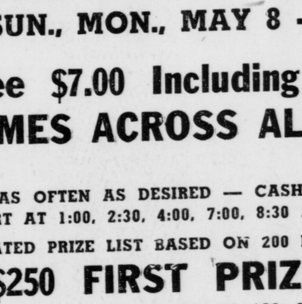

PROTECT your loved ones, your country place or suburban home, the priceless furnishings, your farm buildings, the valuable livestock, the things that mean much to you and which could never be replaced. Modern I. P. C. protection equipment gives you complete protection from lightning at a low cost. Be safe. Call short of the record and his :10.3 hundred yard dash against the wind was one of the best century marks in recent years at the Palatine meet. Grant won the low hurdle shuttle when Palatine was disqualified, took third in the high hurdle shuttle, and a tie for third in the 880 relay. Kirkpatrick got half a point with a tie for fifth in the high jump.

Dick Welty's Palatine Pirates made the best showing in five years, missing first place by one and one half points. The Pirates won the high hurdle shuttle with Steinbrinck, Schwolow, Stephan, and Orzolek running. They took fifth in the two mile relay, third in the frosh-soph relay, and tied for third in the 880 relay. Their time in the low hurdle shuttle in which they were disqualified was the same as the class "A" first place team. Henry Spoo came through in the finals to win the discus throw while Harold Stephan scored fourth in the broad jump.

Antioch, last year's class "B" winner, fell to 13th and scored only six points. Their star broad jumper and hurdler, Mattson, and their gool pole vaulter, Kraft, turnel up ineligible this week, but Antioch still would not have been in the running. Batavia, a pre-meet favorite, had a lead on the "B" class field with but the 880 relay remaining but failed to place in that event.

Record attendance as well as entry

A crowd of over 500 paid admissions were collected for a new record along with the records of 29 schools and over 500 individual competitors. The crowd was kept under control the best of any meet in the 16 years. Palatine's financial stake in the meet was also the best.

The victory ceremony in the awarding of medals added much to the meet. Shirley Davidson, Palatine senior and queen of the relays, awarded first place medals. Her attendants, Phyllis Hodson, senior; Lois Hastings, junior; Dolores Scharringhousen, sophomore; and Patsy Collignon, freshman; awarded second, third, fourth, and fifth place medals.

Was Roman Lettuce

The early Romans held lettuce in high regard as a food. A favorite way of preparing it was by boiling with onions, parsley, and mint. Then it was seasoned with pepper and other seeds and served with gravy, oil, and wine.

State library exhibit heralds 100 year old Ill.-Mich. canal

The opening of the Illinois and Michigan canal, one of the most important developments in Illinois history, is the subject of a display by the Archives division of the Illinois State Library, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, state librarian, has announced.

Many of the original documents and papers dealing with the construction and operation of the canal are among the items in the exhibit.

It was on April 23, 1848, just 100 years ago last Friday, that the first boat moved down the canal which was to be the chief transportation route across the state for many years, Mr. Barrett pointed out. The canal's peak toll year was 1865, when $300,810 was paid in tolls, and its peak tonnage year was 1882, when the total was 1,011,287.

With the increased popularity and efficiency of railroads, activities along the canal declined rapidly, the total collected in tolls having dropped to $13,867 in 1900, and at present plans are under way to convert the old canal route into a superhighway leading out of Chicago, the state librarian said. But its construction and existence were the most important factors in the settlement of northern Illinois in the first half of the 19th century, he added.

Secretary Barrett called attention to the original Post and Paul map on display in the Archives building at Springfield. This map, drawn in 1824, was the first survey for the canal route and was also the first survey of lands in northern Illinois.

Another original on display is "An Act to repeal an Act to incorporate the Illinois and Michigan Canal Company and to authorize the Governor of Illinois to negotiate a loan for building the canal," passed by the Illinois Legislature in 1826.

There are also certificates of purchase for the first canal lands and the first Chicago lots sold by the Canal Commission. They were sold to Henry Robley for $1.25 an acre on April 30, 1830. Congress had granted the lands to Illinois, but the results of the land sale were disappointing, and it was not until July 4, 1836, that work was actually started, Mr. Barrett pointed out. Then, most of its 96 miles was dug by laborers using nothing more mechanical than shovels.

The 'General Fry" was the first boat to carry cargo from LaSalle to Chicago. One page of the records on display shows that the cargo was listed as "Molasses, nine boxes of books, 20 coils of rope, 133 hides and calfskins, potatoes, furniture, wheat, pork and passengers."

Other items displayed, Mr. Barrett said, are samples of the script used to pay the construction workers, bonds issued in terms of pounds sterling resulting from a British loan, the full report of the Board of Trustees of the Canal Commission for the year ending Nov. 30, 1848, tield books used in making surveys, plans for aqueducts and bridges and many of the records of tolls received at various points along the canal route.

Records kept by John Kinzie in Chicago for July of 1848 show that tolls at that point totaled $6,623.01.

Several maps show different sections of the canal route. One shows the entire distance from Peru to Chicago and bears the names of many towns which have long since disappeared, such as Rockwell, Dresden, Romeo, and others which now bear different names; DuPage became Channahon, Juliet became Joliet, Athens became Keepotaw and then Lemont, Brush Hill became Fullersburg and is now Hinsdale.

Secretary Barrett called attention to one map which shows Kankakee at the head of the Illinois river, in what is now Grundy county. This was a town which never existed, except on paper, he pointed out. The present city of Kankakee is about 25 miles southeast of this spot.

Two Service Bulletins of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which are among the exhibits, carry a brief history of the canal. Concerning the mythical Kankakee, one bulletin says it was the largest city in the state—on paper. "It had 10 public squares, with any number of boulevards and public parks. Many of its lots were sold at auction in Chicago and New York at enormous prices. Its population never reached 100 and the town itself perished in the panic of 1837," the bulletin says.

Secretary Barrett pointed out that the canal route was used long before the canal was built. It was originally an Indian route, and later was used by both Indian and French traders. It was the route which Father Marquette followed when he first went through the territory that is now the state of Illinois. It was necessary, until the canal was built, to use portages from the Chicago river to the Des Plaines river and from the Des Plaines to the Illinois.

Several photographs, lent by the Division of Waterways of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, show scenes along the canal as it appears today.

Woodstock considering new water plant

Woodstock city council members last week looked into the future, 1970, to hear the needs of the city's water treatment plan to take care of a population of an estimated 10,660. This came about as the preliminary survey water treatment plant.

The report showed that the present distribution system is not capable of delivering enough water at high enough pressure because of the considerable number of small diameter mains in use and because of the deterioration caused over a period of years.

It was also pointed out that the Electric Auto-Lite uses one of every two gallons of water produced by the city.

Three wells now produce 3,750 gallons per minute at full capacity, or 1,600,000 gallons per day, but it isn't common use to have wells perform on around the clock schedule every day.

New driving range for northwest area

Golf enthusiasts in the northwest suburban area will be glad to hear that a new modern golf driving range is being opened up shortly by Ed Goetz of Park Ridge who is well known in suburban golf circles.

This new enterprise will be known as the Cumberland Fairway Driving Range and is located on the Northwest Highway, east of the Benjamin Plant, and less than three-quarters of a mile from the Des Plaines shopping district. According to Ed. this driving range will be one of the best lighted in the whole country; the lighting plan for it was developed by the Benjamin Illuminating Engineering Department. Provision has been made for 20 tees with adequate additional space available if business warrants future expansion.

Instructors will be available headed by Ed. Goetz who is a member of the Des Plaines Businessmen's Golf League, the Park Ridge Twilight Golf League and the organizer and president of the Benjamin Twilight Golf League. Ed. Goetz has been a resident of Park Ridge for 10 years and for the last several years has been employed in the Engineering Department of the Benjamin Electric Mfg. Company of Des Plaines.

A large parking space has been provided in connection with the driving range to eliminate the hazard of roadside parking.

PROTECT your loved ones, your country place or suburban home, the priceless furnishings, your farm buildings, the valuable livestock, the things that mean much to you and which could never be replaced. Modern I. P. C. protection equipment gives you complete protection from lightning at a low cost. Be safe. Call

Scout council officers in Park Ridge meeting

by ARNOLD HATCH

Fourteen members of N. W. Suburban Council committee and executive board met at Pickwick theatre lounge, Park Ridge, Friday evening, April 23, to dispose of old and consider new business on the agenda.

Bill Kratt, finance chairman, reported results of finance drives to date are very encouraging, Palatine $561, Skokie $3100, Mt. Prospect $1072, Prospect Heights $268, Arlington Heights $1665, Schiller Park $187, Lake Zurich $204, Park Ridge and Des Plaines are getting away to a fast start and Barrington expects to get their drive under way in May.

Bill read three resolutions which had been approved by the council committee at the March 15 meeting. (1) Funds raised in the name of the Boy Scouts of America (2) Community and District expenses and (3) Troop property and troop meeting place.

These amendatory resolutions give sole responsibility to the Scout Council for conducting finance drives, collecting of all funds thus raised and disbursement of said funds into channels intended solely to promote scouting, maintaining the high standards and ideals originally set by the National Council. The above resolutions after a short discussion were unanimously adopted by the executive board.

Bill pointed out that our outdoor camp at Funk Lake, Wisconsin. must be ready for use in 1949 and a permanent camp director should be appointed this year. He also stated that the drive for $100,000 which is necessary to completely build and equip the outdoor camp at Funk Lake will start June 1 and he recommends that industrial, commercial and residential finance chairman be appointed for each area.

Marty Hapeman, advancement chairman, reported conditions improving in Skokie, Des Plaines apparently OK but more work to be done in District 1 and Blackhawk District.

Al Whitton, training chairman, announced the 6 week scoutmaster training course is nearing completion with the overnight camp at Camp Baden Powell May 15 and 16 as the final meeting. Results are very satisfactory.

John Speer, organization and extension chairman, suggested that many charter presentations could be made much more impressive if ceremonies received more planning and preparation.

Otto Harz, outdoor chairman, said summer camping for this year is well organized, reservations are coming in for Twin Lakes and several scouters are planning to make the week end trip to Funk Lake to participate in the planting of 7000 young pine trees.

Arnold Hatch, publicity chairman, reported that publicity expenditures from January 1 to April 15 was $94 and covered such items as posters, stickers, newspaper cuts, mats, miniature commissioner pins and the scout widows ball expense.

Stan Hunting, scout executive, believes that much needed war surplus equipment for the permanent outdoor camp will soon be available.

Dave Lewis, council president, cordially invites all administrative officers of the council and district to attend the regional annual meeting to be held at the Edgewater Beach hotel, April 27.

Jim Wax, chairman of Blackhawk disrict, announced that the Lions club of Mt. Prospect will sponsor a new Boy Scout troop of the same village.

Council administrative officers enjoying the refreshments provided by the council were, Dave Lewis, council president; Bill Kratt, finance chr.; Marty Hapeman, advancement chr.; John Speers, org. and ext. chr.; Al Whitton, training chr.; Otto Harz, camping co-chr.; and Stan Huntington, scout executive.

Also, Wally DeBuhr, ass't scout executive; Fred Smith, chr. main ridge dist.; Jim Wax, chr. Blackhawk dist.; Orville Wente, chr. Skokie dist.; Eric Schalk, council member and Arnold Hatch, publicity chr.

Secretaries lead busy life at Arlington high school

by JOAN UNGER

Telephones ringing, typewriters tapping; mailmen, teachers, salesmen, students, and parents asking for advice; students getting admit slips into school; switch board buzzing; hurry, scurry, rushing here and there. This is the typical scene of the A. H. T. H. S. office each morning and afternoon. If you want to see office routine broken by endless interruptions, just drop into the high school office some time.

The three hard working secretaries in Arlington High aren't usually given as much credit as they really deserve. These office secretaries do much more than one would realize. It takes time to answer questions and in our office many questions are asked every period of the day. I'd like to tell you a little bit of the work of these office women who pleasantly stop a "dead line" job to help a perplexed inquisitor.

Miss Elaine Kehe is secretary to our principal, Mr. LeRoy Knoeppel. Starting work at 7:40, Elaine finishes at 4:40. She has the job of recording grades, working with Adult Education, and taking announcements to the classes. After graduating from A. H. T. H. S. in 1947, the petite member of the office trio, started her secretarial duties in September. Elaine's spare time is devoted to dramatics, being at the present the star of the Lutheran church play "The Patsy." Elaine also belongs to the Walther League at the St. Peter Lutheran church where she is very active in all sports.

Mrs. Edwin Guenther is the bookkeeper at A. H. T. H. S. She starts work at 8:10 and finishes at 5:00. Her job is to balance the books, write salary checks, and make out numerous reports for board meetings. Mrs. Guenther worked at Thornton Township Junior college and high school for many years. She married in 1944 and retired, but now she has taken her job at A. H. T. H. S. In Mrs. Guenther's spare time she is a housewife.

Miss Jean Hanauer is another one of the busy office staff. Miss Hanauer graduated from A. H. T. H. S. in 1939 and worked down town for five years before coming to work at school in the fall of 1945. To her goes the job of being attendance secretary and switch board operator, making out the announcements, working at the supply cart each morning, typing, and cheerfully handing out detention slips to those students who are late for their classes. Jean starts work at 7:50 and ends about 4:50. In the summer she takes care of the books and repairs them. Jean also works on the enrollment for the next school year. In her spare time, Jean studies the Bible and works with young people. Her latest hobbie is her old Model "T" car.

The office staff at A. H. T. H. S. is efficient and pleasant. When students step into the office, they receive ready help given with a smile. Faculty members know to whom they can go when problems arise. What would Mr. Knoeppel and Mr. Slichenmyer do without their "women" to do their detail work?

We salute you—Miss Kehe, Mrs. Guenther, and Miss Hanauer—for making drab, routine work appear the most fascinating phase of school life. We thank you for making the Arlington Hi office a place to be enjoyed, not dreaded.

Notice

Take notice that an application for retail liquor dealers' license outside incorporated village or town in Cook county has been made by the following.

John H. Gunnell, "El Rando Tavern" N. W. Cor. Foundry and Rand Roads, Wheeling Township, Mt. Prospect, Illinois.

Objections to the granting of such license may be made to the President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, as Local Liquor Control Commissioner in writing and signed by the objector within five days stating specifically the grounds of objection.

W. N. ERICKSON,
Cook County Liquor Control Commissioner.

Presenting the younger generation

The smiling youngster on the right is Rodney Catsiff, four and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Catsiff, 534 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights. Rodney, who will be five July 27, has blonde hair and blue eyes and will begin in kindergarten class at South school.

Rodney has a younger brother, Stephen, 2 years old, who is not pictured here. Stephen also has blue eyes and blonde hair, but he won't be able to go to school with his brother for several more years.

The brother and sister in the center picture are children of Mr. and Mrs. O. Neagle, 45 W. Wilson, Palatine. Judy, who is 4, has black hair and dark brown eyes, as does her older brother Jerry, 8 years old.

Miss Dotty Dotts (far right) is the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dotts, 600 Banbury, Aruington Heights, and has blue eyes and reddish blonde hair. Dotty, who will be six April 27, is in the afternoon Kindergarten group at South school. She also has two older brothers, Bobby, 12, in the sixth grade at South school, and Harold, 15, sophomore at Arlington Hi.

by JOAN UNGER

Telephones ringing, typewriters tapping; mailmen, teachers, salesmen, students, and parents asking for advice; students getting admit slips into school; switch board buzzing; hurry, scurry, rushing here and there. This is the typical scene of the A. H. T. H. S. office each morning and afternoon. If you want to see office routine broken by endless interruptions, just drop into the high school office some time.

The three hard working secretaries in Arlington High aren't usually given as much credit as they really deserve. These office secretaries do much more than one would realize. It takes time to answer questions and in our office many questions are asked every period of the day. I'd like to tell you a little bit of the work of these office women who pleasantly stop a "dead line" job to help a perplexed inquisitor.

Miss Elaine Kehe is secretary to our principal, Mr. LeRoy Knoeppel. Starting work at 7:40, Elaine finishes at 4:40. She has the job of recording grades, working with Adult Education, and taking announcements to the classes. After graduating from A. H. T. H. S. in 1947, the petite member of the office trio, started her secretarial duties in September. Elaine's spare time is devoted to dramatics, being at the present the star of the Lutheran church play "The Patsy." Elaine also belongs to the Walther League at the St. Peter Lutheran church where she is very active in all sports.

Mrs. Edwin Guenther is the bookkeeper at A. H. T. H. S. She starts work at 8:10 and finishes at 5:00. Her job is to balance the books, write salary checks, and make out numerous reports for board meetings. Mrs. Guenther worked at Thornton Township Junior college and high school for many years. She married in 1944 and retired, but now she has taken her job at A. H. T. H. S. In Mrs. Guenther's spare time she is a housewife.

Miss Jean Hanauer is another one of the busy office staff. Miss Hanauer graduated from A. H. T. H. S. in 1939 and worked down town for five years before coming to work at school in the fall of 1945. To her goes the job of being attendance secretary and switch board operator, making out the announcements, working at the supply cart each morning, typing, and cheerfully handing out detention slips to those students who are late for their classes. Jean starts work at 7:50 and ends about 4:50. In the summer she takes care of the books and repairs them. Jean also works on the enrollment for the next school year. In her spare time, Jean studies the Bible and works with young people. Her latest hobbie is her old Model "T" car.

The office staff at A. H. T. H. S. is efficient and pleasant. When students step into the office, they receive ready help given with a smile. Faculty members know to whom they can go when problems arise. What would Mr. Knoeppel and Mr. Slichenmyer do without their "women" to do their detail work?

We salute you—Miss Kehe, Mrs. Guenther, and Miss Hanauer—for making drab, routine work appear the most fascinating phase of school life. We thank you for making the Arlington Hi office a place to be enjoyed, not dreaded.

Notice

Take notice that an application for retail liquor dealers' license outside incorporated village or town in Cook county has been made by the following.

John H. Gunnell, "El Rando Tavern" N. W. Cor. Foundry and Rand Roads, Wheeling Township, Mt. Prospect, Illinois.

Objections to the granting of such license may be made to the President of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County, as Local Liquor Control Commissioner in writing and signed by the objector within five days stating specifically the grounds of objection.

Presenting the younger generation

The smiling youngster on the right is Rodney Catsiff, four and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Catsiff, 534 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights. Rodney, who will be five July 27, has blonde hair and blue eyes and will begin in kindergarten class at South school.

Rodney has a younger brother, Stephen, 2 years old, who is not pictured here. Stephen also has blue eyes and blonde hair, but he won't be able to go to school with his brother for several more years.

The brother and sister in the center picture are children of Mr. and Mrs. O. Neagle, 45 W. Wilson, Palatine. Judy, who is 4, has black hair and dark brown eyes, as does her older brother Jerry, 8 years old.

Miss Dotty Dotts (far right) is the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dotts, 600 Banbury, Aruington Heights, and has blue eyes and reddish blonde hair. Dotty, who will be six April 27, is in the afternoon Kindergarten group at South school. She also has two older brothers, Bobby, 12, in the sixth grade at South school, and Harold, 15, sophomore at Arlington Hi.

Journal of a Bird WatcheR

By F. J. FREEMAN

May! The month when nature bursts with energy — also the housewife with house cleaning, the gardener with gardening, and the bird lover with bird watching. What a month to wear oneself to a frazzle! Nearly every day in my journal has one or more new arrivals listed, — altogether fifty-five newcomers for the month.

May 1st (1947)—The chimney swifts returned to our neighborhood—about twenty-five of them —and made passes at the chimney of the old school house, across the street from us, turned into an apartment building. But as the heat was still on they did not get very near to entering it.

May 4th — This Sunday down in the Wood Dale woods we saw the first tufted titmouse we had seen in years and across the road up in the trees a rose-breasted grosbeak and down below a yellow warbler. Cornelia and I were much pleased with ourselves.

May 7th — Temperature this a. m. 38 degrees—slight spot of snow! Much excited this evening when passing Elk Grove preserve to identify an osprey flying in the distance. Have not seen one of these for about fourteen years. The last time being in northern Michigan in the Porcupine Mountains when camping out with Ralph Spears.

May 12th — Picked up a live pied-billed grebe lying on its back on the Northwest Highway near Barrington today. Thought it was helpless because it was off the water. The legs of these birds are so far back that they cannot walk on the ground nor fly from the ground. They can only fly from water. It turned out that the bird was sick and had lost its equilibrium. It died that night at the home of some friends in Barrington where I left it. They froze the body in their refrigerator, and later I took it home and skinned it with the idea of preserving the skin. The gizzard and portions of the viscera around it were a grass green. I dried some of the contents of the gizzard and sent it to the Fish and Wildlife Service of the government who informed me that it was their opinion that the bird probably died of lead poisoning. Ducks and geese have been known to swallow lead shot, expended by hunters, when they swallow gravel. This gradually poisons and paralyses them and quite often proves fatal.

May 16th—Peter had a day off from school so he went with me. I left him at DePue's subdivision on south Plum Grove road while I went about my business. He saw many migrants in the woods. I came back at noon and we had our sandwich lunch, and then I dropped him off at the slough west of Palatine. He had great fun there in the afternoon stalking rails.

May 18th—This Sunday Cornelia and the boys and Bill Turner and I drove down to the sand dunes in Indiana on our annual "see-how-many-birds-we-can-spot-today" trip. We saw seventy-five and a half birds. The half birds was the complete tail of a lapland longspur with a bit of flesh attached. A bird who had lost his tail like that probably did not live to tell the tale, and the half of him left was probably all of him that was left. After supper at the picnic area I came upon a group of people standing around in an expectant and self-conscious manner. Wondering what had happened—whether there had been an accident or something — I joined the circle but found nothing apparently amiss. While I stood there wondering what it was all about an uninteresting woman of a desparate age commenced calling "Birds! Birds! Birds!" It seems this was a group who had been birding and this was an organization meeting to start an Audubon group. The cry of "Birds!" was to attract all and sundry who might be interested in our feathered friends. Somehow it failed to attract me. We drove home at night very tired and glad of the dark so we did not have to keep looking for birds.

May 23rd — After a day and night of rain, it has dawned cloudy and still raining lightly and quietly. I believe the peak of the warbler migration is here. Outside our windows this morning the trees are alive with warblers. In the hard maples we counted ten or twelve warblers at a time and there may have been more outside our range of vision. We had mostly bay-breasted and black poll warblers. Elk Grove, DePue's subdivision, Palatine, wherever I drove, the trees were ailve with birds. In our yard there were probably an average of fifty birds at a time, and if thought could compass the magnitude of this wave of warblers, one could realize the thousands upon thousands of birds moving north.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

By F. J. FREEMAN

May! The month when nature bursts with energy — also the housewife with house cleaning, the gardener with gardening, and the bird lover with bird watching. What a month to wear oneself to a frazzle! Nearly every day in my journal has one or more new arrivals listed, — altogether fifty-five newcomers for the month.

May 1st (1947)—The chimney swifts returned to our neighborhood—about twenty-five of them —and made passes at the chimney of the old school house, across the street from us, turned into an apartment building. But as the heat was still on they did not get very near to entering it.

May 4th — This Sunday down in the Wood Dale woods we saw the first tufted titmouse we had seen in years and across the road up in the trees a rose-breasted grosbeak and down below a yellow warbler. Cornelia and I were much pleased with ourselves.

May 7th — Temperature this a. m. 38 degrees—slight spot of snow! Much excited this evening when passing Elk Grove preserve to identify an osprey flying in the distance. Have not seen one of these for about fourteen years. The last time being in northern Michigan in the Porcupine Mountains when camping out with Ralph Spears.

May 12th — Picked up a live pied-billed grebe lying on its back on the Northwest Highway near Barrington today. Thought it was helpless because it was off the water. The legs of these birds are so far back that they cannot walk on the ground nor fly from the ground. They can only fly from water. It turned out that the bird was sick and had lost its equilibrium. It died that night at the home of some friends in Barrington where I left it. They froze the body in their refrigerator, and later I took it home and skinned it with the idea of preserving the skin. The gizzard and portions of the viscera around it were a grass green. I dried some of the contents of the gizzard and sent it to the Fish and Wildlife Service of the government who informed me that it was their opinion that the bird probably died of lead poisoning. Ducks and geese have been known to swallow lead shot, expended by hunters, when they swallow gravel. This gradually poisons and paralyses them and quite often proves fatal.

May 16th—Peter had a day off from school so he went with me. I left him at DePue's subdivision on south Plum Grove road while I went about my business. He saw many migrants in the woods. I came back at noon and we had our sandwich lunch, and then I dropped him off at the slough west of Palatine. He had great fun there in the afternoon stalking rails.

May 18th—This Sunday Cornelia and the boys and Bill Turner and I drove down to the sand dunes in Indiana on our annual "see-how-many-birds-we-can-spot-today" trip. We saw seventy-five and a half birds. The half birds was the complete tail of a lapland longspur with a bit of flesh attached. A bird who had lost his tail like that probably did not live to tell the tale, and the half of him left was probably all of him that was left. After supper at the picnic area I came upon a group of people standing around in an expectant and self-conscious manner. Wondering what had happened—whether there had been an accident or something — I joined the circle but found nothing apparently amiss. While I stood there wondering what it was all about an uninteresting woman of a desparate age commenced calling "Birds! Birds! Birds!" It seems this was a group who had been birding and this was an organization meeting to start an Audubon group. The cry of "Birds!" was to attract all and sundry who might be interested in our feathered friends. Somehow it failed to attract me. We drove home at night very tired and glad of the dark so we did not have to keep looking for birds.

May 23rd — After a day and night of rain, it has dawned cloudy and still raining lightly and quietly. I believe the peak of the warbler migration is here. Outside our windows this morning the trees are alive with warblers. In the hard maples we counted ten or twelve warblers at a time and there may have been more outside our range of vision. We had mostly bay-breasted and black poll warblers. Elk Grove, DePue's subdivision, Palatine, wherever I drove, the trees were ailve with birds. In our yard there were probably an average of fifty birds at a time, and if thought could compass the magnitude of this wave of warblers, one could realize the thousands upon thousands of birds moving north.

Doctor Ward's Notebook

The title of this column has been changed to comply with American Medical Association regulations made several years ago which were unknown to the writer and publishers.

Doctor John Ward was an English physician who practiced medicine in 17th Century London. Although never famous as a doctor, he was well known for his notebooks on medical and related subjects which he prepared for his lay readers. According to Sir D'Arcy Power, he "recorded from time to time notes of what he had read or heard, or ideas and suggestions which might have serviceable . . . His object was clearly to help his (patients) in their daily trials." In borrowing Dr. Ward's name and idea, it is hoped that this column will in a like manner provide "serviceable suggestions" for its readers.

Now back of the emergency treatment of poisoning . . .

1. Prompt action is necessary and may be life-saving. (This does not mean hysteria.)
2. Have some one call a physician at once.
3. Attempt to remove as much of the material as quickly as possible. More may be accomplished by an untrained person during the first few minutes than by any doctor later. If the substance has been swallowed, vomiting should be induced; large amounts of almost any fluid, a tablespoonful of mustard in warm water, or a finger in the throat will usually do the trick. Acids or alkalies, whether taken internally or externally, should be diluted with copious amounts of water.
4. Counteract the poison with an antidote. If there is a jar or bottle, this procedure may be on the label. Or your physician can suggest effective measures over the phone. In the case of swallowed poisons, milk and egg white may safely be given after vomiting has occurred to coat the stomach.
5. Protect the patient from shock, if rapid breathing, sweating, coldness, or weak pulse develop before medical aid arrives. A warm blanket with head low will accomplish this.

Of course, these suggestions are really unnecessary because by now everyone has their household poisons locked away where neither junior or father can get into them . . .

KISS-PROOF LIPSTICK containing indelible dye is the most frequent cause of inflammation of the lips . . . New hope for ANEMIC BABIES of Rh-negative mothers: repeated blood transfusions in the first few days of life have reduced the mortality of this previously fatal disease to almost zero in favorable cases.

GOOD NEWS for blondes: A new sunburn cream utilizing para-aminobenzoic acid is non-irritating, does not soil clothes, mixes readily with cold cream and ointments, and provides complete protection against the sun.

The United States BIRTH RATE in 1947 reached an all-time high: 25.9 babies per 1000 population. Thus, more than 3,700,000 new income tax exemptions made their appearance last year.

Mr. & Mrs. F. E. Krage are married fifty years

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Krage of Addison will join in celebrating the couple's golden wedding anniversary this coming week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Krage will be hosts to the Krage family at their home at 13 E. Lake st., Addison, on the day of the anniversary, May 1. On Sunday, May 2, at 3:00, anniversary vespers in honor of the event will be held at the Evangelical Lutheran church of St. Paul in Addison. Following the service, from 4:00-6:00, an open house reception will be held in St. Paul's school, when the Krages will be happy to greet their friends and acquaintances.

The couple have been lifelong residents of this area. Mrs. Krage is the former Caroline Schumacher of York Center. He is now 74 and she is 69. Following their marriage they first lived in Addison, where Mr. Krage was a tinner and owner of a hardware store. Later they moved to a farm on Villa ave., where they lived until 1921. After spending a year in California, the Krages returned to Addison, where Mr. Krage again took up his former trade, in which he is active even now.

All children born to the Krages are still living. They are Elmer C. of Addison; Arthur and Edmund of Elmhurst; Harvey, teacher in a Lutheran school at Detroit; and Rose, wife of the Rev. Daniel E. Poellot at Addison. There are 11 grandchildren and a great grandson. Witnesses to the Krage wedding fifty years ago at Zion church in Churchville included Miss Emma Borns of Elmhurst, Mrs. Emma Roberts of Hinsdale, Mrs. Pauline Klehm of La Porte, Ind., and William Graue of Hinsdale.

During his residence in Addison township, Mr. Krage served as road commissioner for many years and still holds office as a township school trustee.

Social security widows

Most widows attaining age 65, who previously received lump sum payments under the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system after December 31, 1939, are eligible for monthly benefit checks for the rest of their lives unless they have remarried, Mrs. Hilda E. Eidman, manager of the Oak Park Social Security office said. They must file claims for these monthly benefits in order to get them.

Despite information furnished at the time of the husband's death, many widows do not remember that they may be entitled to monthly benefits when they reach 65 years of age, Mrs. Eidman said. "Although we try to follow up on all these cases, sometimes we cannot locate the widows. Only this week a widow came to our office and learned she had lost several months' payments because she had delayed in filing her claim."

If you received a lump sum payment after December 31, 1939, and are now 65, get in touch with the Social Security Administration field offices at 901 Lake st., Oak Park, or 1045 West Lawrence ave., in Chicago.

Hold hearings on phone rate increases in Park Ridge, Des Plaines

Hearings that may add another 75 cents to a dollar to the phone bills of Park Ridge and Des Plaines residents and up to $2 to business users began before the Illinois Commerce commission last week.

The hearings are on a petition for the rate increase by the Middle States Telephone company.

R. A. Phillips, president of the company, told the commission this was the first increase asked by his firm in 20 years and it was needed for an improvement program that will see new buildings and a dial system in Des Plaines and Park Ridge before December, 1949.

Atty. Herbert Stoffels, representing Park Ridge, declared, "We are not interested in supporting the Middle States' downstate system."

He maintained the Park Ridge-Des Plaines operation should be considered as a separate unit, and that a complete case on the need for increase in this area should be presented by the company before the rate is boosted.

Hearings will be continued May 11.

Park Ridge gets back tax monies

Efforts of City Attorney, City Treasurer and the city council finance and claims committee resulted last week in transfer of $11,000 in 1942, 1944, 1945 and 1946 tax objections from the office of the county treasurer to Park Ridge.

The Park Ridge delegation conferred with the state's attorney and county treasurer for release of the monies to the city. The amount re-alocated represents "practically all of the money held for those years," Mr. Stoffels said.

JUST DOGS

Mistaken Sickness

Much has been written and said about distemper in dogs, however, the American Veterinary Medical association recently brought to light something when it made the anouncement warning dog owners to watch out for signs of so-called sleeping sickness, or encephalitis in their pets.

The disease may be responsible for a great many of the dog losses heretofore attributed to distemper, and is caused by a virus that affects the brain and nervous system.

Distempter is also caused by a virus, and the symptoms are similar, but the treatment for the two disease is different. An attack of encephalitis usually begins with violent convulsions followed by a lethargy in which the dog apears to be "walking in its sleep." Anti-encephalitis serum is effective when applied in the early stages of the disease and along with proper care will bring the dog back to normal.

"The Bricklayers" owner dies

Those of you who have had occasion to attend a theater where vaudeville was shown may have at one time or another seen the famous dog act called "The Bricklayers" in which twelve dogs participated.

The owner and trainer of the dogs, Mr. Leonard H. Gautier, died recently at his home in Plainfield, N. J., and with his passiing one of the most popular acts in show business has ended.

Mr. Gautier was born in Nantes, France, fifty-seven years ago and began his career as an animal trainer following in the footsteps of his father.

"The Bricklayers," the best known of the Gautier dog routines is a group of construction workers, that are building a house.

As reported in "Kennel Bits," the patience and love of dogs was more than evident in the life of Mr. Gautier and it is hoped that his son intends to continue the work of his father will carry on with the same thing in mind—that of patience in training dogs.

Steel City K. C. Show

The show held at Hammond, Ind., last Sunday by the Steel City Kennel Club had quite an entry from the middle west including the area served by your paper, according to those who attended. However, the dog editor did not quite make it. He was at home getting ready to put in a new driveway and lawn. If you like to rake come on over. .

Rescue Dogs

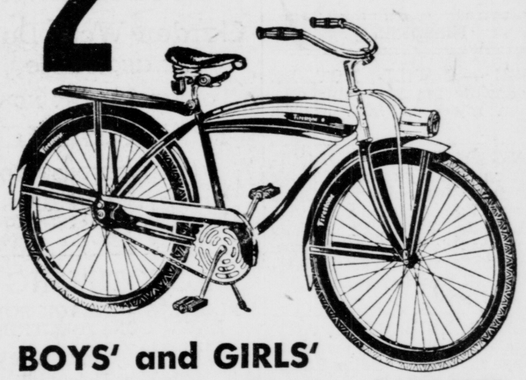

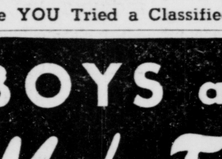

Dogs are being used more and more these days for rescue jobs where a sense of smell is the only way of finding persons who have become lost or met with disaster in one form or another.

In this country the U. S. Air Forces Atlantic Division, of the Air Transport Command is using Paradogs as part of their Arctic Search and Rescue Unit in the far north. More about them in a later column.

In Britain the National Coal Board has approved the training of some dogs to be used in mine rescue work, a job where a sense of smell means life or death for all concerned.

Doctor Ward's Notebook

The title of this column has been changed to comply with American Medical Association regulations made several years ago which were unknown to the writer and publishers.

Doctor John Ward was an English physician who practiced medicine in 17th Century London. Although never famous as a doctor, he was well known for his notebooks on medical and related subjects which he prepared for his lay readers. According to Sir D'Arcy Power, he "recorded from time to time notes of what he had read or heard, or ideas and suggestions which might have serviceable . . . His object was clearly to help his (patients) in their daily trials." In borrowing Dr. Ward's name and idea, it is hoped that this column will in a like manner provide "serviceable suggestions" for its readers.

Now back of the emergency treatment of poisoning . . .

1. Prompt action is necessary and may be life-saving. (This does not mean hysteria.)
2. Have some one call a physician at once.
3. Attempt to remove as much of the material as quickly as possible. More may be accomplished by an untrained person during the first few minutes than by any doctor later. If the substance has been swallowed, vomiting should be induced; large amounts of almost any fluid, a tablespoonful of mustard in warm water, or a finger in the throat will usually do the trick. Acids or alkalies, whether taken internally or externally, should be diluted with copious amounts of water.
4. Counteract the poison with an antidote. If there is a jar or bottle, this procedure may be on the label. Or your physician can suggest effective measures over the phone. In the case of swallowed poisons, milk and egg white may safely be given after vomiting has occurred to coat the stomach.
5. Protect the patient from shock, if rapid breathing, sweating, coldness, or weak pulse develop before medical aid arrives. A warm blanket with head low will accomplish this.

Of course, these suggestions are really unnecessary because by now everyone has their household poisons locked away where neither junior or father can get into them . . .

KISS-PROOF LIPSTICK containing indelible dye is the most frequent cause of inflammation of the lips . . . New hope for ANEMIC BABIES of Rh-negative mothers: repeated blood transfusions in the first few days of life have reduced the mortality of this previously fatal disease to almost zero in favorable cases.

GOOD NEWS for blondes: A new sunburn cream utilizing para-aminobenzoic acid is non-irritating, does not soil clothes, mixes readily with cold cream and ointments, and provides complete protection against the sun.

The United States BIRTH RATE in 1947 reached an all-time high: 25.9 babies per 1000 population. Thus, more than 3,700,000 new income tax exemptions made their appearance last year.

Mr. & Mrs. F. E. Krage are married fifty years

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Krage of Addison will join in celebrating the couple's golden wedding anniversary this coming week end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Krage will be hosts to the Krage family at their home at 13 E. Lake st., Addison, on the day of the anniversary, May 1. On Sunday, May 2, at 3:00, anniversary vespers in honor of the event will be held at the Evangelical Lutheran church of St. Paul in Addison. Following the service, from 4:00-6:00, an open house reception will be held in St. Paul's school, when the Krages will be happy to greet their friends and acquaintances.

The couple have been lifelong residents of this area. Mrs. Krage is the former Caroline Schumacher of York Center. He is now 74 and she is 69. Following their marriage they first lived in Addison, where Mr. Krage was a tinner and owner of a hardware store. Later they moved to a farm on Villa ave., where they lived until 1921. After spending a year in California, the Krages returned to Addison, where Mr. Krage again took up his former trade, in which he is active even now.

All children born to the Krages are still living. They are Elmer C. of Addison; Arthur and Edmund of Elmhurst; Harvey, teacher in a Lutheran school at Detroit; and Rose, wife of the Rev. Daniel E. Poellot at Addison. There are 11 grandchildren and a great grandson. Witnesses to the Krage wedding fifty years ago at Zion church in Churchville included Miss Emma Borns of Elmhurst, Mrs. Emma Roberts of Hinsdale, Mrs. Pauline Klehm of La Porte, Ind., and William Graue of Hinsdale.

Prof. Billington Speaks In Des Plaines Tuesday on 'Third Parties In U. S. A.'

Prof. Ray A. Billington of Northwestern University will give a talk Tuesday evening, May 4, at 584 Webford Ave., Des Plaines, on the subject "Third Parties In The U.S.A." The public is invited to hear him on this timely subject in an election year which old time newspaper men hail as probably the most exciting since 1912 when Teddy Roosevelt bolted the GOP and founded the famous Bull Moose movement.

The event, which is sponsored by the Des Plaines Chapter for Wallace for President, is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Refreshments will follow.

Way Back When

April 24, 1908 Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money. April 24, 1908

Bensenville fast becoming 'boom'town

Bensenville is on the "boom" path nowadays. A social hall is going up as fast as the masons can push it, and Tuesday the majority vote favored building a village hall. Now with a little more hard work we ought to get a street car line out here, which would make ours the finest town for public improvements for miles around.

Elect school board in Arlington Heights

Over 200 votes were polled at the Arlington Heights public school election Sat., evening, resulting in the choice of the following for President of the board of education, Lewis G. Helm; for members of Board of Education, Fred Sieburg Sr., John C. Boeger.

New train schedules for Palatine

The new time card went into effect Sunday and all-in-all Palatine is benefited thereby. The early morning daily train northbound at 7.30 is taken off, but we are given an extra evening train both ways.

It leaves Chicago at 9:10, arriving here at 10:10, and returns at 10:50, arriving at Chicago at 11:48 p. m.

The Janesville train now leaves at Barrington. A Barrington train leaves the city at 4:50 p. m., arriving here at 5:36, with Des Plaines as first stop.

The extra evening train was secured through a petition, circulated especially by the Masonic orders, whose jurisdiction takes in the Heights, this giving them a train by which they can return home, after lodge or chapter meeting.

The Northwestern is taking off trains along other divisions and we are fortunate in securing the new service.

First National bank to open soon in Arlington Heights

Peter Beyer's First National Bank and Information Bureau, a neat, spacious building occupying an entire block on North Dunton street, is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be ready for business — receive deposits and loan money, entertain democratic politicians, etc — who are on the wining ticket this year.

Regulars win in Bloomingdale election

Bloomingdale village election April 21 went 2 to 1 in favor of the regular nomination ticket, 105 votes were cast as follows:

For village trustee: John Blank, 62; Henry Haberkamp, 73; Fred Haberstich, 69; Frank Meyer, 39; Christ Hoff Jr., 36; Adam P. Bortner, 34.

For village clerk: John H. Rucker, 68; Theodore Achard, 36.

For police magistrate: Edwin Schmidt, 74; Constable Wm. Thurnau, 95.

The verdict of Tuesday's village election vindicated the Investigation committee. The taxpayers have been aroused and will continue to fight until they are emancipated from thrawldom.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever;
Its loveliness increases; it will never
Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing."

These words of Keats seemed more than ever appropriate as I looked around the farm this weekend.

There had been great activity. Rob's friends, Rick and Bern., came out from the city with him Friday night determined to work. As you well know, they came to the right place for that! When they left on the early train this morning, the farm was wearing a "new look." The lawn has been cut, bushes transplanted, annual and perennial flower beds cultivated, a fence painted, and debris burned. The rain held off until a few hours ago, and now the fields of alfalfa have a beautiful, fresh-green appearance.

We have often felt the attitude of pity some of our suburban and city friends show for our enthusiasm towards country living. They sometimes tell us how much we miss in life. "You never take trips. Why, you seldom even go to the city", they exclaim.

It is true we haven't travelled a great deal, but how can one—and attend to all the details involved in raising a family? We have on occasions entertained the thought of putting the family in a trailer and taking to the road, but then, there was always school to consider, and it never seemed quite fair to disrupt the children's school routines. And when summer came, the call of garden and home seemed stronger than ever. I suppose we've always figured that when our family is grown and independent, there would be time for Pa and Ma to go gallivanting.

In the meantime, we must be satisfied to enjoy the beauty of an old and once run-down farm and its renovating, and the pleasure of arm chair travelling at the end of the day.

Have you noticed the great number of travel books that recently have come off the presses? For less than $5.00 one can take a literary trip to anywhere, and yet never leave one's own premises. One travel writer has written five books in one year, and each about a different place. To name a few of the latest travel books: "Highways Across the West Indies", published by Appleton-Century, "All the Best in the Caribbean", (Dodd Mead) "Journeying Thru Mexico" Atlantic-Little, Brown) "The South Americas" (Creative Age) "France" (Sheridan House) "France-Paris and The Provinces" (Whittlesey House) "Travel in America" Farrar, Straus) "Ghosts Along the Mississippi", (Scribner). I'd like to read everyone of these, wouldn't you?

Speaking of home hearths, arm chairs and reading, don't miss seeing The New Yorker's cover for April 24. Its humor is delightful. Speaking of publications, I must say, I'd rather give up my morning coffee (you've no idea what a sacrifice that would be) than go without my regular copy of "The New Yorker". Indisputably, its writers cant' be surpassed for witty, sophisticated talent, and the best schools of journalism point to its pages as an example of literary worth in magazine publications.

The biographical sketches, "Profiles", make the most informative and fascinating reading. The foreign news writing would be considered excellent, if for no other reason, than it appears unbiased and truthful. Even the "ads" are unusually clever and unique. And those Helen Hokinson drawings! How the so-called "club woman" (with a sense of humor, of course) could help but enjoy their satire, I'd never understand. For an example, there was the one published a year or so ago in which Madam President was seen on the podium addressing a group of buxom members of the Garden club. (Helen Hokinson's females are always portrayed as middle-aged and tightly corseted). In this particular cartoon, Madam President is holding up her right hand in an encouraging manner, while saying, with an expression of wistfulness around her mouth: "Will all the friends of the African Daisy kindly raise their hands?"

And now I must go; there's butter to churn before noon, and an apple pie to be made for dinner, to say nothing of a house that is unbelievably dusty and disarranged. I suppose if I lived in the city with the Art Institute easily accessible, I'd probably drop everything, and go to see those fabulous French Tapestrys. On the other hand, I think I made a half promise to take the boys, if I go, which I see by my calendar, must be before May 5, when the exhibit leaves the Institute.

Until next week, with love,

Mary.

Tales of the STREET

BY I. C. HART

● CURTAIN FALLS

The curtain fell on the major bowling league season last week at Palatine, and just about all the bowlers were glad the finish had arrived.

It was an awful season with low scores and inconsistent bowling. No one hit the exclusive 250 score so the pot of gold in the 250 club remained unclaimed.

The last night of the season was historic in many ways. Jerry Dean, who had done pretty well during the season on side bets, went to pieces, rolling a notable 313 series with a low game of 83. This tied Stan Peppers record breaking low score for the season.

Stan Arndt, on the other hand, who had been dishing out to the boys all season, staged a form reversal, shot one of his best series of the season and carried away the boys' dough.

Dean, by the way, shot a 536 series the very next night, a reversal of form which, if it had happened on a race track, would have called for an investigation.

But that's bowling at least as shown by the majors, and the boys will wonder all summer just what was wrong or are they simply growing old?

● BLOSSOM TIME

Despite the freakish up and down capers of the thermometer lately, the vegitation has persisted in coming right along and blossom time is here with fruit trees and early shrubs giving the universe a look of enchantment seen only in spring.

Forest trees are still slow in blooming; a trip through the forest preserve found the woodlands looking like fall or winter, with the exception of green grass and some early leaving shrubs and small trees.

The big trees stood stark and bare as if waiting for definite settled weather to put in an appearance.

● GOOD SIGN

One good sign of real spring is the whistle of the yellow leg plover as it comes floating in from the prairies beyond town.

When those birds arrive it's usually a pretty good sign that settled weather is here, as the plover seems to like the warm suns and balmy breezes of real spring.

● CHRISTMAS TREE

There was a time when that Christmas tree at honor roll park was a thing of beauty and an asset to the business district, but that day has long since passed. Christmas is over, the snow is gone, and the tree looks dead and leans at a crazy angle.

And on a quiet afternoon with those parking meters standing like rows of silent sentinels to protect the town from invasion by anyone who might want to do business here, those sentinels and that dead, leaning, ex-Christmas tree lend a ghost appearance to the business district that calls up nostalgic memories of a town that was, but is no more.

● CENSUS

There is a census being taken in Palatine . . . not of the population of people, but of dogs and automobiles.

Officer Dreyes is making a house to house canvass for the village board to determine how many dogs and autos there are in town.

The village will use these lists to check against licenses issued to find out how well auto and dog owners are paying up.

Now there is a lot of conjecture as to what the population of Palatine is at present. Highway signs say 2100, but these are long outdated and present day guesses are between 3500 and 4000.

Now if the police officer who is taking the auto and dog census had just asked how many persons lived in each house, we would have a rather reliable unofficial census of our population.

● CARNIVALS

It's getting close to summer and folks have been asking where the Legion and Firemen's carnivals will be held now that the carnival grounds are being occupied by the new $600,000 school house.

Will they go to the new park, is a question often asked, but no one really knows the answer.

We hear that work on the park will start soon, with grading and seeding this year. Freshseeded land wouldn't lend itself well to carnival purposes, especially in a rainy spell. When the new location is decided, we'll let you know so you can get there opening night.

● ALL CLEAR

The village of Palatine has been notified that deeds are already conveying property along the C&NW right-of-way for the paving of two streets, one on each side of the tracks, from Plum Grove avenue to Brockway street.

An order from the Illinois Commerce commission has also been received by the railroad approving the issuance of such deeds and traffic protection at the various crossings.

The village has vacated Slade and Bothwell streets and the way is all clear for the big improvement. The village will not have to get the okay from the state for use of gas tax funds for their share of the paving job, and then the big job will be on its way.

● TIMES CHANGE

Over 40 years ago we wrote a story about the one-room country schools, calling them "the outposts of civilization on a civilized frontier." That was before the days of auto transportation when the one-room country school was a power of good and the foundation for the civilization of its community.

Now, with all the advancements in roads and transportation and education, the scene has changed. The other evening at a school meeting we heard a citizen tell his neighbors why he had taken his children out of a one-room country school and sent them to a grade school in a nearby community.

"The floor hasn't been scrubbed in 2 months, there is no janitor service, there are no modern toilet facilities, the children get a pail of drinking water from a nearby store in the morning and that's their drinking water for the day, and there are no facilities for children to wash their hands before lunch," were some of the comments he made about that antiquated one-room school.

Times truly change. "New occasions teach new duties, time makes ancient good uncouth, we must upward, then, and onward who would keep abreast of truth."

● METER TAKE

Last week's meter take amounted to $117.85.

Officer Meyer didn't even bother to unload the meters on Chicago avenue and Wilson street as the take from these meters has been so light there isn't any danger of their overfilling for several weeks.

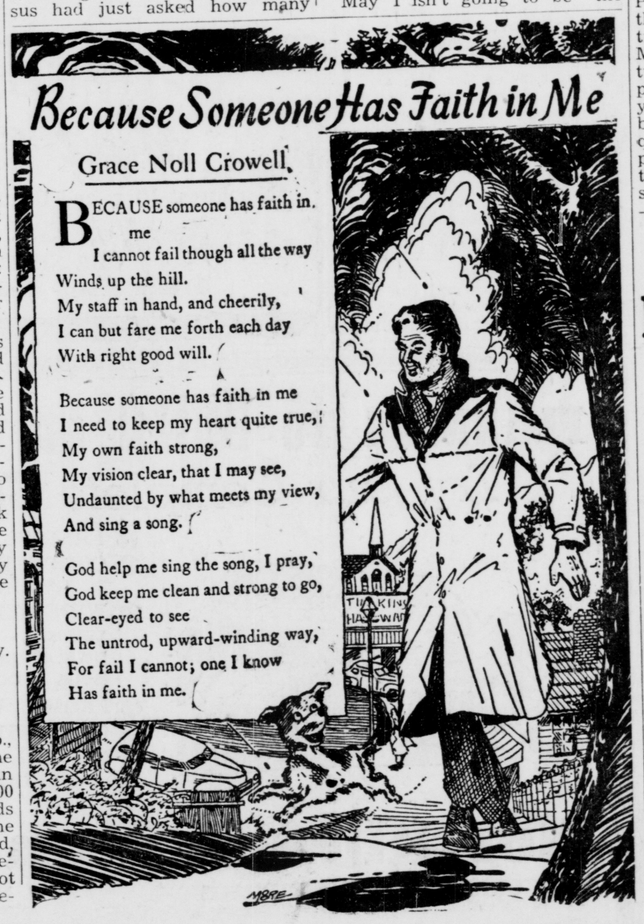

The Slade and Brockway streets area still continue to be the main revenue producers, but where, oh where, is that $8.00 per month per meter the meter salesman talked about in his glowing stories of revenue.

A later check of Wilson street and Chicago avenue meters just to keep the record clear showed $1.82 from those meters for a total take for the week of $119.67.

● LAST CALL

May 1 isn't going to be the penalty date on the first installment of taxes, but it is the penalty date on the return of personal property schedules to the local assessor.

Assessor H. C. Devermann, of Palatine township, announces that all schedules must be returned to him not later than May 1. Anyone who does not return a schedule and gets a big personal property tax bill next year will have only himself to blame, as the assessor is required by law to add 50 per cent penalty to the estimated valuation of a property on which a schedule is not filled.

AID FOR EUROPE

As representatives for Swiss CARITAS for what is undoubtedly the faster system of achieving delivery of urgently needed food to Europe, we are interested in every phase of relief of suffering and noted with interested your article herewith attached.

It may interest you to know that though the writer of the letter referred to may be a worthy and deserving case, there are all too many in every section of Europe who take it upon themselves to write exactly such letters of appeal, knowing that someone will react here, but many cases these are black-marketeers who use the kindness of Americans as a means of getting their stock in trade).

If Mr. Suter is mystified as to how his name and address was discovered you might tell him that there are devious ways, upon some of which we would be glad to enlighten him.

In any event, if letters of appeal are received from strangers in Europe, we advise extreme caution! It is advisable to check with local authorities before expending money or sending any sort of package. There are too many really worthwhile cases which need aid. It is much better to check first and be safe, rather than sorry later. We have a list, checked by authorifrom the case of a lone woman ties, of really deserving cases, to an institute trying desperately to care for 6,00 orphans, sick and homeless.

It is the worst possible policy, by the way, for any newspaper to print the full name and address of any person writing such appeal letters—worthy or not, perhaps 20 or more of your readers will send here to the address shown. The result—one gets far too much, while the other, perhaps more deserving case, gets nothing.

LOVERS LANE?

We've often heard of young love "pitchin' woo". And we've often heard of "lovers lanes", and "lovers woods".

But the other day was the first time we ever saw a state sign proclaiming it.

While driving west on Irving Park road from Bensenville about two weeks ago I saw a sign reading "Woodale." Coming back an hour later, I again noticed a sign on the east side of town "Woodale."

Now, a dale is a woods, and woo is a slang term meaning love. Thus, my assumption.

Let's have the town fathers reword that sign to "Wood Dale" then we'll know it's a real community.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

There is nothing more comfortable and satisfying than an old hat.

A man can come home from a hard day at the office, a day of noise and tension and unrest; he can put on his old hat, frayed about the edges, smelling of perspiration on the sweat band and of old straw, and no sooner does the hat rest on his head than all of the world's troubles begin to dissolve. You see the grim lines at the corner of his lips ease into a gentle, contented smile, and the wrinkles of his tired forehead smooth out. You watch him as twenty years slip from his weary shoulders, and a purposeful light comes into his eyes. Gone is that hunted, worried expression, and they light up with a contented twinkle.

He begins to tinker idly with some tools and wood at his work bench. He eyes an old kitchen chair needing gluing as he speculates whether to start on it or spray the roses.

That old felt hat is a royal crown. It is a symbol of emancipation from the despotism of the office. Once it is on his head he is the ruler of a kingdom all his own, a kingdom in which he can do his every whim with the assurance that he will not be threatened or abused.

Perhaps, if the urge is strong enough in him, he examines his rod and reel, studies his lures, weighing their various values in his mind until a pleasing dream picture begins to form before his inner eyes. A far away look comes in his eyes, as he sees himself beside a good trout stream, hooking them fast and sure with a fly of his own making, or sits restfully in a boat far out on the lake, lulled half asleep by the gentle rocking of the boat and gurgle of small waves against the boat's side. "Maybe I'll call Bob and Joe," he communes silently. "Fishin' ought to be good now, and we might go—",

But if the day has been exceptionally ardurous, he might pick up the evening paper and relax peacefully in the lawn chair under the apple tree.

Do'nt ever deny a man such luxuries! They are the elixir of life, his fountain of youth. Peace, that passeth all understanding can be found in the magic spell cast by a battered old hat.

It Happened Here

There was excitement in our normally peaceful neighborhood, voices of men and dogs and a loud crash with splintering sounds; something had certainly done a serious damage. Inquisitive eyes at the window saw a painter's extension ladder against the big tree in the neighbor's yard and old Charlie, the handyman, half way up the tree, a broken rope dangling from the stub of a huge branch which he had just sawed thru. Evidently the rope broke at the critical moment and before anyone could shout, "Timber!" the branch crashed to the porch, smashing the railing. Fortunately no one was hurt, but porch, lawn and sidewalk were literally strewn with branches, large and small—a complete mess. Then for the remainder of the day we were given the sounds and activities of a lumber camp; two men worked the crosscut saw, two youths wielded the ax, the heavy youth putting his weight into each stroke, the lighter one, with an agile spring at each blow laid the chips where he wanted them. Where did two city born and bred lads learn their craft? By dark, the whole mess was cleaned up.

Bensenville fast becoming 'boom'town

Bensenville is on the "boom" path nowadays. A social hall is going up as fast as the masons can push it, and Tuesday the majority vote favored building a village hall. Now with a little more hard work we ought to get a street car line out here, which would make ours the finest town for public improvements for miles around.

New train schedules for Palatine

The new time card went into effect Sunday and all-in-all Palatine is benefited thereby. The early morning daily train northbound at 7.30 is taken off, but we are given an extra evening train both ways.

It leaves Chicago at 9:10, arriving here at 10:10, and returns at 10:50, arriving at Chicago at 11:48 p. m.

The Janesville train now leaves at Barrington. A Barrington train leaves the city at 4:50 p. m., arriving here at 5:36, with Des Plaines as first stop.

The extra evening train was secured through a petition, circulated especially by the Masonic orders, whose jurisdiction takes in the Heights, this giving them a train by which they can return home, after lodge or chapter meeting.

The Northwestern is taking off trains along other divisions and we are fortunate in securing the new service.

SUES FOR DAMAGE

The Glenview Bus Co. has sued Harry Strand in circuit court for $1,000 damages for colliding with a bus and damaging it November 15 on Central road.

penalty date on the first installment of taxes, but it is the penalty date on the return of personal property schedules to the local assessor.

Assessor H. C. Devermann, of Palatine township, announces that all schedules must be returned to him not later than May 1. Anyone who does not return a schedule and gets a big personal property tax bill next year will have only himself to blame, as the assessor is required by law to add 50 per cent penalty to the estimated valuation of a property on which a schedule is not filled.

It Happened Here

There was excitement in our normally peaceful neighborhood, voices of men and dogs and a loud crash with splintering sounds; something had certainly done a serious damage. Inquisitive eyes at the window saw a painter's extension ladder against the big tree in the neighbor's yard and old Charlie, the handyman, half way up the tree, a broken rope dangling from the stub of a huge branch which he had just sawed thru. Evidently the rope broke at the critical moment and before anyone could shout, "Timber!" the branch crashed to the porch, smashing the railing. Fortunately no one was hurt, but porch, lawn and sidewalk were literally strewn with branches, large and small—a complete mess. Then for the remainder of the day we were given the sounds and activities of a lumber camp; two men worked the crosscut saw, two youths wielded the ax, the heavy youth putting his weight into each stroke, the lighter one, with an agile spring at each blow laid the chips where he wanted them. Where did two city born and bred lads learn their craft? By dark, the whole mess was cleaned up.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever;
Its loveliness increases; it will never
Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health, and quiet breathing."

These words of Keats seemed more than ever appropriate as I looked around the farm this weekend.

There had been great activity. Rob's friends, Rick and Bern., came out from the city with him Friday night determined to work. As you well know, they came to the right place for that! When they left on the early train this morning, the farm was wearing a "new look." The lawn has been cut, bushes transplanted, annual and perennial flower beds cultivated, a fence painted, and debris burned. The rain held off until a few hours ago, and now the fields of alfalfa have a beautiful, fresh-green appearance.

We have often felt the attitude of pity some of our suburban and city friends show for our enthusiasm towards country living. They sometimes tell us how much we miss in life. "You never take trips. Why, you seldom even go to the city", they exclaim.

It is true we haven't travelled a great deal, but how can one—and attend to all the details involved in raising a family? We have on occasions entertained the thought of putting the family in a trailer and taking to the road, but then, there was always school to consider, and it never seemed quite fair to disrupt the children's school routines. And when summer came, the call of garden and home seemed stronger than ever. I suppose we've always figured that when our family is grown and independent, there would be time for Pa and Ma to go gallivanting.

In the meantime, we must be satisfied to enjoy the beauty of an old and once run-down farm and its renovating, and the pleasure of arm chair travelling at the end of the day.

Have you noticed the great number of travel books that recently have come off the presses? For less than $5.00 one can take a literary trip to anywhere, and yet never leave one's own premises. One travel writer has written five books in one year, and each about a different place. To name a few of the latest travel books: "Highways Across the West Indies", published by Appleton-Century, "All the Best in the Caribbean", (Dodd Mead) "Journeying Thru Mexico" Atlantic-Little, Brown) "The South Americas" (Creative Age) "France" (Sheridan House) "France-Paris and The Provinces" (Whittlesey House) "Travel in America" Farrar, Straus) "Ghosts Along the Mississippi", (Scribner). I'd like to read everyone of these, wouldn't you?

Speaking of home hearths, arm chairs and reading, don't miss seeing The New Yorker's cover for April 24. Its humor is delightful. Speaking of publications, I must say, I'd rather give up my morning coffee (you've no idea what a sacrifice that would be) than go without my regular copy of "The New Yorker". Indisputably, its writers cant' be surpassed for witty, sophisticated talent. and the best schools of journalism point to its pages as an example of literary worth in magazine publications.

The biographical sketches, "Profiles", make the most informative and fascinating reading. The foreign news writing would be considered excellent, if for no other reason, than it appears unbiased and truthful. Even the "ads" are unusually clever and unique. And those Helen Hokinson drawings! How the so-called "club woman" (with a sense of humor, of course) could help but enjoy their satire, I'd never understand. For an example, there was the one published a year or so ago in which Madam President was seen on the podium addressing a group of buxom members of the Garden club. (Helen Hokinson's females are always portrayed as middle-aged and tightly corseted). In this particular cartoon, Madam President is holding up her right hand in an encouraging manner, while saying, with an expression of wistfulness around her mouth: "Will all the friends of the African Daisy kindly raise their hands?"

And now I must go; there's butter to churn before noon, and an apple pie to be made for dinner, to say nothing of a house that is unbelievably dusty and disarranged. I suppose if I lived in the city with the Art Institute easily accessible, I'd probably drop everything, and go to see those fabulous French Tapestrys. On the other hand, I think I made a half promise to take the boys, if I go, which I see by my calendar, must be before May 5, when the exhibit leaves the Institute.

Until next week, with love,

Mary.

SUES FOR DAMAGES

The Laurentian Sales Co., Lim., of Montreal has sued the Soldine corporation of Skokie, in the Superior court for $15,000 damages for unsatisfactory goods sold them. It is charged that the soldine, a waterproof compound, sold plaintiff and by them resold to its customers was not found satisfactory or as represented, thus causing them loss.

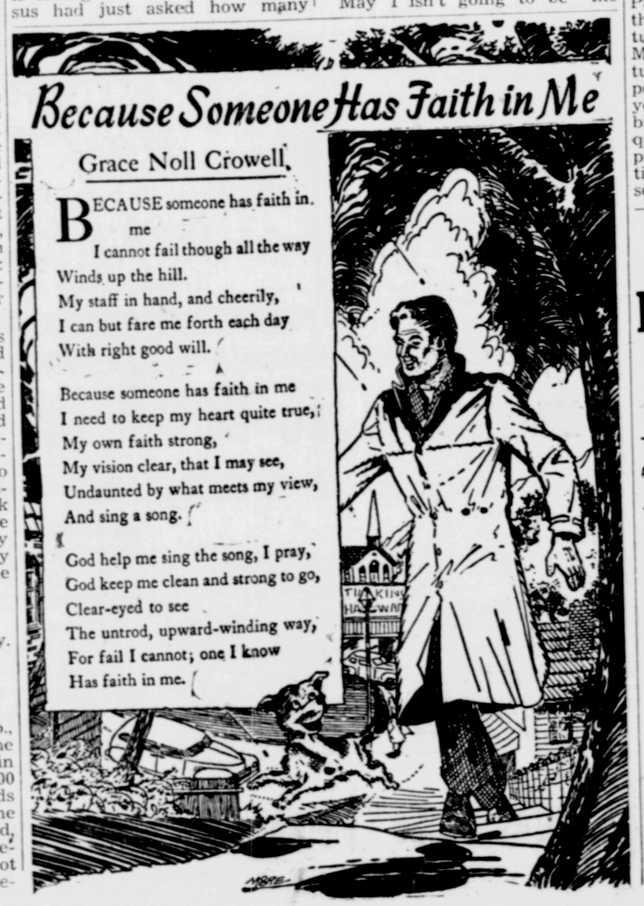

Because Someone Has Faith in Me

Grace Noll Crowell

BECAUSE someone has faith in me
I cannot fail though all the way
Winds up the hill.
My staff in hand, and cheerily,
I can but fare me forth each day
With right good will.

Because someone has faith in me
I need to keep my heart quite true,
My own faith strong,
My vision clear, that I may see,
Undaunted by what meets my view,
And sing a song.

God help me sing the song, I pray,
God keep me clean and strong to go,
Clear-eyed to see
The untrod, upward-winding way,
For fail I cannot; one I know
Has faith in me.

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Russia Geared for industrial expansion

The fourth Russian five-year-plan calls for 5,900 large industrial plants of many kinds in operation by 1950, and the training of 150,000 engineers and technicians, plus 350,000 engineering assistants, by that time. This was reported before the Chicago meeting of the American Chemical Society by J. G. Tolpin, professorial lecturer in Russian for scientists at Northwestern university.

Various inducements, such as honors, prizes and contests, are being widely employed among Russian technologists and scientists to aid the industrial program of development, Mr. Tolpin said. Chemical research in progress in the USSR now is influenced not only by that country's immediate needs, but also by large scale projects of long duration in which traditions of the Russian school of chemistry play an important role.

To the Russians, the Northwestern scientist said, petroleum is important not only as a fuel, but also as a valuable chemical material. Some lines of research on chemicals made from petroleum thus are intensified in the current Soviet program, he told the meeting. However, commercial utilization of the results of this research is lagging.

TAX FACTS

By George B. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

After the property owner receives his tax bill, can he protect himself if he believes that his tax is excessive because his property was valued too high or because he thinks part of the tax bill may be illegal?

The property owner has the right to object to all or part of his tax bill.

He must, in objecting to all or any part of his tax on his real estate, first pay at least 75 per cent of the taxes to which he makes objection, and accompany the payment to the tax collector with a signed written statement in duplicate setting forth the amount of the tax bill that he is objecting to and the grounds for his objections, (assuming that he is objecting to the entire tax for county highway fund purposes, his tax receipt would have to show he had paid at least 75 per cent of this tax).

The burden of proof is on the taxpayer, when his tax objections are later heard by the County Court, to show that the portion of the tax that he has objected to is in fact illegal.

A taxpayer also has the right to object to all or any part of his personal property tax bill on the grounds of illegal assessment, levy or extension of his tax. It is not necessary to pay 75 per cent of the personal property tax to which objection is made. As in the case of objections to real estate taxes two signed copies of a written protest must accompany the payment of all or part of the tax to the tax collector, stating the amount of the tax that is protested.

At any time within one year after paying personal property taxes under protest, the taxpayer must file a petition in the County Court, asking the court to decide whether the part of the personal property tax bill paid under protest is in fact illegal.

No taxpayer who is not a party to a tax objection case can benefit from the decision in the case. For example, assuming that one taxpayer has taken all of the steps necessary to result in judgment by the court that a part of his tax bill is illegal, no other taxpayer will benefit from that decision unless he also has taken all of the necessary steps. The taxpayers who have not taken the necessary legal steps must pay the taxes, including the illegal portions thereof.

If the taxpayer's objections is on the ground that his assessment was unfair, he must first have exhausted his other remedy of asking for and being denied relief by the Board of Review before the County Court will consider the case on its merits.

Although the taxpayer has this right to protect himself against illegal taxes through payment under protest, from the standpoint of the small property owner this is a dubious protection. The taxpayer has to have a pretty sizeable tax bill before he can afford to incur, as an individual, the court costs and attorney's fees involved in this legal process.

The only hopes that the small taxpayers have of protecting themselves against illegal taxes are: (1) banding together for payment of taxes under protest in order to spread the legal cost over a large number of individuals; (2) banding together, in order to spread the legal cost thin, in an action for an injunction to restrain the county clerk from extending a tax rate that they believe may be illegal, (3) banding together to see that a local government, whose current tax rate has been held to be illegal in whole or in part, does not levy this same illegal tax the next ear unfortunately, this sometimes happens).

It is obvious from this column and from previous columns, that the small taxpayer as an individual is helpless but, if he bands together with his fellow taxpayers in a factfinding, action organization devoted to the sole purpose of protecting him, then he can get a fair return in government service for the dollars that he pays in taxes.

Because of the number of requests received, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is incorporating this whole series of columns into a pamphlet, "The Story Behind Your Tax Bill", to be ready around May 1. If you have not already done so, and wish a copy of this pamphlet without charge, send your name and address and the name of your local newspaper to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, 602 East Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois.

Board for, businessmen against meters at Crystal Lake

The mayor and aldermen are unanimously in favor of having parking meters installed in Crystal Lake business sections, it was revealed at a meeting of the city council last week. Two years ago, when the city brought up the question of parking meters, there was pointed oposition from the Chamber of Commerce and others and the matter was tabled. City officials believe parking meters would be for the best interest of the community and would bring in an appreciable revenue.

If the taxpayer's objections is on the ground that his assessment was unfair, he must first have exhausted his other remedy of asking for and being denied relief by the Board of Review before the County Court will consider the case on its merits.

Although the taxpayer has this right to protect himself against illegal taxes through payment under protest, from the standpoint of the small property owner this is a dubious protection. The taxpayer has to have a pretty sizeable tax bill before he can afford to incur, as an individual, the court costs and attorney's fees involved in this legal process.

The only hopes that the small taxpayers have of protecting themselves against illegal taxes are: (1) banding together for payment of taxes under protest in order to spread the legal cost over a large number of individuals; (2) banding together, in order to spread the legal cost thin, in an action for an injunction to restrain the county clerk from extending a tax rate that they believe may be illegal, (3) banding together to see that a local government, whose current tax rate has been held to be illegal in whole or in part, does not levy this same illegal tax the next ear unfortunately, this sometimes happens).

It is obvious from this column and from previous columns, that the small taxpayer as an individual is helpless but, if he bands together with his fellow taxpayers in a factfinding, action organization devoted to the sole purpose of protecting him, then he can get a fair return in government service for the dollars that he pays in taxes.

Because of the number of requests received, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is incorporating this whole series of columns into a pamphlet, "The Story Behind Your Tax Bill", to be ready around May 1. If you have not already done so, and wish a copy of this pamphlet without charge, send your name and address and the name of your local newspaper to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, 602 East Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois.

Board for, businessmen against meters at Crystal Lake

The mayor and aldermen are unanimously in favor of having parking meters installed in Crystal Lake business sections, it was revealed at a meeting of the city council last week. Two years ago, when the city brought up the question of parking meters, there was pointed oposition from the Chamber of Commerce and others and the matter was tabled. City officials believe parking meters would be for the best interest of the community and would bring in an appreciable revenue.

Weekly recipe

There's a tang of spring in the air and it's just the time to bring the season's garden color to your table. Awaken dull appetites with the red, tart, lucious strawberries that are now in market. These, combined with rich, fluffy whipped cream, make a delicious dessert.

Mousse Strawberry

2 boxes fresh frozen strawberries.
3 tbsp. lemon juice.
2 tbsp. gelatine.
1/3 cup cold water.
2 cups whipping cream.

Method: Dissolve gelatine in water and dissolve thoroughly over hot water. Defrost berries and put through sieve; add lemon juice. Add gelatine and chill until mixture thickens. Whip with rotary beater. Whip cream and fold into strawberry mixture. May be served in large mold, or individual molds. Garnish with strawberry fans. This may also be frozen in freezing compartment.

Museum of Science and Industry announces summertime schedule

Beginning Monday, April 26, and continuing through the summer months, the Museum of Science and Industry, 57th and Lake Michigan, will remain open on weekdays from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Extension of the closing hour from 4 to 5:30 p. m. is done during the spring and summer months to enable visitors to take full advantage of the longer daylight hours. The Sunday closing hour will continue to be 7 p. m.

Reservations for guided tours for school classes, clubs and other groups may be had by calling Plaza 8100. A cafeteria in the Museum affords meal-time convenience and a lunch room is also available for those bringing lunches from home. Parking space for automobiles is provided on three sides of the Museum. No charge is made for parking nor for entrance to the Museum.

Plan 150-bed hospital to cost $1,500,000

"ARCHITECT'S SKETCH OF PROPOSED $1,500,000 NEW RECREATION HOSPITAL

A modern well equipped hospital will be built to serve Norwood Park, Park Ridge, and Des Plaines areas, now without sufficient medical facilities. The new hospital—a $1,500,000 project—will be a 150 bed unit operated by the Sisters of the Resurrection on a 30 acre plot on Talcott avenue between Oriole and Odell avenues. The tract is a part of the property owned by the Resurrection Sisters. As soon as building materials are available and the necessary quota is reached, the hospital will become a reality.

Staffing the hospital will be graduate nurses, who received their original training in accredited hospitals. The sisters at present are serving in Nebraska, New York and Illinois. Upon completion of the hospital they will return to Chicago to serve here.

The new medical center will be available to all people. It is understood that all denominations will support this worthy project.

The building fund will be raised principally by voluntary public subscription.

Watchword for tax refund checks is 'wait until September 15'

John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue, this week issued a second request for taxpayers not to make inquiries until September 15 about refund checks on their 1947 income taxes.

He said about 700,000 refund checks for 1947 taxes that were overpaid have already been issued and one million more checks will be mailed within the next few months. Jarecki estimated that most of the refund checks will be in the hands of taxpayers by the end of July.

Complete records will not be available for research until September 15, 1948, he said, in urging taxpayers not to make inquiries until that date.

They go to high school to see the world

Antelope Valley Union High school students claim a place among the most "traveled" pupils in the nation.

Sixteen buses cover 1200 miles daily gathering students from the school district's 3476 square miles. The buses use 200 gallons of gas each day.

Round trips range from 42 to 116 miles. Average round trip is 76 miles.

Of the school's 1052 students, about 840 ride the buses. The school district includes the northern half of Los Angeles county and a portion of Kern county.

Watchword for tax refund checks is 'wait until September 15'

John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue, this week issued a second request for taxpayers not to make inquiries until September 15 about refund checks on their 1947 income taxes.

He said about 700,000 refund checks for 1947 taxes that were overpaid have already been issued and one million more checks will be mailed within the next few months. Jarecki estimated that most of the refund checks will be in the hands of taxpayers by the end of July.

Complete records will not be available for research until September 15, 1948, he said, in urging taxpayers not to make inquiries until that date.

They go to high school to see the world

Antelope Valley Union High school students claim a place among the most "traveled" pupils in the nation.

Sixteen buses cover 1200 miles daily gathering students from the school district's 3476 square miles. The buses use 200 gallons of gas each day.

Round trips range from 42 to 116 miles. Average round trip is 76 miles.

Of the school's 1052 students, about 840 ride the buses. The school district includes the northern half of Los Angeles county and a portion of Kern county.

Grazed alfalfa needs rest periods

A study of grazing methods of alfalfa-bromegrass pasture showed that, where rest periods were allowed, heavy grazing provided the best use of the forage when it was most palatable and nutritious. This system allowed bromegrass and alfalfa to produce new growth during the growing season, something which was not possible under continuous grazing. Alfalfa was eliminated most rapidly from the continuously grazed pastures because it had no chance to recover as in the alternately grazed pastures.

Under moderate grazing (both continuous and alternate), alfalfa suffered from aggressive competition of bromegrass. The tendency of bromegrass to become stemy and coarse reduced its palability. Under these conditions animals selectively grazed the alfalfa.

Start excavation of Des Plaines school

The Des Plaines West school site has been a scene of much activity the past week. The Board of Education awarded the general contract to Axel E. Johnson. The school officials anticipate the completion of the building at the very latest date by September 1, 1949, but every effort will be made to speed the building program for pupil occupancy.

Palatine leads township in acres of tillable farm land

Palatine township with 18,684 acres stands first among northwest towns in tillable farm land in use in 1946, County Assessor John S. Clark announced this week.

Hanover is second with 18,445 acres; Schaumburg is third with 17,173 acres. Elk Grove has 15,974 acres and Wheeling township 13,864 acres. Northfield has 9,016 acres.

MAKING PUBLIC the assessor's annual farm acreage census, Clark said Palatine has the greatest number of farms, 291 which grew 20 different crops, including truck and gardening. The figures for the other townships are:

Township	No. Farms	No. Crops
Hanover	203	15
Schaumburg	138	15
Elk Grove	282	21
Wheeling	128	20
Northfield	150	16

The census, although taken during 1947, is gathered officially for 1946. This month the assessor's office will begin the 1947 census. The principal crop in all five townships was corn with oats second. Wheeling and Elk Grove farmers are the only ones who cater to truck gardening, raising such crops as sweet corn and onions in addition to the standard crops of wheat, soy beans, alfalfa, timothy, clover and hay which are the principal products in the other three townships.

Clark praised the local assessors for work in gathering the farm statistics.

"THIS LITTLE known but highly valuable task of compiling a farm acreage census was turned over to local assessing officers by legislative action in 1937," he said. "In Cook county the township assessor is responsible for gathering census information from each farmer in his area. He usually gathers the facts when he compiles data for the yearly personal property assessment beginning in April.

"The County Assessor," he continued, "after compiling the statistics from each township, turns the totals over to the state department of agriculture where they, in turn, are given to the federal government.

"Few people may realize it," he continued, "but accurate crop acreage estimates are constantly needed to keep agriculture abreast of changing economic and marketing conditions."

IN A LETTER to Clark, the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service said: "These county data have many and important uses . . . there is an increasing demand . . . from agricultural, governmental, educational, processing, transportation, business and financial interests, as Illinois is one of the most important states in the productions of food and feed crops."

In the entire county, 3,773 farms reported 241,512 acres in operation in 1946 with corn and oats the leading crops.

Following is a break-down of chief crops and their acreage:

Hanover: Corn, 6,034; oats, 3,966; alfalfa, 2,747; clover and timothy, 985; soy beans, 470; wheat, 144.

Elk Grove: Corn, 3,978; oats, 2,504; clover and timothy, 1,140; alfalfa, 820; sweet corn, 676; onions, 765; soy beans, 495; barley, 193; wheat, 119.

Schaumburg: Corn, 5,602; oats, 4,006; timothy and clover, 2,487; soy beans, 475; hay, 389; wheat, 324.

Wheeling: Corn, 3,859; oats, 2,510; wheat, 159; soy beans, 482; alfalfa, 845; timothy and clover, 859; sweet clover, 110; hay, 138; sweet corn, 394; onions, 152.

Northfield: Corn, 2,330; oats, 1,407; hay, 1,059; soy beans, 540; sweet corn, 253; alfalfa, 204; wheat, 157; barley, 71.

THE ASSESSORS of the various townships are:

Wheeling, Theodore Studtmann.
Elk Grove, Otto Busse.
Hanover, Emil Hattendorf.
Schaumburg, William Grewe.
Palatine, Herman Devermann.
Northfield, Alan B. Fuller.

Launch city counterpart of 4-H club program

A program has been launched in Chicago to bring the benefits of 4-H club work to city boys.

General Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company and chairman of Chicago Boys' Clubs 1948 fund campaign, has taken the lead in setting up an urban program similar to the well-known 4-H club program for rural young people.

"Our country needs a reawakening of the ideals which built it," General Wood said in announcing the new program. "And right now we are faced with a challenge to do just this for our country, beginning right here in Chicago. We are going to lay plans to organize a counterpart of the 4-H club for the city boy and give him the same start the country boy has in becoming a solid and respectable citizen."

AT THE TOP of the list in the new program is a plan to improve camping programs for city boys. Combination farm-playgrounds in congested city areas also are planned.

Under the city-farm proposal, land will be cleared in congested areas, and rich top soil will be brought in from rural areas to make the land more productive. Boys will be taught how to raise crops and care for animals and pets.

General Wood has asked for the cooperation of schools, public organizations, officials and parents in making the program a success.

Glenview objects to Camp Skokie Mexicans

Strong opposition to the request by the Cook County Truck Farmers association, seeking permission from the County to use remaining barracks at the former Camp Skokie site to house Mexican labor (100 to 150 families) for a period of about six months, was expressed recently at a meeting of the Glenview Village Board. The trustees, in opposing such a move, ordered Village Attorney John Sharon to direct a letter to the County board expressing the Glenview Village Board's stand that this is a violation of the zoning ordinance.

Seasonal farm labor influx starts

Vanguard of field labor for Michigan, Ohio and Illinois crops is on hand, according to announcement by the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association. Several hundred workers have arrived from Texas, with the movement beginning about April 20.

Ample labor for field crops is foreseen. Workers currently are unemployed in the southwest, and are anxious to come north.

The workers will help farmers in the tomato, cucumber, field bean, orchard-fruit and other crops in the interseason period. An estimated 8,000 to 10,000 will be employed in the sugar beet crop, with as many more available as plantings require. Farmers will be able to plant sugar beets to the full limit of their farm capacity this year because of the easy labor supply, the Association says.

Grazed alfalfa needs rest periods

A study of grazing methods of alfalfa-bromegrass pasture showed that, where rest periods were allowed, heavy grazing provided the best use of the forage when it was most palatable and nutritious. This system allowed bromegrass and alfalfa to produce new growth during the growing season, something which was not possible under continuous grazing. Alfalfa was eliminated most rapidly from the continuously grazed pastures because it had no chance to recover as in the alternately grazed pastures.

Under moderate grazing (both continuous and alternate), alfalfa suffered from aggressive competition of bromegrass. The tendency of bromegrass to become stemy and coarse reduced its palability. Under these conditions animals selectively grazed the alfalfa.

Start excavation of Des Plaines school

The Des Plaines West school site has been a scene of much activity the past week. The Board of Education awarded the general contract to Axel E. Johnson. The school officials anticipate the completion of the building at the very latest date by September 1, 1949, but every effort will be made to speed the building program for pupil occupancy.

Palatine leads township in acres of tillable farm land

Palatine township with 18,684 acres stands first among northwest towns in tillable farm land in use in 1946, County Assessor John S. Clark announced this week.

Hanover is second with 18,445 acres; Schaumburg is third with 17,173 acres. Elk Grove has 15,974 acres and Wheeling township 13,864 acres. Northfield has 9,016 acres.

MAKING PUBLIC the assessor's annual farm acreage census, Clark said Palatine has the greatest number of farms, 291 which grew 20 different crops, including truck and gardening. The figures for the other townships are:

Township	No. Farms	No. Crops
Hanover	203	15
Schaumburg	138	15
Elk Grove	282	21
Wheeling	128	20
Northfield	150	16

The census, although taken during 1947, is gathered officially for 1946. This month the assessor's office will begin the 1947 census. The principal crop in all five townships was corn with oats second. Wheeling and Elk Grove farmers are the only ones who cater to truck gardening, raising such crops as sweet corn and onions in addition to the standard crops of wheat, soy beans, alfalfa, timothy, clover and hay which are the principal products in the other three townships.

Clark praised the local assessors for work in gathering the farm statistics.

"THIS LITTLE known but highly valuable task of compiling a farm acreage census was turned over to local assessing officers by legislative action in 1937," he said. "In Cook county the township assessor is responsible for gathering census information from each farmer in his area. He usually gathers the facts when he compiles data for the yearly personal property assessment beginning in April.

"The County Assessor," he continued, "after compiling the statistics from each township, turns the totals over to the state department of agriculture where they, in turn, are given to the federal government.

"Few people may realize it," he continued, "but accurate crop acreage estimates are constantly needed to keep agriculture abreast of changing economic and marketing conditions."

IN A LETTER to Clark, the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service said: "These county data have many and important uses . . . there is an increasing demand . . . from agricultural, governmental, educational, processing, transportation, business and financial interests, as Illinois is one of the most important states in the productions of food and feed crops."

In the entire county, 3,773 farms reported 241,512 acres in operation in 1946 with corn and oats the leading crops.

Following is a break-down of chief crops and their acreage:

Palatine: Corn, 5,710; Oats, 3,866; wheat, 330; soy beans, 674; alfalfa, 1,361; timothy and clover, 1,124; hay, 845.

Hanover: Corn, 6,034; oats, 3,966; alfalfa, 2,747; clover and timothy, 985; soy beans, 470; wheat, 144.

Elk Grove: Corn, 3,978; oats, 2,504; clover and timothy, 1,140; alfalfa, 820; sweet corn, 676; onions, 765; soy beans, 495; barley, 193; wheat, 119.

Schaumburg: Corn, 5,602; oats, 4,006; timothy and clover, 2,487; soy beans, 475; hay, 389; wheat, 324.

Wheeling: Corn, 3,859; oats, 2,510; wheat, 159; soy beans, 482; alfalfa, 845; timothy and clover, 859; sweet clover, 110; hay, 138; sweet corn, 394; onions, 152.

Northfield: Corn, 2,330; oats, 1,407; hay, 1,059; soy beans, 540; sweet corn, 253; alfalfa, 204; wheat, 157; barley, 71.

THE ASSESSORS of the various townships are:

Wheeling, Theodore Studtmann.
Elk Grove, Otto Busse.
Hanover, Emil Hattendorf.
Schaumburg, William Grewe.
Palatine, Herman Devermann.
Northfield, Alan B. Fuller.

Launch city counterpart of 4-H club program

A program has been launched in Chicago to bring the benefits of 4-H club work to city boys.

General Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company and chairman of Chicago Boys' Clubs 1948 fund campaign, has taken the lead in setting up an urban program similar to the well-known 4-H club program for rural young people.

"Our country needs a reawakening of the ideals which built it," General Wood said in announcing the new program. "And right now we are faced with a challenge to do just this for our country, beginning right here in Chicago. We are going to lay plans to organize a counterpart of the 4-H club for the city boy and give him the same start the country boy has in becoming a solid and respectable citizen."

AT THE TOP of the list in the new program is a plan to improve camping programs for city boys. Combination farm-playgrounds in congested city areas also are planned.

Under the city-farm proposal, land will be cleared in congested areas, and rich top soil will be brought in from rural areas to make the land more productive. Boys will be taught how to raise crops and care for animals and pets.

General Wood has asked for the cooperation of schools, public organizations, officials and parents in making the program a success.

Glenview objects to Camp Skokie Mexicans

Strong opposition to the request by the Cook County Truck Farmers association, seeking permission from the County to use remaining barracks at the former Camp Skokie site to house Mexican labor (100 to 150 families) for a period of about six months, was expressed recently at a meeting of the Glenview Village Board. The trustees, in opposing such a move, ordered Village Attorney John Sharon to direct a letter to the County board expressing the Glenview Village Board's stand that this is a violation of the zoning ordinance.

Seasonal farm labor influx starts

Vanguard of field labor for Michigan, Ohio and Illinois crops is on hand, according to announcement by the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association. Several hundred workers have arrived from Texas, with the movement beginning about April 20.

Ample labor for field crops is foreseen. Workers currently are unemployed in the southwest, and are anxious to come north.

The workers will help farmers in the tomato, cucumber, field bean, orchard-fruit and other crops in the interseason period. An estimated 8,000 to 10,000 will be employed in the sugar beet crop, with as many more available as plantings require. Farmers will be able to plant sugar beets to the full limit of their farm capacity this year because of the easy labor supply, the Association says.

Farm heads ask Truman to act in meat strike

Midwest Farm Bureau presidents in session today at the headquarters of the American Farm Bureau Federation wired and urgent appeal to President Truman to use "every device available under present law to bring about speedy termination of packinghouse work stoppage."

Text of the telegram follows: "The undersigned representing farmers in states producing bulk of U. S. hogs urge you in strongest possible terms to utilize every device available under present law to bring about speedy termination of packinghouse work stoppage. Barring immediate settlement we must assume collective bargaining has broken down.

"Great numbers of hogs being held back on farms because of limited packing facilities are consuming millions of bushels of feed that nation can not afford to waste. Waste already offsetting saving through national feed conservation program. Farmers paying heavy price penalty for failure of major meat packers and United Packinghouse Workers to settle their differences.

"Wide daily market fluctuations not only penalize present shippers without benefit to consumers but also introduce uncertainties that endanger future meat supply. Producers under present conditions have practically no price bargaining power. Swine quarters on farms crowded with marketable stock to extreme disadvantage of spring crop of pigs .

"Further delay in settlement makes farmer position intolerable. Earnestly appeal to you immediately to take steps to assure early resumption of normal operations of packing plants."

Milk payments

Figures released by Bowman Dairy Company this week indicate Cook-DuPage county dairy farmers received $23,077.18 for milk delivered to Bowman receiving stations during March.

Farmers Busy Counting Sheep, But They're After Profits, Not Sleep

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers are counting more sheep than ever this year—but it's not in an effort to put themselves to sleep. They're doing it with their eyes open and by simply expanding the size of their flocks.

Reasons for the increased interest in sheep can be traced to the following economic, agricultural and mechanical research developments: 1—America's annual usage of raw wool has jumped to a current high of 1,000,000,000 pounds, an amount which far exceeds the present domestic supply. 2—Agricultural science has helped farmers overcome their sheep raising problems and assisted them in the production of better quality fleece. 3—New tools have been developed to speed up and simplify shearing chores.

Even though the development of new shearing tools is listed last above, it is by no means least. In fact, the use of electric shearing machines is one of the major factors responsible for making sheep raising profitable on average size farms. Until such equipment came into general use, the wool harvest was one of the most difficult and time consuming of all seasonal farm jobs. In addition, one or more hand blade shearing experts often were required to shear the flock.

Electric shears, however, removed sheep shearing operations from the complicated, "back-breaking" class. They have done much to put many operators of small farms back in the sheep raising business. Fundamentals of machine shearing can be learned in a few hours by the average farm boy or girl.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has this to say about electric shearing machines: "They are more rapid; smoother work is done with them and the ewes are injured less. It is easy to use them and more wool is obtained than where hand shears are used." In test trials, sheep were sheared by machine in from 15 to 60 percent less time than that required by experienced men operating hand shears. Machine shearing also produced 10 percent more wool during the trials.

Not only does the use of electric shears result in a more abundant wool crop, but the wool removed is of the longest staple possible. A harvest of wool of this quality grades better and brings higher prices because it contains fewer "second cuts." Operating costs of electric shears are low, each handpiece requiring no more electricity than that needed to light an incandescent lamp of average wattage.

"NOTHING TO IT," says 14-year-old Skowhegan, Me., girl as she wins first in state fair sheep shearing contest.

Treated seed is poisonous to livestock

Farmers were advised today by Dr. C. D. Van Houweling, Illinois Agricultural association veterinarian, to keep treated seed away from animals.

"Seeds that have been treated with protectants and disinfectants are practically all poisonous to livestock," Dr. Van Houweling warned.

"Mercury is one of the common ingredients of these products," he said, "and is highly toxic to warm blooded animals. Treated seed should not be fed to livestock and should be stored where livestock and children cannot possibly reach them.

"Small amounts of mercury consumed over a prolonged period cause increased salivation, soreness of the teeth and gums and a foul-smelling breath. Single large doses are apt to cause vomiting and blood diarrhea. Animals later show symptoms of anemia, loss of flesh, fever, chills, thirst and loss of appetite.

AHTHS boy raises 300 lbs. pork in 8 weeks

Franklin Kile, Arlington Hi student and member of FFA, an agricultural club, set a local record of raising 300 pounds of pork in 8 weeks.

It was the boys first experience in raising hogs and the record is far above average for one litter of pigs, according to J. D. Bryson, vocational agricultural teacher.

Kile's pigs were kept warm, and roundworm was prevented by washing the sow and placing in a clean house before farrowing. There is a good chance the litter will weigh a full ton at six months.

Livestock numbers off

Livestock numbers on January 1, 1948, were at the lowest level since 1939. Numbers of all kinds of livestock, as well as chickens and turkeys, declined during 1947. Meat output is expected to decline more than usual this spring, although hog slaughter will be relatively large. Slaughter of both cattle and hogs is expected to drop more than usual this summer. Milk cow numbers are the smallest since 1940, but the ratio of young stock to milk cow numbers is almost a record.

The downward trend would end in a year. Milk production on a per capital basis is still greater than the prewar average. Milk cow numbers have decreased with smaller feed supplies, lower milk-feed and butterfat-feed price ratios and increasing competition from other farm products. The greatest decline in numbers has occurred in the west-north-central states.

LAW on the FARM

WARRANTIES. When a farmer buys a hay rake and finds that because of a mechanical defect it cannot be used, he is entitled to return the rake and get his money back. He can do this because it is an established principle of law that when a product is sold by a merchant or dealer it is accompanied by an implied warranty that it will do the thing it is supposed to do, or is fit for the use intended. As a matter of business practice, sellers oftentimes "make the buyer whole" by replacing defective parts or by allowing him credit for further purchases.

In the sale of personal property (chattels), there are two important kinds of warranties, express and implied. An express warranty results, as a matter of law, from the nature of the transaction and of the subject matter. When a farmer buys an oil brooder stove, there is an implied warranty that it will burn satisfactorily and create sufficient heat for the amount of space such a stove is ordinarily supposed to heat. There is no warranty that will do something such stoves do not ordinarily do unless the seller expressly so warrants.

OFTENTIMES a merchant or dealer, in trying to sell something, will make representations which, while not true, are not stated expressly enough to constitute a warranty. Such language is referred to as "puffing" and does not become a part of the contract of sale. Because of the fact that express warranties are infrequently made and that some implied warranties accompany nearly everything a farmer purchases or sells, the latter are more significant.

That livestock feed is fit for consumption by farm animals.

That seed is of the kind and variety represented and will grow if planted under normal conditions.

That various types of farm implements will perform in a satisfactory manner the operations for which they are designed.

That serum and virus are effective for the use for which they were manufactured.

That fertilizers contain the elements for which they were purchased.

That animals sold for breeding purposes are not sterile.

Farm heads ask Truman to act in meat strike

Midwest Farm Bureau presidents in session today at the headquarters of the American Farm Bureau Federation wired and urgent appeal to President Truman to use "every device available under present law to bring about speedy termination of packinghouse work stoppage."

Text of the telegram follows: "The undersigned representing farmers in states producing bulk of U. S. hogs urge you in strongest possible terms to utilize every device available under present law to bring about speedy termination of packinghouse work stoppage. Barring immediate settlement we must assume collective bargaining has broken down.

"Great numbers of hogs being held back on farms because of limited packing facilities are consuming millions of bushels of feed that nation can not afford to waste. Waste already offsetting saving through national feed conservation program. Farmers paying heavy price penalty for failure of major meat packers and United Packinghouse Workers to settle their differences.

"Wide daily market fluctuations not only penalize present shippers without benefit to consumers but also introduce uncertainties that endanger future meat supply. Producers under present conditions have practically no price bargaining power. Swine quarters on farms crowded with marketable stock to extreme disadvantage of spring crop of pigs .

"Further delay in settlement makes farmer position intolerable. Earnestly appeal to you immediately to take steps to assure early resumption of normal operations of packing plants."

Milk payments

Farmers Busy Counting Sheep, But They're After Profits, Not Sleep

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farmers are counting more sheep than ever this year—but it's not in an effort to put themselves to sleep. They're doing it with their eyes open and by simply expanding the size of their flocks.

Reasons for the increased interest in sheep can be traced to the following economic, agricultural and mechanical research developments: 1—America's annual usage of raw wool has jumped to a current high of 1,000,000,000 pounds, an amount which far exceeds the present domestic supply. 2—Agricultural science has helped farmers overcome their sheep raising problems and assisted them in the production of better quality fleece. 3—New tools have been developed to speed up and simplify shearing chores.

Even though the development of new shearing tools is listed last above, it is by no means least. In fact, the use of electric shearing machines is one of the major factors responsible for making sheep raising profitable on average size farms. Until such equipment came into general use, the wool harvest was one of the most difficult and time consuming of all seasonal farm jobs. In addition, one or more hand blade shearing experts often were required to shear the flock.

Electric shears, however, removed sheep shearing operations from the complicated, "back-breaking" class. They have done much to put many operators of small farms back in the sheep raising business. Fundamentals of machine shearing can be learned in a few hours by the average farm boy or girl.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has this to say about electric shearing machines: "They are more rapid; smoother work is done with them and the ewes are injured less. It is easy to use them and more wool is obtained than where hand shears are used." In test trials, sheep were sheared by machine in from 15 to 60 percent less time than that required by experienced men operating hand shears. Machine shearing also produced 10 percent more wool during the trials.

Not only does the use of electric shears result in a more abundant wool crop, but the wool removed is of the longest staple possible. A harvest of wool of this quality grades better and brings higher prices because it contains fewer "second cuts." Operating costs of electric shears are low, each handpiece requiring no more electricity than that needed to light an incandescent lamp of average wattage.

"NOTHING TO IT," says 14-year-old Skowhegan, Me., girl as she wins first in state fair sheep shearing contest.

LAW on the FARM

WARRANTIES. When a farmer buys a hay rake and finds that because of a mechanical defect it cannot be used, he is entitled to return the rake and get his money back. He can do this because it is an established principle of law that when a product is sold by a merchant or dealer it is accompanied by an implied warranty that it will do the thing it is supposed to do, or is fit for the use intended. As a matter of business practice, sellers oftentimes "make the buyer whole" by replacing defective parts or by allowing him credit for further purchases.

In the sale of personal property (chattels), there are two important kinds of warranties, express and implied. An express warranty results, as a matter of law, from the nature of the transaction and of the subject matter. When a farmer buys an oil brooder stove, there is an implied warranty that it will burn satisfactorily and create sufficient heat for the amount of space such a stove is ordinarily supposed to heat. There is no warranty that will do something such stoves do not ordinarily do unless the seller expressly so warrants.

OFTENTIMES a merchant or dealer, in trying to sell something, will make representations which, while not true, are not stated expressly enough to constitute a warranty. Such language is referred to as "puffing" and does not become a part of the contract of sale. Because of the fact that express warranties are infrequently made and that some implied warranties accompany nearly everything a farmer purchases or sells, the latter are more significant.

Important to a farmer are the following implied warranties:

That livestock feed is fit for consumption by farm animals.

That seed is of the kind and variety represented and will grow if planted under normal conditions.

That various types of farm implements will perform in a satisfactory manner the operations for which they are designed.

That serum and virus are effective for the use for which they were manufactured.

That fertilizers contain the elements for which they were purchased.

That animals sold for breeding purposes are not sterile.

Treated seed is poisonous to livestock

Farmers were advised today by Dr. C. D. Van Houweling, Illinois Agricultural association veterinarian, to keep treated seed away from animals.

"Seeds that have been treated with protectants and disinfectants are practically all poisonous to livestock," Dr. Van Houweling warned.

"Mercury is one of the common ingredients of these products," he said, "and is highly toxic to warm blooded animals. Treated seed should not be fed to livestock and should be stored where livestock and children cannot possibly reach them.

"Small amounts of mercury consumed over a prolonged period cause increased salivation, soreness of the teeth and gums and a foul-smelling breath. Single large doses are apt to cause vomiting and blood diarrhea. Animals later show symptoms of anemia, loss of flesh, fever, chills, thirst and loss of appetite.

AHTHS boy raises 300 lbs. pork in 8 weeks

Franklin Kile, Arlington Hi student and member of FFA, an agricultural club, set a local record of raising 300 pounds of pork in 8 weeks.

It was the boys first experience in raising hogs and the record is far above average for one litter of pigs, according to J. D. Bryson, vocational agricultural teacher.

Kile's pigs were kept warm, and roundworm was prevented by washing the sow and placing in a clean house before farrowing. There is a good chance the litter will weigh a full ton at six months.

Livestock numbers off

Livestock numbers on January 1, 1948, were at the lowest level since 1939. Numbers of all kinds of livestock, as well as chickens and turkeys, declined during 1947. Meat output is expected to decline more than usual this spring, although hog slaughter will be relatively large. Slaughter of both cattle and hogs is expected to drop more than usual this summer. Milk cow numbers are the smallest since 1940, but the ratio of young stock to milk cow numbers is almost a record.

The downward trend would end in a year. Milk production on a per capital basis is still greater than the prewar average. Milk cow numbers have decreased with smaller feed supplies, lower milk-feed and butterfat-feed price ratios and increasing competition from other farm products. The greatest decline in numbers has occurred in the west-north-central states.

Bonded debt no barrier to consolidation

Bonded debt within the boundaries of a proposed larger school district should not prevent necessarily the establishment of the larger district," John K. Cox, director of the department of rural school relations of the Illinois Agricultural Association said.

"Several larger districts have been voted down," Cox said, "when the entire bond issue if spread over the new district would have amounted to less than ½ of one per cent of the assessed valuation of the new district (the constitutional limit on bonded indebtedness is 5 per cent of the assessed valuation). This obligation would have been negligible on the tax bill.

"Most bond issues run for 20 years," Cox explained, "and a building 10 years old which has 10 years of bonds outstanding certainly offers a good deal more utility and service than a 25 year old building, bonds for which were retired five years ago."

New Trier wins latest bout on Northfield school dispute

Judge Harry Fisher in Circuit Court has ruled that all of the Village of Northfield, including that part in Northfield Township belongs to New Trier Township High District 203, and that the remainder of the disputed area belongs to Northfield Township District 225.

The Judge validated the election of District 225, but changed his ruling of last month when his decision gave all of Northfield Township to District 225. The verdict giving all of the Village of Northfield to New Trier District was considered in the nature of a compromise. No comment on the decision was given by members of Northfield Township Board of Education.

The verdict last Monday, the second made by Judge Fisher, was made possible when the Judge granted residents of the Village of Northfield a rehearing. These residents had protested his ruling in March.

The controversy over the disputed area has not ended. Although no statement was issued by District 225 Board it was reported that an appeal is being taken to the Illinois Supreme Court. It is hoped that the case may be heard in the higher court when it meets next month.

Inaugurate system to halt overpayments to vets' subsistences

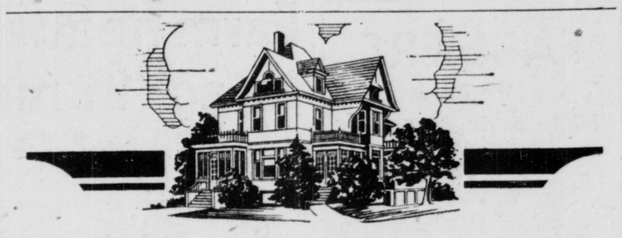

A new service has been inaugurated by the Illinois Veterans Commission for Illinois veterans who interrupt training programs, under the GI Bill of Rights.

The service consist of a postal card reporting system under which the veteran in training or training institution or trainor may use the facilities of IVC in reporting training interruptions promptly to the Veterans Administration.

The service is designed to reduce the present high rate of subsistence overpayments to veterans who stop their training and fail to notify the VA. It also will reduce the hardship and inconvenience resulting from overpayment and prevent a veteran from wasting time remaining on the length of his eligibility for further training.

IVC service officer Walter S. Haynes in Cook county whose office is located at 41 South Prospect ave., Park Ridge, Illinois, will supply the new interruption reporting cards to any veteran or others involved in GI training programs.

A. A. Popp, doing business as the Arlington Heights Roller Mills, has sued C. Egel and R. Barnsbrugger doing business as Arlington Poultry Farms, in Circuit court for $4667 for poultry food sold to them and not paid for.

The plastics industry has spent more than $175 million for new production facilities since the end of the war . . . Large 1948 construction volume appears well on its way to fulfillment, with a cumulative total of $1.6 billion for the first 14 weeks of the year, an increase of 25 per cent over the same period last year. Home builders have completed 50 per cent more jobs than in the same period last year . . . With stocks of preserves and jellies piling up, New York wholesalers and retailers are in the midst of a spring campaign to get more people to eat sweet preserves . . One new approach to retail merchandising is a "Friday surprise" program of a Portland, Oregon, department store. Each Friday the store's departments feature "surprise" price reductions on merchandise in various departments. Reduced items are advertised in Thursday newspapers with prices omitted in order to encourage buyers to come in and "see for themselves" . . . Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it proper to mail the wedding announcements at the same time as the invitations?

A. No; the invitations are mailed two or three weeks in advance, but the announcements should be mailed immediately after the ceremony, never before. Some member of the family can attend to this.

Q. In what manner should a formal introduction be phrased?

A. There are several forms, but "Mrs. Smith, may I present Mr. Allen" is always correct.

Q. Is it all right to cut four or five pieces of meat on one's plate at a time?

A. No; only one mouthful should be cut at a time.

Q. If the employer in a large office is to be married, should an employee give him an individual gift?

A. It would be better to suggest to other employees that a contribution be given for the purchase of one gift from all.

Q. What should one have printed or engraved on writing paper used for social correspondence?

A. A monogram seems to be the most popular ornamentation.

Q. When one is at the table, how large a mouthful of food should one take?

A. Only large enough so that one can manage easily if one is asked a question. It is disgusting to see a person try to talk with a mouthful of food.

Q. What is the proper way for a bride to sign the personal notes of acknowledgment for her wedding gifts?

A. As "Mary Smith," Smith of course being her husband's name. "Mrs. Charles Smith" would be too formal when writing to a friend.

Q. If a man speaks to a girl on the street and she does not remember having met him, what should she do?

A. If the girl considers it a flirtation, she can simply ignore him. If it seems to her that she has met him, nod pleasantly and pass on.

Q. If a man stops on the street to talk with a woman for a few minutes, should he remove his hat?

A. He should lift his hat, but it is not necessary for him to stand with it in his hand.

Q. Is it obligatory that a bride pay for her bridesmaids' dresses?

A. No; the bride pays only for the bouquets her bridesmaids carry.

Q. Is it proper to mail the wedding announcements at the same time as the invitations?

A. No; the invitations are mailed two or three weeks in advance, but the announcements should be mailed immediately after the ceremony, never before. Some member of the family can attend to this.

Q. In what manner should a formal introduction be phrased?

A. There are several forms, but "Mrs. Smith, may I present Mr. Allen" is always correct.

Q. Is it all right to cut four or five pieces of meat on one's plate at a time?

A. No; only one mouthful should be cut at a time.

Q. If the employer in a large office is to be married, should an employee give him an individual gift?

A. It would be better to suggest to other employees that a contribution be given for the purchase of one gift from all.

Q. What should one have printed or engraved on writing paper used for social correspondence?

A. A monogram seems to be the most popular ornamentation.

Q. When one is at the table, how large a mouthful of food should one take?

A. Only large enough so that one can manage easily if one is asked a question. It is disgusting to see a person try to talk with a mouthful of food.

Q. What is the proper way for a bride to sign the personal notes of acknowledgment for her wedding gifts?

A. As "Mary Smith," Smith of course being her husband's name. "Mrs. Charles Smith" would be too formal when writing to a friend.

Q. If a man speaks to a girl on the street and she does not remember having met him, what should she do?

A. If the girl considers it a flirtation, she can simply ignore him. If it seems to her that she has met him, nod pleasantly and pass on.

Q. If a man stops on the street to talk with a woman for a few minutes, should he remove his hat?

A. He should lift his hat, but it is not necessary for him to stand with it in his hand.

Q. Is it obligatory that a bride pay for her bridesmaids' dresses?

A. No; the bride pays only for the bouquets her bridesmaids carry.

Seek witnesses to Art Nelson death

Attorneys representing the Arthur Nelson estate, who was struck and killed by an auto at Rand and Euclid Sunday, April 11, are looking for witnesses to the fatality. Witnesses are urged to contact Kermit Nelson, 3629 N. Wayne ave., Chicago 13, Ill.

Inaugurate system to halt overpayments to vets' subsistences

A new service has been inaugurated by the Illinois Veterans Commission for Illinois veterans who interrupt training programs, under the GI Bill of Rights.

The service consist of a postal card reporting system under which the veteran in training or training institution or trainor may use the facilities of IVC in reporting training interruptions promptly to the Veterans Administration.

The service is designed to reduce the present high rate of subsistence overpayments to veterans who stop their training and fail to notify the VA. It also will reduce the hardship and inconvenience resulting from overpayment and prevent a veteran from wasting time remaining on the length of his eligibility for further training.

IVC service officer Walter S. Haynes in Cook county whose office is located at 41 South Prospect ave., Park Ridge, Illinois, will supply the new interruption reporting cards to any veteran or others involved in GI training programs.

A. A. Popp, doing business as the Arlington Heights Roller Mills, has sued C. Egel and R. Barnsbrugger doing business as Arlington Poultry Farms, in Circuit court for $4667 for poultry food sold to them and not paid for.

It's Best
To Call
The Local Man

When the loss occurs out of town, it's advisable to call the local funeral director first, before attempting to make any arrangements at a distance. By so doing, you'll save yourself a vast amount of worry, and a considerable amount of money.
